

FAIR VISITORS SWARM GATES

Valley Is Making Holiday
Occasion To See
Many Exhibits

(Special to The Herald)

HARLINGEN, Nov. 28.—The greater portion of Valley Thanksgiving celebrants turned to the Valley Mid-Winter fair today for entertainment, and a huge crowd thronged the mid-way early Thursday morning, inspecting booths and exhibits prior to the opening of major afternoon attractions.

Headlining these features were Ernie Young's Winter Garden Follies of 1929, musical revue which has been attracting many to the auditorium daily, horse racing and rodeo performances, which have been declared to be of unusual high quality this year.

Brownsville, San Benito, Rio Hondo, Santa Maria, Point Isabel, Los Fresnos and Olmito celebrated Thursday as their special day at the fair, and a musical program by Valley band was a continuous feature of the morning.

Judging of community exhibits, which was completed late last night, resulted in awarding of first place to Stuart Place, second to Brownsville-El Jardin, third to Olmito, fourth to Mercedes, and fifth to Mission.

The Shrine ball, given last night in the auditorium, was one of the outstanding social features of the fair program, and was attraction for a large crowd of visiting Shriners and outsiders as well.

BIGGEST PLANE BURNS IN FALL

Two Houses Are Destroyed
When Air Transport
Smashes

ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y., Nov. 28.—(AP)—The largest airplane ever constructed in this country and two residences were in ashes today because of a crash. Two other houses were damaged.

The 30-passenger Fokker air transport, with only two of its four motors functioning, ended an erratic half mile flight from Roosevelt Field yesterday by crashing into the side of a dwelling in Carle place, near here, setting fire to the plane and two of the houses.

The plane's only occupants, S. M. Boggs, pilot, an engineering instructor for the department of agriculture on leave of absence, and Harry MacDonald, mechanic, escaped with minor injuries.

The plane was unable to rise more than 20 feet and in its half mile flight had cut down two telegraph poles, stripped a radio aerial from one house, a chimney from another, a chimney and part of the roof from a third and crashed broadside into a fourth.

Although a dozen children were playing in the village street when the plane crashed, none was injured. A 2-year-old child asleep on the second floor of one of the houses that took fire was rescued by its mother just as the flames were reaching its crib.

Boggs at Nassau hospital said only three of the plane's motors were working when it took off, and as the plane reached an altitude of 20 feet another of its motors stopped. He attempted to make a landing in a small field, but was unable to do so.

When the plane crashed, Boggs and MacDonald were tossed out. Both managed to crawl far enough away to escape the fire that followed. Boggs suffered sprains of both ankles and severe lacerations, and MacDonald a sprained ankle and slight cuts on the face.

SEIZURES FURNISH MEAT
Patients of the Mercy hospital and the Charity home will be served with large portions of fresh, juicy meat Thanksgiving—thanks to federal officers.

Two head of allegedly smuggled cattle were seized recently by H. R. Jeffords, deputy U. S. marshal, and Lee Campbell, mounted customs inspector. One of the yearlings had already been killed at the time of the seizure which took place near Santa Maria.

William Neale, deputy collector of customs, divided the seized meat between the Mercy hospital and the Charity home.

of his Long Island estate, and after the death of his wife in 1926, he established a club house for cadet-cadets as a memorial to her. This club, a colonial architecture, with an assembly room, a gymnasium and a library is regarded as one of the most complete structures of its kind. Too ill to attend the last annual banquet of the "Caddy Club," he addressed a personal letter to its 160 members expressing his interest in their welfare and urging establishment of similar clubhouses at golf clubs throughout the country. He was married in 1883 to Elizabeth Bennett of San Antonio, Texas. Their two children, Mrs. Pauline Fostick, and Mrs. Francis R. Larkin, were at his bedside when he died.

MARAUDER OF DEER TRAPPED

Death Fight Of Huge Wolf Wins Respect Of Foresters

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 28.—(AP)—A large grey wolf, which for months has terrorized the large herds of deer which roam through Algonquin park, is dead. The manner in which he died won for him the admiration of the government foresters at the park who were formerly his bitterest enemies.

Traps had been set for the big marauder in vain. It appeared he would never be caught.

John Shields, chief park ranger, finally outwitted the wolf by placing a cunningly laid trap fastened to a four-inch pole. Visiting this snare one day, Shields found the trap gone and evidences of a mighty struggle. The wolf had gnawed through the thick pole and taken the trap away with him. Shields and assistants then followed the trail and after 27 miles of tramping came upon the body of the wolf with the trap still clinging to his foot.

John Miller, superintendent of the park, visiting William Finlayson, Ontario minister of lands and forests, told the story of the wolf's struggle for liberty.

CITY QUIET ON THANKSGIVING

Quiet streets Thursday morning showed that most Brownsville citizens were observing Thanksgiving, either by remaining at home, or by making trips out of the city.

Union services at the Methodist church drew many during the morning. All Protestant congregations in the city united in the service. Special Thanksgiving services were also held by the Christian Science congregation at 11 a. m.

Many people chose to spend the day at home, with the traditional turkey dinner as the highlight of the occasion, with radio reports of some game or other entertainment for the afternoon.

The Valley Mid-Winter fair, and the hunting fields also drew their quota of the workers of the city, who took advantage of a holiday to get a day of diversion.

Keyhole Is Brought To Divorce Trial

LONDON, Nov. 28.—(AP)—One of the most curious exhibits ever seen in an English court room was produced today when a keyhole was introduced in evidence in a divorce case so that the jury might judge how much could be seen by peeping through it.

The keyhole was completely surrounded by a drawing room door, and Justice Hill allowed the whole door to be placed in evidence under the plea of counsel there was a question of observations having been made through the keyhole and the jury might like to test its possibilities for themselves.
