

SMITH SEES TURNING POINT OF CAMPAIGN

Race Yet to be Won or Lost, Dem Nominee Believes; Finish to Be a 'Whirlwind'

By D. HUBERT OLIVER
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

WILMINGTON, Del., Oct. 29.—(P)—With four speeches ahead of him in the last week before election, Governor Smith today reached that stage of the presidential race which he predicted soon after his notification would be the turning point of the campaign.

The democratic presidential nominee is a firm believer in strong campaign finishes, having practiced it in his gubernatorial battles on the theory that thousands wait until the final week to make up their minds which way to vote.

So tonight in Baltimore he will start down the home stretch of his national seaboard offensive confident that his last four efforts to present the issues in "plain, everyday" language will swing to the democratic party the voters necessary to place him in the White House.

Restored after a week-end stay at the nearby home of John J. Baskin, chairman of the democratic national committee, at Claymont, the governor planned to motor to Wilmington to board his special train at 1:30 p. m. His arrival at the Mt. Royal station in Baltimore was set for 3 o'clock and a parade of an hour through the industrial and business sections followed, terminating at the Hotel Balfred.

Others thought he would take another oral fling at Herbert Hoover, probably in connection with his extra session statement on farm relief.

After an overnight stay in Baltimore, Governor Smith will return to New York to prepare for his second speech of the week at Newark, N. J., Wednesday night. On Friday, in the Academy of Music at Brooklyn, he will deliver an address on state issues and on Tuesday night wind up his speaking campaign with a general appeal to the national electorate from Madison Square Garden.

With his Saturday night address, he will have delivered seventeen formal campaign speeches in fifteen states extending from Massachusetts to Montana and Oklahoma to Maryland.

The speech tonight, to be delivered in the fifth regiment, armory, where Woodrow Wilson was nominated in 1912, will be broadcast over the nation beginning at nine o'clock eastern time.

Harlingen To Vote Tuesday On Plant Sale

HARLINGEN, Oct. 29.—Practically every vote in the city of Harlingen is expected to be polled Tuesday when the question of selling the municipal electric and water plants to the Central Light and Power Company will submit to a referendum of the electorate.

During the past month vigorous campaigns have been waged by both the opponents and proponents of the sale. The company has offered $1,580,000 for the plants, sufficient to cover the entire indebtedness of the company. Proponents of the sale contend that it will result in cutting the tax rate to the mere cost of city operation.

The Harlingen Municipal League of which T. E. Harwell is secretary, is opposing sale of the plant, contending that it was proposed by railroads and utilities "who have too many lots to pay taxes on and plant to shift their load to light and water consumers." The argument has raged hot for several weeks. Both sides are reported well organized, and a record vote is forecast.

Anti-Borah Talk Of Moody Denied

DALLAS, Tex., Oct. 29.—(P)—President Woodrow Wilson regarded Senator William E. Borah as a friend, even though they differed politically, and on at least two occasions Senator Borah thanking him for his public utterances and assuring him of his friendship. Senator Thomas B. Love of Dallas declared here last night in an attempted refutation of charges that Borah was a personal foe of the war time president.

Senator Love, who served as assistant secretary of the treasury in the Wilson administration, asserted it was part of his duties to know what members of the administration were friendly to the president and that he would be a "moral derelict" if he permitted statements of Governor Dan Moody and other state democratic leaders to go unchallenged.

CHICAGO GANG CHIEF IS SLAIN

Detective Slays Man As He Menaces a Saloon Keeper

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—(P)—A gun duel left one of Chicago's two leading beer gangs without its chief lieutenant today.

Otto Kastenek, known also as George, was reported machine gunned and "torched man" for "the Joe Saitis mob," was dead, the result of a saloon skirmish with Detectives Thomas Curtin.

Darrow, at whose door police laid six slaying, was brandishing a shotgun at a bartender and patrons in John Corcoran's saloon when Curtin entered.

"I'll kill you," Darrow shouted. Three shots from the detective's pistol sent Darrow to the floor, but not before he had sent four shots in Curtin's direction.

Darrow had gone to the saloon, police said, to force the purchase of a bottle of beer. Saitis, called the city's "beer baron," had eluded police for more than five months. He is wanted to serve a 90-day sentence for gun-toting.

In referring to Darrow as a "torcher," police explained they meant one who extracted information from rival beer peddlers, even if it was necessary "to get a little rough."

Women Win War To Get on Board Of M. E. Asylum

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Oct. 29.—(P)—Disagreement over the advisability of placing women on the board of managers of the Mission Home and Training School of San Antonio, a Methodist institution, resulted in the school having an entirely new board today. It was appointed yesterday after the old board, which consisted of five men had resigned. The Rev. M. Sessions, presiding elder for the San Antonio district, objected to a proposal to place five women on the board to work with the men, feeling that it would make the board unwieldy and that the presence of women would interfere with meetings. When the policy was endorsed by the annual West Texas conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, which controls the school, the old board resigned and a board consisting of three men and three women was appointed.

The new board consists of Claude J. Carter, F. M. Coleman, O. P. Ocre, Mrs. S. W. Scott, Mrs. Seth O. Craig, and Mrs. T. J. Simpson.

By JAMES L. WEST
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Hoover is to make five more set addresses before his cause is submitted to the voters of the country one way from tomorrow.

Four of them will be crowded into a space of 48 hours during his flying trip back to his California home to vote, the fourth of these to be delivered at Pueblo, Colo. This city was added last night to his itinerary, necessitating a complete shift of schedule between St. Louis and Palo Alto.

In view of striking northward from St. Louis Friday night for Nebraska and Wyoming, the republican presidential candidate will cross Missouri overnight, then pass through Kansas from east to west, and then across Colorado and go diagonally across Utah to Ogallala.

An effort is being made to have every Valley town represented at the meeting which will be attended by many prominent government water engineers. United States congressmen and senators and others actually interested in a comprehensive system of inland waterways.

The first address in the final drive of the campaign will be made in the public square at Columbus, Ind., at 2:30 p. m. Tomorrow night, three and a half hours after the republican standard bearer leaves Washington. It will be limited to a quarter of an hour and will be the only one made in Maryland during the campaign.

The next will be made at Louisville, where the nominee will spend an hour and a half Friday afternoon, 10:10 to 11:40 a. m., and will participate in an extensive street procession before speaking in front of the Jefferson county court house.

Thursday night his special train will stop at Keyser, W. Va., Walter S. Hallahan, national committeeman, and other leaders of that state greeting the nominee during a five minute stop.

After leaving Louisville, the nominee will cross over into Indiana, his special stopping for five minutes at North Vernon, Washington and Vincennes. The next halt will be at 5:30 p. m., at Salem, Ill., birthplace of William Jennings Bryan.

The train will reach St. Louis about 7:30 p. m. and remain until 11:40 a. m., with Hoover speaking for one hour, from 8:30 p. m. to 9:30 p. m.
