

ATE SQUASHES HEYBURN.

ety Rebukes Idaho Man's Bloody-shirt Speech.—Ignores His Opposition.

Columbia State.

Washington, Feb. 7.—Senator Heyburn of Idaho, the only member of the senate who seems disposed to renew the War Between the States, broke out in the senate again today and he got squashed in good fashion. It was one of the very few times in the senate when more than some three or four senators ever have listened to Mr. Heyburn, but nearly every senator about the capitol—some 50-odd—was in his seat and listened quietly and with apparent seriousness to a long harangue against the South. They wore disgusted countenances and at the conclusion they unanimously sat down on the Hayburner. The Southerners sat quietly, except, of course, Jeff Davis, who came near destroying the effectiveness of a masterful stroke on the part of the Democrats by butting in.

The Hon. Hayburner was speaking in opposition to a resolution by Senator Bankhead of Alabama to authorize the war department to lend army tents and other supplies to the Confederate Veteran's association for the forthcoming reunion at Mobile.

Several Southern senators really wanted to make reply, but inasmuch as it was apparent to all that the Idaho senator was speaking only for himself and against the decided approval of the other Republican senators, it was determined to ignore the remarks. As one Southern senator observed in an aside to his colleagues "It is always a waste of lather to shave an ass."

Senator Bankhead arose and there was a general expectancy that something was going to happen, but the Alabama senator merely remarked, "Mr. President, I know that the senator from Idaho feels better now, and I ask for a vote on the resolution."

Every Republican senator, except Heyburn, voted on roll call with the Democrats in favor of lending the tents to the Confederate veterans. There was general desire on the part of the Democrats to have either Bailey or Money reply to Heyburn. Either one of these would have made a telling reply without using any language discourteous to the general run of Northern people, whose senators had signified their intention of voting for the resolution, but it was feared that some such fellow as Jeff Davis, who wanted to make a "regular secession speech," as he said, would break out. There is small disposition on either side here to fight the 50-year-ago war over at this late day, and such men as Heyburn might few in number, are considered as only jokes.

Both of the South Carolina senators were in their seats today for the first time in a week. Both arrived here this morning from their respective homes.

ACCUSED OF SELLING WHISKEY ON TRAINS.

J. T. Kineaid, News Butcher, Arrested in Laurens on Charge of Conducting Itinerant Blind Tiger.

Columbia State.

Laurens, Feb. 8.—J. T. Kineaid, a news butcher on train No. 1 from Augusta, was arrested at the station here today, charged with illicitly selling whiskey, and lodged in the city police station.

Special Constable Sullivan states that he saw the newsboy transfer and receive pay for four half-pints of whiskey, which was bought by a Watts mill operative immediately after the train arrived from Augusta. The officers state that in making the arrest, they encountered verbal resistance and a "pretty hot line of talk" from the baggage master.

Young Kineaid has been watched for some time, the officers thinking that he was violating the law.

ROBERT LATHAN TO SUCCEED THE DEACON.

Will Be Editor of the News and Courier after Major Hemphill Goes to New Field in Virginia.

Charleston, Feb. 9.—The friends of Maj. J. C. Hemphill will tender him a banquet tomorrow night at the Commercial club. It will be sort of a gridiron club affair, it is understood, designed to keep the dinner from assuming a too solemn aspect. There will be a number of interesting and amusing stunts and Maj. Hemphill will not be permitted to think of the function as being in the nature of a farewell affair, although it will prove a memorable event to Maj. Hemphill and all who attend it. Maj. Hemphill will leave Charleston in about two weeks for Richmond, where he goes to edit the Times-Dispatch.

Robert Lathan will succeed Maj. Hemphill as editor of the News and Courier. He is a young man of ability, well trained and experienced in editorial work and his many Charleston friends are delighted that he is to succeed to the position.

SENATOR BAILEY

Will Address General Assembly on Subject of Income Tax and Discuss Tariff Incidentally.

Columbia State.

Washington, Feb. 9.—Senator Bailey will address the South Carolina legislature Monday night next, "the 14th."

To-day he received a letter from the committee appointed to invite him, Messrs. Smith and Cosgrove, and he replied immediately, thanking them for the invitation and accepting it.

Since the date was left to him, he fixed Monday night. Tuesday, he said, would perhaps be a better day, but since the legislature will adjourn aturday, he thought it best to fix it at as early a date as possible.

He will discuss the income tax, he says, touching upon the tariff only incidentally and only because the income tax is proposed as a substitute for certain tariff duties for the support of the government.

The Senator will leave here Sunday afternoon.

The Designer for March.

That there is hope for every crippled child is the subject of the leading article in the Designer for March. It will bring joy to thousands. "The Evolution of an American Prima Donna" tells of the rise of Geraldine Farrar from the daughter of a baseball player to a great songbird. To every smaller city in the land Charles Mulford Robinson brings a message in "Making Cities Right." It tells of how cities are doctored. Anne O'Hagan contributes a thoughtful but still entertaining article on "The Woman Behind the Business Man."

The fiction is by Mrs. Jacques Futrelle, Sara Lindsay Coleman, William Selden Gidley and Edwin L. Sabin.

Four fashion articles in addition to the regular dressmaking articles make it a valuable number to the woman who is trying to master the Spring styles.

