

NEBRASKA SURPRISED

VARSITY MEDICS SHUT THEM OUT BY TWENTY-FOUR POINTS.

Nebraska Was in No Condition and the Medics Played Great Football—Heller's Sensational Run—Other Features.

"You're up against the real thing now." The husky lads who wear the football uniforms of the University Medical college used pair of scissors on the Nebraska team's long string of victories yesterday afternoon. They met the Western intercollegiate pennant winners at Exposition park and defeated them by the decisive score of 23 to 6.

The Nebraskans made a great mistake in attacking two men in three days. They were pretty well fagged out after their big contest with Kansas and were in no condition yesterday to tackle the Medics, whose strength they had underestimated.

But had the Nebraskans been in the best physical condition they would have found the doctors formidable rivals. The locals surprised even those who had watched their work most closely in practice and gave the prettiest exhibition of scientific football which has been seen in Kansas this season. Heller, Morely, Lewis and Holman were the greatest ground gainers, and "Eddie" Pendleton played a splendid game, holding his opponent down in defensive work and tearing big gaps in the line when the Medics were on the offensive, and the work of the Hill boys was noticeable good. The Nebraska stone wall of Saturday was a sieve yesterday. For the Northerners played the fastest game ever.

Holman kicked off 50 yards at the start of the game and then Nebraska worked for a long time to get the ball. Finally it started with a 20 yard gain and Pendleton followed with an advance of 10. Most of the distance was covered by slow, steady runs. The first yard line was reached when the Medics stood firm and held Nebraska down.

Heller made 3 yards for the doctors and Lewis followed with a 10 yard run. Nebraska forced a punt by Holman. The visitors could not keep the ball long, however, and with the leather in their possession the opposing line, which was kept up until a touchdown was made. Lewis, Heller and Holman made their gains and Holman "Eddie" Pendleton for the score. Pendleton kicking a difficult goal.

Both Pendleton and Erwin sent the ball over the side line in the two attempts at a kick-off, and the ball went into the end zone to kick into Nebraska's territory. The Medics held well and, after a few advances, Nebraska had to fall for down. A repetition of their former misfortune, and when time was called for the first half the teams were fighting but 5 yards from the Nebraska goal line.

The Kansas City law school team was beaten by the Wentworth Military eleven at Lexington yesterday, 20 to 10. The Lawmen were thoroughly outwitted.

In the game with Kansas Saturday Captain Melford of the Nebraskans, played center only when on the offensive, he took the admiration of the admirers of the doctors due to the wild demonstrations of enthusiasm.

With the score 12 to 9 against them the Nebraskans were forced for a touchdown. Pendleton hit the ball for 10 yards, 12 to 12 and Erwin and Pollmer for smaller advances, until the goal line was almost reached. Four yards from the posts Nebraska had to fall for down. Then, running, rescued the ball for the Medics. Then the doctors fought their way the length of the field and scored again, increasing their lead a few minutes later when the tandem rushes.

Morsley used often in the second half, and finally, to get the ball near the close of the game he was hurt in the side in a scrum, and after gamely trying to continue play was forced to retire. From the field he was carried to the hospital to kick the crossbar, Pendleton missed none of his kicks. The lineup:

M. M. Hewitt ... End ... Pollmer.

Kansas Students Accept Their Defeat Philosophically—Four Men on the List of Injured.

LAWRENCE, KAS., Nov. 7.—(Special) Saturday's game with Nebraska still continues to be the chief topic of conversation among the athletic cranks of this city and the students of the university, who are still telling how it happened. There is a general agreement that the "Knock" of Sam Hamill has not been connected to cut the game the result might have been different. This is, of course, merely conjecture.

A checking up of the tickets shows that, including the spectators, over 2,000 people saw Saturday's game from the inside, not to mention the 200 or 400 who watched it from the hill above the athletic field. The spectators were all assembled to witness an athletic event in this city. The total receipts for the game were between $1,500 and $2,000.

AMONG THE RAILROADS

BEN WINCHELL'S NEW OFFICE WITH THE GULF SYSTEM.

Offer of the Great Northern to Buy Stock—Track Laying Trouble in Ohio—Other Interesting Railway News.

Many of the friends of B. L. Winchell, general passenger agent of the Frisco, will be surprised to learn that he has given notice to the officials of his intended resignation to take effect on December 1.

Mr. Winchell lived for five years in Colorado and, until May of this year, was general passenger agent of the Gulf and South Park systems. At that time he resigned his position with the Gulf to accept the position of general passenger agent of the Frisco, and on Wednesday will be hard to surmise, especially since the "varsity" defeat Saturday last. However, St. Mary's roosters are confident although the Medics are not. The new agent will probably be as follows:

Position	Kansas	Missouri	Oklahoma	Texas
Left tackle
Left guard
Right guard
Left halfback
Right halfback
Quarterback

Benj. L. Winchell.

ANNOUNCEMENTS FOR TO-DAY.

Perhaps the most remarkable thing about Mr. Clyde Fitch's play, "The Moth and the Flame," is the novel treatment of the subject. It is a story that has been told before, but there is great value in an original treatment of trite subjects. Mr. Fitch has departed so radically from customary lines in his conception and sketching of scenes that we are compelled to leave him alone. He has discarded many of the dramatic material, such as the introduction of a woman into the story, and has substituted a man, a woman, and a child. It would be hard to find a more popular man in the railroad service than Ben Winchell, and his friends in this city think that he will be a success.

At present it is not known who will succeed Mr. Winchell as general passenger agent, but it is believed that he will succeed Mr. Winchell.

Mr. Winchell first entered the railway service nearly twenty-six years ago with the Hannibal & Joseph Railroad. From 1880 to 1885 he was with the Atchison & Topeka and from 1885 to 1888 he was connected with the Kansas City, Fort Scott & Memphis Railroad. He was then at the time assistant general passenger and ticket agent of the Gulf and South Park.
