scope Co.'s moving picture show at the opera house in that city was one of the best things ever seen in Crookston. The company opens a three night's engagement at the City opera house next Monday evening.

There has been a lot of kicking on the month of April in Bemidji for the past few days, and there have been those who dared go far enough to say it was only an alleged spring month. This contention seems to be born by the weather records of 1903, which show that in April last year we had five snow storms, where this year we have so far escaped with only two.

The local Salvation Army is strengthened this week by some visiting officers. The Army has had something of a tussle to keep alive in Bemidji, but it has lived through the winter and proposes to stay all summer. New quarters are soon to be had and a number of new features in the services are planned.

Charles Carlson, who has been very ill of erysipelas is reported as some what better today.

"A Royal Slave," which was ing this afternoon and disposed of a considerable amount of routine business.

Ned Jerard has been receiving some new machinery for his plumbing establishment. The latest thing is a pipe and thread cutting machine, the only thing of the sort in this section.

J. B. Boyd, of Langdon, N. D., is in the city on business. Mr.
Boyd is one of the most successful merchants in North Dakota and has a large merchandise store at Langdon.

A party of small boys fishing in a flat bottomed boat in the river between the two lakes last night were capsized and one youngster narrowly escaped with his life. He was fished out by his companions after some effort.

With favorable weather next week several of the big drives on the upper Mississippi and Schoolcraft expect to get started. Ice is leaving slowly and despite expectations driving will begin later than had been anticipated.

Street Commissioner Pogue has brought the thawing out apparatus which he used on the waterworks into good service in melting the ice for the piling at the Third street dock, and says he is saving the city several dollars a day by using it.

SOCIAL EVENTS

The Mesdames Spooner and Torrance entertained the officers of the Ladies' Library Association at Mrs. Spooner's home at a dinner last evening in honor of Miss Clara Baldwin, of the state library commission who formally opened the Bemidji library. Miss Bal-win returned today to her home at Minneapolis.

W. L. Brooks gives a dinner party to a number of friends this evening.

The Hiawatha club had another of its enjoyable dancing parties at Peterson's hall last night.
About twenty couple attended.

A number of the young people give a dancing party at Peterson's hall tonight.

Settled Weather.

The weather prophets have decided that we are to have better weather. They say that it will be moderate today and that the change in the moon will insure a long dry spell. Some of them think that seedling will be underway in some ten days and others that it will be the first of May before any grain is sown. All of them agree, however, that the bad weather is over and that we can look for a season of settled atmospheric conditions.