PERUVIAN GUANO FOR COTTON

Peruvian Guano is not to be compared with other fertilizers now in general use.

It is the natural food for plants, just as bread is man's natural food. In Nature's factory are no strong acids nor high proof chemicals.

In Peruvian Guano there is Phosphate without the use of Sulphuric Acid.

Ammonia in inimitable forms, some quickly active, some slower, some still more slow.

Potash, available, but unlike the soluble mineral Potash in "man-made" fertilizer.

PERUVIAN keeps cotton green until frost, and produces larger yields than any other fertilizer known.

Write for book of letters and pictures from those who have used PERUVIAN.

CHARLESTON, S. C.

the New Idea Woman's Magazine for March with an article entitled "Influences Which Shaped My Career." In this celebrated actor-manager relates his experiences in the days when he was hesitating between being a circus clown and a priest.

"A Trained Nurse in the Making," "Weddings de Luxe," and "The Girl Who Lives Alone" are three articles of special interest to girls. In addition there are many more for the wives and older women. Louise D. Mitchell and Edna Kingsley have two stories in this number that have great appeal to women.

The fashions outline the new spring styles in a pleasing way. The number as a whole is very satisfying.

What Every Woman Should Know.

T Clean Straw Matting—Put three pints of bran into two quarts of water and boil well. When cool, wash the matting with it and then rub over with a clean cloth. Add a little salt when cleaning white matting, and vinegar when cleaning red matting.

To keep the seams in pillow cases from puckering—Lay the two selvedge edges together and with sharp scissors clip the edge in places about one inch apart, stretch the cloth and sew. Turn cloth to make French seam, and stretch again before stitching. It will be smooth after being laundered.

To Amuse Baby—Fill a nice, smooth board with large-headed tacks, partly driven in, give him a tack hammer and he will be delighted until the last tack is driven down.

An Excellent Kitchen Cleanser—Try using common baking soda to clean the kitchen tins. Just dampen it and use it as you would use any other polish. It has been found to work like a charm in cleaning aluminum kettles also.—The Designer for March.

The Human Brain Has Been Charted

How can the surgeon determine just where to saw open the skull in trephining? In most cases of brain pressure no exterior indication upon the skull exists. The operation is necessarily a delicate one and indefinite exploration is not to be thought of, says the Designer for March. It may be a case where no time must be lost. How does the surgeon decide?

Divisection has given the answer in a most interesting operation which made possible a chart or map of the brain. Originally a monkey was placed under an anaesthetic, and the cap of the skull removed, exposing the living brain. A chart of it was made and divided into squares one-twelfth of an inch wide. Electricity was then applied to the brain on each square as indicated by the chart, and resulting muscular movements all over the body were noted and tabulated. Later on, more perfect maps were made from human brains undergoing operations with no injury to the patient and no loss of life. Like the maps of a State, island or bay these maps are now permanent.

Teach Political Morality.

Why can not political morality be taught in the public schools?

If the little children in the kindergartens and in the primary schools were taught how disreputable it is to stuff a ballot box or to lay polluted hands on the sacred franchise, would they not remember it in later years.

If these small girls and boys at an early age were shown that tampering with the free vote of the people is ten times meaner and lower than petty larceny, and if they were taught to regard those guilty of such an act as unworthy the respect of decent people, would we not have more political honesty in the next generation.

The school room is the proper place to teach political morality, for in the boys and girls of to-day lie the political hope and honesty of tomorrow.—An editorial in the New Idea Woman's Magazine for March.

The Meanest Man.

Washington Herald.

"The meanest man has been discovered."

"What has he been doing?" "Swindling amateur poets. Getting them to send $2 for a poetic license."

Pretfectly Safe.

Life.

"He's been accused of cheating the government, hasn't he?"

"Yes, out of a paltry ten millions or so."

"Likely to go to jail?"

"Hardly. He's president of the company and the argest stockholder."

While it is often impossible to prevent an accident, it is never impossible to be prepared—it is not beyond any one's purse. Invest 25 cents in a bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment and you are prepared for sprains, bruises and like injuries. Sold by W. E. Pelham & Son.

For Lame Back

An aching back is instantly relieved by an application of Sloan's Liniment.

This liniment takes the place of massage and is better than sticky plasters. It penetrates—without rubbing—through the skin and muscular tissue right to the bone, quickens the blood, relieves congestion, and gives permanent as well as temporary relief.

Here's the Proof.

Mr. JAMES C. LEE, of 1100 9th St., S.E., Washington, D.C., writes: "Thirty years ago I fell from a scaffold and seriously injured my back. I suffered terribly at times; from the small of my back all around my stomach was just as if I had been beaten with a club. I used every plaster I could get with no relief. Sloan's Liniment took the pain right out, and I can now do as much labor work as any man in the shop, thanks to

Sloan's Liniment

Mr. J. P. EVANS, of Mt. Airy, Ga., says: "After being afflicted for three years with rheumatism, I used Sloan's Liniment, and was cured sound and well, and am glad to say I haven't been troubled with rheumatism since. My leg was badly swollen from my hip to my knee. One-half a bottle took the pain and swelling out."

Sloan's Liniment has no equal as a remedy for Rheumatism, Neuralgia or any pain or stiffness in the muscles or joints. Prices, 25c., 50c. and $1.00
