For this occasion the Houseal home was very attractively decorated in Japanese style with butterfly tissue paper and everything was made to carry out the Japanese effect. All of the chairs in the parlors were removed and cushions were placed about on the beautiful lawn and veranda. Among the many enjoyable features of the evening were the numerous cozy corners arranged on the spacious veranda, where much pleasure was had in conversation. ## Resolutions.

Whereas, it has been the will of the Almighty to remove from our midst our dearly beloved sister, Mrs. Mary Danielsen, and whereas the intimate relations long held by the deceased with the members of this lodge, render it proper that we should place upon record our appreciation of her service as a sister and member.

Therefore, be it Resolved, by McLaughlin Rebekah lodge, No. 9, I. O. O. F., That while we have suffered an irreparable loss, we feel that she has gone to receive the reward of a life well spent.

Resolved, That we will cherish her memory in our hearts, and follow her beautiful example.

Resolved, That we send a copy of these resolutions to the bereaved family, and a copy to the local papers for publication.

Hattie Vaughn,
Belle Miller,
T. E. Wicker,
Committee.

It is of his mother, who is 81 years old, and her four sisters, the youngest of whom is 70, the other three being between those two ages. The photo was taken at Easley just two weeks ago. Five sisters, the eldest 81 and the youngest 70, is a remarkable thing.

Mr. Holloway in Oconee County.

The Richland correspondent of Farm and Factory, of Seneca, has this to say of Mr. Holloway's remarks at the recent reunion of the teachers and pupils of Richland academy, a famous school in Oconee county:

J. B. O'Neill Holloway, of Newberry, was next introduced as one of the old teachers of this school. Called the roll of the pupils when he taught more than thirty years ago, and quite a number answered "here." He recalled in a very feeling and touching manner his memories of the patrons and pupils of his tutorage her, paying high tribute to the good pupils, commenting very vividly on the bad ones, calling them by name with an occasional fling at the indifferent pupils, which kept the audience in smiles or tears most of the time.

J. B. O'Neill Holloway, of Newberry, was among friends in Walhalla last Friday, and he was kept busy shaking hands with old acquaintances, who are always pleased to see him. He is one of the old students of Newberry college at the time that institution was located in Walhalla. He came up to attend the reunion of teachers and pupils of the Richland schools held at Richland last Wednesday.—Keowee Courier.

Work Day for Orphans.

The work day planned for Saturday, September 24 next for the orphans of South Carolina should be observed by all our people. Especially could the children in the Sunday schools roll up a big amount if they all should pick cotton or get some job of work that day and send the earnings to one of the orphanages. There are nearly 2,000 Sunday schools in South Carolina in Baptist, Episcopal, Methodist and Presbyterian churches, and just a few dollars from each school would make a splendid total.

President Wicker in Winnsboro.

From the September 7 issue of the Winnsboro News and Herald the following is taken, out of an account of a meeting of the carriers of Fairfield county:

"President T. E. Wicker, of Newberry, who is at the head of the South Carolina Carriers' association was present, very much to the delight of those who had extended him the invitation to address this meeting. From the very beginning he has been active in pushing the work of organizing the carriers into a permanent State organization. He spoke fully of the necessities of having the carriers formed into a strong organization for mutual protection. Already through organization some things had been accomplished for the good of the carriers. One of these is securing an order, requiring all patrons to have a flag on their box to indicate whether it contains mail or not. This saves the necessity of having to open boxes where there is no mail.

"Another order that has been secured through this organization is one that the boxes all be placed in such position along the route that the carrier does not have to move from his seat to place mail in the box or to take it out. Other details of the service were dealt with, suggesting how improvements may be made. By being organized and all working together for the good of the service other improvements are sure to be effected. "Mr. Wicker's talk was a very practical one and was well received."

A Card From Capt. Richardson.

I take this method of thanking the voters of Newberry county for the large number of votes given me in the first election for the office of adjutant general. I wish to assure all the voters of this county that if I am elected, this important office will be conducted at all times in a sober business like way.

John Maxwell Richardson.

Candidate for Adjutant General of South Carolina.

The Thermometer Boils.

There has been some real and genuine summer weather experienced in Newberry during the past few days. The knowing ones say that this is good for the cotton and if that be true everyone ought to welcome such weather even though it is not comfortable.
