

VALLEY WEATHER
For Brownsville and the Valley:
Partly cloudy tonight and Sunday;
No much change in temperature.
Moderate to fresh winds on the coast becoming northerly.

The Brownsville Herald

THE VALLEY FIRST—FIRST IN THE VALLEY—LEASED WIRE SERVICE OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Over 7,000 Daily;
Largest Net Paid
Circulation
in the Valley

THIRTY-NINTH YEAR—NO. 197

BROWNSVILLE, TEXAS, SATURDAY, JANUARY 17, 1931

SIX PAGES TODAY

Sc A COPY

FRESH QUAKE SHAKES MEXICO

VARIETY OF BILLS FACE LEGISLATURE

First Week Sees Little Accomplished By Solons

HIGHWAY BOND

Issue Proposal May Be Introduced Next Week
By Woodul

AUSTIN, Tex., Jan. 17.—(P)—The first week of the 42nd legislative session was at an end today with both houses adjourned until Monday.

While legislation had made little progress, a sufficient number of bills had been introduced or were in process of preparation to show that the lawmakers would deal with a great variety of subjects.

Driver's license, payment of taxes twice instead of once a year, conservation of soil from erosion, relief for tenant farmers and repeal of the new marriage license law requiring notice of intention to wed three days prior to the marriage were some of the things already proposed in bills.

Cotton acreage reduction, truck regulation, a $200,000 highway bond issue, the income tax, public utility regulation, removal of the ad valorem tax at least from the small property owner and conservation of water for domestic and domestic use were some of the proposals hovering in the background.

Senator Walter Woodul of Houston, administration leader, said he planned to introduce the highway bond issue proposal next week and a hard fight was predicted by both sides.

More speed was expected on the semi-annual tax payment proposal than on any other important measure because that must be passed by February 1 in order to be of any benefit this year. Taxes became delinquent on February 1.

The state affairs had ordered printed a semi-annual tax payment bill by Senator Ben G. Orzel of Wichita Falls and had set a public hearing for Monday. A bill had been offered in the house.

The question of rules was another matter expected to receive quick attention. The legislature had to decide what it wanted to do with the new plan contained in a constitutional amendment voted in November which set aside the first 20 days for introduction of measures, the next 20 days for committee consideration and the final sixty days for floor consideration. This matter was set as a special order in the house for next Wednesday. It was considered likely that the senate would wait until the house had acted. In order to make a change in the procedure outlined in the constitutional amendment, both houses must agree to it by a four fifths vote.

J. E. McDonald, state agricultural commissioner, had sponsored a bill to set up a commission to reduce cotton acreage and considerable opposition had developed notwithstanding that the measure had not yet been introduced. Senator Oliver C. Cunningham of Abilene also was considering offering a cotton acreage reduction measure.

The legislature was not expected to get going in full swing until after the inauguration Tuesday of Governor Sterling.

Hurley Opposed To Enlistment Increase

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—(P)—A plan to relieve unemployment by organizing a special army reserve of 250,000 men was opposed today by Secretary Hurley.

In a letter to the house military committee, he reported adversely on the Celler bill to enlist a quarter million men for one year as an emergency measure.

"The cost of the bill is estimated at $226,805,000, a very large amount, which if available, could be used to secure lasting beneficial effects as well as for the relief of a greater number of unemployed," Hurley predicted.

CAMERON TO PAY IN WRECK

MANCHESTER, England, Jan. 17.—(P)—Lancashire cotton mills were closed today against 250,000 weavers whose representatives have refused to accept a "more rooms per weaver" system inaugurated by the mill owners.

The lockout brought England face to face with an even more serious labor crisis than represented by the South Wales coal miners strike on the same day that the Wales coal strike officially ends allowing 150,000 miners there to go back to work.

"Fully Insured!—Fine!"

El Grande Valley Trust Co.—Ady.

JOHN D. HOST TO GALLI-CURCI

Associated Press Photo

Amelia Galli-Curci, noted soprano, and John D. Rockefeller pictured together at the latter's estate in Orange Beach, Fla. Mr. Rockefeller presented his guest with a picture of himself, a bouquet of sweet-peas and a clasp.

Coyote Drive on Padre Island Sunday Attracts Many Hundred Hunters

(Special to the Herald)

PORT ISABEL, Jan. 17.—(P)—The coyote drive and round-up on Padre Island opposite Port Isabel promises to be one of the largest single sporting events in the history of the Lower Rio Grande Valley, according to the Port Isabel Hunting Club.

Dr. J. A. Hockaday's plan for the drive on Padre Island Sunday Jan. 18 has met with enthusiasm over the entire Valley, and Saturday it was announced that several towns from other sections have organized teams and will be represented.

The Port Isabel spokesman, when making the announcement of his plan, explained that about 300 men from Valley towns would be needed to assure a successful drive. It is thought that already more than this number have signified their intentions of participating in the unusual sporting event, and teams from Valley towns have been formed, each team numbering not less than 20 men. Guy Trent of San Benito, head of the Valley Bankers Association, succeeding C. L. Skaggs of the Citizens State Bank of Donna.

A policeman blew his whistle and the driver moved. As he weaved among elevated pillars, he resumed the discussion.

And he sighed as he brought his cab to a grinding stop, leaving a bewildered writer in the midst of his bags.

They do not really live what they preach," said the driver, "Schopenhauer talking pessimism when he lived life with the best of worst of us; Nietzsche preaching the superman; Tolstoy pretending he was not an aristocrat."

"Take Schopenhauer," he said. "Yes, take Schopenhauer," replied Mauris.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

The report as to Secretary Mellon was said at the White House to-day that there was no foundation for reports published today that Secretary Mellon had submitted his resignation.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

Similarly, a denial was forthcoming to the published report that Ambanador Davies would become republican national chairman, and that Secretary Adams would succeed him in London as ambassador.

</