For Rent.

Good farms with abundant water supply. Apply to this office.

Peach butter at Parmenter's.

Our Italian claimant is making a gallant struggle to come back.

B. B. Brown came down from Pueblo last Saturday and remained over Sunday.

See the new ads of Johnston's dry goods store and Dunning's grocery on this page.

E. E. Pike went to Granada today in company with Mr. Thompson to look at some cattle.

The curbstones have been set for the sidewalk around the Union Hotel but the filling is still lacking.

Quite a number of our citizens are figuring on going to Denver to attend the stockgrowers' meeting.

F. H. Rosacrans and family will soon move into town. Mr. Rosacrans has been appointed deputy assessor.

Pike's building on Main street is receiving a freshing up in front, Gus Rapier being engaged in painting it.

The county clerk's office is still keeping up its record, and the number of instruments filed averages quite large.

Franz Brothers received their large St. Bernard dog yesterday and the old fellow makes himself perfectly at home in the store.

O. G. Hess was elected county attorney of Otero county last week, and the commissioners are to be congratulated on their choice.

The Springfield Herald very neatly advertises the Santa Fe Route, and announces that on the California Limited "births" are electric lighted.

The Christian church social announced for Friday evening of this week at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Lynch has been postponed.

Manager Golladay of the opera house has placed an arc light at the front door, and this enterprise of the manager is much appreciated by the public.

Judge Blodgett received a telegram on Saturday last announcing the arrival of a new grandson. Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Lee, of Pueblo, are the proud parents.

John Duncan has been up from Holly part of this week, closing up a big land deal for the Amity Land Company. Incidentally, he took in the show last night.

G. H. Downer has recently purchased a very fine incubator and intends to try his luck at raising chickens. As he intends to go about it in the right way it is probable that he will succeed.

The old "City Hall" building on Olive street is being torn down, and will soon be a thing of the past. It has long been a dangerous fire trap, and its removal will not be regretted by anyone.

Quite a number of the Lamar friends of Miss Myrtle Chapman were at the depot when No. 2 went through last Saturday to bid her farewell. She was returning to her mother's home in Hutchinson, Kansas.

Try Parmenter's peach butter.

An $8.00 cabinet now $5.00. See Will Billingslea at Parlor barber shop.

Go to O. F. Downing's shop north of the railroad track for blacksmith and wagon work.

Sweet, Orr & Co.'s genuine English corduroy pants to be had only at Johnston's clothing store. Every pair warranted.

Notice the change of date of sale of tickets to the stockgrowers' convention at Denver. They will be on sale January 22 and 23.

The water works have been rather off for the past few days, and those of our citizens who have been accustomed to do their weekly wash with artesian water, had a hard time of it this week, when they had to use the hard water that is being pumped into the mains.

The Odd Fellows of Granada will give a ball at their new hall on Tuesday, January 31. Everybody is invited. The ball committee is composed of J. L. Mayfield, Frank Milburn and J. H. Chaplin, and everything possible will be done to have an enjoyable time.

There has been quite a lot of talk about small pox being in this vicinity, but there is none of the disease here, nor as yet any symptoms of it. Dr. Hasty, the county health officer, says it keeps him busy denying the many statements, and he says these rumors have gone a long ways.

The German-American Staff of Physicians and Surgeons now at Las Animas will be in Lamar next Monday and remain two weeks. They are accompanied and advertised by a troupe of expert theatrical artists, who will give entertainments each evening at the opera house.

Last Sunday Harry Manville had a birthday, and as a gentle reminder his brother, C. A. Manville, who is county clerk of Fremont county, Nebraska, sent him a huge postal card with 36 years stenciled in large figures on the back. He also informs us that he had turkey for dinner.

W. E. Webber, who has been electrician at the Lamar electric light plant since it began operations, resigned last week and returned to his home in Eldorado, Illinois. Mr. Webber is a genial and sociable gentleman, and made many warm friends here who regret that he decided to leave Lamar.

Next Sunday morning Rev. Knuckey will deliver the third of the series of sermons on the seven churches. These sermons are proving very interesting and instructive, and every one who possibly can should attend and hear them. In the evening the pastor's subject will be "Sinking Peter." Hymns for morning 789, 805, 810; evening 4, 567, 430.

The married folks' club had another dance last Friday night and enjoyed themselves hugely. There were coffee and sandwiches served between times, and, as they were furnished by Fred Lee, of course they were good. Then every one was social, and made it a point to be pleasant to each other, and in consequence the affair was a complete success.

William McClure, who has been the janitor of the court house for several years, but who recently decided to remove to Boulder, left for that town yesterday morning. Before he went the officials at the court house, as a token of their appreciation of Mr. McClure's work and also of their esteem of him as a man, bought and presented him with the finest arm chair there was in Marker's store.

A meeting of the stockholders of the Fort Lyon Canal Company will be held on the first Saturday in February, and also on the first Saturday of each succeeding month. The object of these meetings will be to give the stockholders an opportunity to make known their grievances if they have any. The president, B. B. Brown, and other officers will be in attendance to explain matters from the management's standpoint. These meetings should be the means of allaying much of the dissatisfaction that has existed at times, and it is hoped there will be a large attendance. By order of Committee.

LOST—Between the Bank corner and the school house a seal skin muff. Finder will please leave at this office.

The Alba Heywood Company which gave an entertainment at Golladay's hall last night is well named "Peerless Company." Each member is an artist, and undoubtedly the program rendered by them was appreciated more than any that has ever been seen by a Lamar audience. Mr. Heywood was a revelation in his impersonations. The piano numbers of Miss Reimer were very good, and her work as an accompanist was expressive and tasty. Miss Drescher had an elegant violin and knew how to draw out its sweetest tones. The singing of Mr. DeBray was fine. Altogether the audience was enthusiastic, and the performers were encouraged again and again. Mr. Golladay made no mistake in getting this troupe here, and although the price of admission was doubled, it was proven that Lamar will pay to see something really good.

Davy Crockett drew quite a well-filled house last Saturday night at Golladay's hall. The ever popular Gus Rapier was "Daby" and as he is so well known it is needless to say that he was at his best. The rest of the cast was from local talent, and the Lamar Dramatic Club can say that it scored a success. Miss Bradshaw was very good, and knew her lines well. A trifle more animation would have helped her part. Mrs. Waltaire, as Mrs. Crockett, was a very dignified mother and carried her part exceedingly well. Tressa Rapier had very little to do, but did that nicely. Mr. Washburn seems to have struck the right character in the old man, and Messrs. Deverman and Waltaire both show decided improvement. Billy Bishop was all right, too. The scenery was all newly painted and presented the play to the best advantage possible on a small stage. Those taking part in the play, however, are all subject to criticism for a fault common to amateurs, they do not speak loud enough. On the other hand we might suggest to the management that the boys in the back part of the hall speak too loud.

May Valley.

Ira McVey has leased the Dan Leatherman farm for a year.

W. E. Tuttle and J. Idler have purchased a well drilling machine and are now exploring for artesian water on Mr. Idler's farm.

Lee Sheldon is wintering his stock on the Carsten and Stevens farms.

W. E. Tuttle returned from Missouri last Saturday. The weather there—well frost, thaw, mud and snow were the only variations in it.

The blackboard for the school house did not materialize which is unfortunate for the school.

Water reached the supply canal last Wednesday. The weather is too cold to run water, but it will soon be different.

JAY.
