JUDGE LANDIS IS ON CARPET

Woman Club Order Will Fight Order Of Ball Czar

CHICAGO, July 2.—(AP)—A woman, whose business world is baseball, today was determined to fight alone, if necessary, even against an old warrior like Kene-saw Mountain Landis.

She was Miss Ruth Killilea, president of the Milwaukee club of the American association who has defied the high commissioner of baseball by filing suit in federal court against his transfer order on one of her players, outfielder Fred Bennett.

When the American association of professional baseball clubs voted at its special meeting yesterday to adhere to Landis' decision in all disputes, the conclusion was drawn that Miss Killilea would withdraw her suit to restrain the commissioner's order. But the conclusion was wrong. Miss Killilea said she would contest the case.

"The vote of confidence was very nice," she said. "But we can't win ball games that way. The judge can have the votes. We want Bennett."

The Bennett case has been postponed until Commissioner Landis makes his reply.

MOVIE SIDELIGHTS

Modern morals, marriage and love come in for their full share of attention in Ruth Chatterton's latest starring picture, "The Lady of Scandal." Based on the popular New York and London stage success, "The High Road," this witty and sparkling dramatic comedy will be presented at the Capital theater today and tomorrow.

As the famous London beauty, Elsie Hilary, who dares herself not wanted by the austere family of her titled fiancé, Miss Chatterton is delightfully cast. It is a role of shading which reveals Miss Chatterton as the screen's most gifted and delightful comedienne. Rarely has Miss Chatterton played with such evident enthusiasm and fun, imparting to her role that sparkling, witty quality that has made her one of the most popular of all actresses now appearing on the screen.

In "The Lady of Scandal," Miss Chatterton is supported by two well known actors, Basil Rathbone and Ralph Forbes, both of whom are splendidly cast. Rathbone, who recently made his debut on the audible screen in the Norma Shearer picture, "The Last of Mrs. Cheney," is the creator of many memorable roles behind the foot-lights. One of his most recent New York successes was that gay comedy "The Command to Love," in which he shared honors with Violet Kemble Cooper and Mary Nash. More recently, however, he played the role of Philo Vance in Metro's "The Bishop Murder Case."

PALACE-McALEEN
Little America, on the Bay of Whales, 750 miles from the South Pole, is the most perfect health resort in the world. There are no germs there, for germs cannot exist in temperatures below zero. The air is bracing and vital. The continent is a great plateau, 10,000 feet above sea level.

"The only drawbacks are the necessity of continued snow-shoveling and the lack of convenient transportation," says Joseph Rucker, Paramount cameraman with the Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd South Pole expedition who brought back to the United States a film record of the expedition, "With Byrd at the South Pole," which will show at the Palace theater, McAllen, starting July 2 for 2 days.

QUEEN
D'Artagnan and the three musketeers are riding once more. Douglas Fairbanks is with us once more as D'Artagnan. "The Iron Mask," a United Artist picture coming to the Queen theater, Independence Day, is a sequel to his story of "The Three Musketeers," which he made six years ago. Again Mr. Fairbanks is playing Dumas' swash-buckling hero of the seventeenth century.

The scene of the picture is laid in France during the latter part of the reign of Louis XIII and the first years of the regime of the young Louis XIV. The story opens with the birth of the heir to the throne of France, and carries through the early period of his boyhood to the early period of his manhood. In the second part, the D'Artagnan hero is with his faithful friends, Athos, Porcos and Aramis, grown older but still adventuresome, their swords in defense of the young king as loyally as they served his father.

Marion Talley Rides Own Harvest Mower

OLBY, Kas., July 2.—(AP)—Marion Talley, who tried to music as a singer with the Metropolitan Opera company, was cheered by a new song today.

It was the melody of racing combine sickles reaping wheat on her 800-acre farm. Miss Talley, appearing in person as pilot for the machine at the beginning of the harvest.

THE STATE OF TEXAS

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Cameron County, Texas: You are hereby commanded to summon Claude William Stack, who is a non-resident of, and absent from this state, to appear at the next regular term of the 103rd District Court of Cameron County, Texas, to be held at the courthouse thereof in the city of Brownsville on the third Monday in July, 1936, being the twenty-first day of July, 1936, then and there to answer a petition filed in the said court on the 13th day of June, 1936, the file number of which is 9541, in which suit Lydia Gata Stack is plaintiff and Claude William Stack is defendant; the cause of action being alleged as follows: that on August 14th 1919 plaintiff and defendant were lawfully married and thereafter continued to live together until about the 29th day of May, 1930, at which time plaintiff left the defendant and refused to live longer with him; that plaintiff, during the time of living with defendant, was at all times considerate of defendant and conducted herself with propriety—treating defendant with kindness and forbearance—but that on the other hand defendant pursued a consistent course of unkind, harsh and tyrannical conduct toward plaintiff and at frequent intervals would become intoxicated and for no reason would severely beat plaintiff and continually threatened to kill her; that such excessive cruel treatment and outrages toward plaintiff and such injuries to plaintiff's feelings and sensibilities were, and are, of such nature as to render her further cohabitation with defendant together insupportable. You are commanded to so summon such defendant and to serve this citation by making publication of the citation once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof in some newspaper published in your county; but if there be no newspaper published in said county, then in any newspaper published in the nearest county where a newspaper is published.
