DAILY WAR ANALYSIS

By J. W. T. Mason.
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

Bulgaria's reluctance to begin her expected offensive against Serbia probably is explained by the protest of Czar Ferdinand's government has addressed to Athens against the use of Greek territory by the Allies' troops. By this time the Bulgarian army should be prepared at least to send a supporting force into Serbia to assist the Teutons and create a diversion along the Bulgarian frontier. No hostile move, however, is yet reported from Nish. There is a possibility that this means Bulgaria may consider discretion to be the better part of its valor and may refuse to enter the war.

The Bulgars, like all the Balkan peoples, are on the outlook for the winning side, and their opinions fluctuate constantly. The sudden landing of an Anglo-French force in Greece has brought an unexpected element into the Balkan situation, which is unquestionably causing uneasiness at Sofia.

Under this new condition the Bulgars would run very serious risks by entering the war. With France and Great Britain pouring reinforcements into Serbia, there is certainly an even chance that the Serbs will be able to bring the new campaign against them to a deadlock. Bulgaria cannot throw her whole strength against Serbia, because parts of her army must be concentrated along the Rumanian and Greek frontiers to guard against possible attacks by those powers. If the Bulgar force, organized to invade Serbia, wastes its strength vainly against Serbian lines held by Anglo-French troops, Greece and Rumania may well take advantage of Bulgaria's weakness and attack her.

Under these circumstances, Bulgaria now has as much to lose as she has to gain by beginning hostilities. Great Britain, in particular, can pour a very large force into the Balkan area, as long as the road through Greece remains open. The new Greek ministry shows no evidence of consenting to Bulgaria's demand that the road be closed.

Bulgaria, therefore, seems to be developing typical Balkan caution once more. If the Austro-Germans will make easy progress through Serbia, Bulgaria will probably begin hostilities herself; but otherwise great pressure will have to be exerted at the last moment by German influences to send the Bulgars into the fray.

FLANAGAN REFUSES TO ACCEPT PAROLE

St. Paul, Oct. 12.—Martin Flanagan, former chief of police, now serving an indeterminate sentence in the state penitentiary at Stillwater on a charge of accepting a bribe, has refused to accept a parole. It is said that he insists upon an unconditional pardon.

Members of the Citizens' council who were instrumental in obtaining the conviction of Flanagan are said to be willing that the man be paroled so that he cannot leave the state. They will oppose the granting of a pardon. Flanagan was denied a pardon last January. Since that time efforts have been made to have his name placed on the calendar at more recent meetings of the board of pardons. This cannot be done unless two of the three members of the board consent.

RECOMMENDS Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

"Last winter I used a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for a bad bronchial cough. I felt its beneficial effect immediately and before I had finished the bottle I was cured. I never tire of recommending this remedy to my friends," writes Mrs. William Bright, Ft. Wayne, Ind. Obtainable everywhere.—Adv.

FLOCK OF DETECTIVES ON TRAIL OF BANDITS

Wheeling, W. Va., Oct. 12.—Every effort is being made by United States officers and railroad detectives to track the bandits who held up and robbed Baltimore & Ohio passenger train No. 1 at Central station. The haul made by the robbers is estimated at from $100,000 to $500,000, unsigned money.

MILLIONS FOR AGED MINISTERS

Washington, Oct. 12.—Supernatural Methodist Episcopal ministers ought to have about $15,300,000 to divide among themselves to "live in comfort," thinks the Baltimore conference of that church—so it started here today to get it for them. The conference points out that the is the canal of life but it becomes a sewer if clogged up. All life consists of building up and tearing down and just in the same manner that the blood carries to the various parts of the body the food that the cells need for building up, so it is compelled to carry away the waste material that's torn down. These waste materials are "toxins" and destroy, unless the liver and kidneys are stimulated into refreshed and vigorous life.

Thus fresh vitalized blood feeds the nerves, heart and brain. This well known alternative relieves catarrh of the stomach and headaches accompanying same, and has been successful for more than a generation as a tonic and body-builder. It builds up the run-down system. You need it—if you are always "catching cold"—or have catarrh of the nose and throat.
