

FOUR YEARS IN NEWBERRY.

Hard to Break the Ties Formed.
Sweet Memory Carried to the Journey's End.

Southern Christian Advocate.

Dear Brother Nettles: Four years of earnest thought and consecrated effort on Newberry circuit—and the united co-operation of an appreciative people made it doubly hard to break the ties formed, and move into a new setting. I shall carry with me to the journey's end the sweet memory of the many kindnesses and thoughtful attention to us while resident in Newberry and Newberry circuit. Our association with the people of the town and of the charge was delightful. Peace and blessings to those who ministered to us so faithfully in those years.

We are now in Whitmire. A move from Newberry by wagon train of 18 miles, quick time, brought us to Whitmire in fine shape. That was a fine generous act on the part of Brothers W. J. Duncan and Butler Johnson in moving the Newberry and Whitmire preacher without charge. Those fine four mule teams under jingle of the chimes moved well at the impulse of their drivers.

Seven appointments, covering corresponding territory, give ample room for exercise. No time for drying up—or getting old.

I find many of my old friends and parishioners here from other charges served. These have given us a warm welcome—indeed there is no lack on the part of the whole charge in giving us a cordial reception.

The good ladies and friends made ready for our coming. They were on hand with hot fires, a delightful dinner, and a pantry well supplied with all manner of groceries. With these kind attentions, tangible expressions, and provision by the board of stewards, and many other evidences, we are in for the best year of our ministry.

We follow and enter into the labors of a man whose name is embalmed in the memory of the people—Brother Jeffcoat and family were loved by all.

The daughters of Dr. R. A. Child and Rev. J. N. Isom live here—Mrs. Dr. Boyd and sister, and Mrs. J. W. Hipp. They are at the front with us in all church work and services.

First quarterly meeting just past—good financial showing—Brother Meadors in fine spirits.
Yours,
J. M. Fridy.

A TOWN WITHOUT LIQUOR LAW.

Fountain Inn Occupies Singular Position Because of Court Ruling.

Greenville, January 31.—The prosperous town of Fountain Inn, in the lower section of Greenville county, is left in the peculiar position of having no liquor law. Judge Shipp passing an order in the court of General sessions here today declaring the present liquor law of that town to be illegal and setting aside a recent conviction of that law. The decision was handed down in the appeal of J. C. Spoon against the town of Fountain Inn.

From the record it appears that the defendant was convicted by the town council of Fountain Inn, January 22 on a charge of transporting whiskey. His attorney, Jas. H. Price, of Greenville, appealed to the circuit court on a number of exceptions, one of them being that the ordinance under which Spoon was tried exceeded the powers of a municipality. The ordinance in question gave the town council the right to fine and imprison an offender, or both fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court. His attorney took the position that a municipality could only penalize a defendant by an alternative fine.

MODIFIES RECENT ORDER.

Governor Writes Chief Marshal
May Attend Inauguration If Good Position is Given.

Columbia, Jan. 31.—The South Carolina militia will be permitted to attend the inaugural parade in Washington if they are not assigned to positions behind negro troops, according to the place they will be assigned, written by Governor Bleasdale to Gen. A. L. Mills, chief marshal, second grand division, of the parade, this afternoon. If they are assigned behind negro troops they will not be allowed to go.

The governor says in his letter to Gen. Mills: "Communications from you under date of January 28 to the Adjutant General of South Carolina, subject 'Participation in the inaugural parade,' has this day been referred to me with the following endorsement: 'Respectfully referred to the Commander-in-Chief of the troops of South Carolina for information.'"

"In reply to your communication I would ask you please to give me in detail what position the South Carolina troops will be assigned to in the inaugural parade and whether or not they will have to march behind negro regulars or volunteers; if they are to be assigned to such positions they will not attend; if they are not assigned to such a position they will attend. If you cannot give me assurance that they will not be so placed, you need not make any preparations for the South Carolina troops to attend, as they will not attend unless they do so individually. If you will give us such assurance we will be glad to take part and do anything we can to assist in making the inaugural ceremonies a grand success."

SHAKE-UP IN GEORGIA & FLORIDA

Railroad will Extend Lines to Columbia—New Officials.

Augusta, Ga., Jan. 31.—R. Lancaster Williams, of Baltimore, was elected president of the Georgia and Florida Railroad at its annual meeting here today, succeeding his brother, John Skelton Williams, president since the organization of the company six years ago. B. W. Duer, formerly superintendent of the Pittsburg and Chicago divisions of the Baltimore and Ohio, was elected a vice president and will be put in immediate charge of operations. C. T. Earnest was elected secretary-treasurer, filling the position of Rutherford Fleet, of Baltimore, and C. T. Williams of Baltimore.

The reorganization will mean the road will ultimately extend its line from Augusta to Columbia, thus forming a direct connection East.

The reports were more optimistic than previous yearly reports and show the company's financial condition to be much improved.

FOUNDER'S DAY AT LANDER.

Dr. S. M. DuBose, of Atlanta, Delivers Magnificent Address.

Greenwood, Jan. 31.—Dr. S. M. DuBose, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Atlanta, delivered a masterly address here last night at Lander College as part of Founder's Day exercise, in its ninth annual celebration. Dr. DuBose spoke on "The Spirit Born Man," and showed what a splendid exemplification of the type the late Dr. Samuel Lander was.

A beautiful sketch, prepared by Dr. John Lander, of Brazil, was read by President John O. Wilson. The music rendered during the evening by Miss Bowman, Miss Aunspough and Miss Bailey was excellent. The benediction was said by the Rev. S. A. Noyes, editor of the Southern Christian Advocate.

THE STATE BONDS.

Blease and Peoples, of Sinking Fund Commission, Vote to Rescind Action of Former Commission.

Columbia, Jan. 31.—At a meeting of the sinking fund commission late this afternoon Governor Blease offered a resolution to rescind the action of the former commission, providing for the refunding of the $5,622,000 bonds of the State debt. The motion was lost, 4 to 2. Attorney General Peoples voting with the governor for the resolution and Comptroller General Jones, State Treasurer Carter, Chairman Hardin, of the finance committee, and Chairman Dick of the ways and means committee, voting against it.

The governor was reported as stating to the commission that there would be no bonds sold before the next session of the general assembly, for he was going to carry the case against the Defending Act to the supreme court of the United States.

The governor sent the rejected resolution to both branches of the legislature tonight with a message asking that it be referred to the judiciary committee of each house.

In his message he said that it was for the best interest of the State for the two factions of the sinking fund commission to get together.

HOBOS THROW OUT LEADER.

James How, "Millionaire Tramp," Repudiated by Convention of His Own Order.

New Orleans, Feb. 1.—James Eads How, of St. Louis, the self-styled "millionaire hobo leader," who first organized the "Migratory Workers of the World" and called the first national hobo convention, was renounced as a leader by the hoboes in convention here today. How tried to inject Socialism into the proceedings and the "bobs" finally tired of his propaganda and today the former leader was "squashed" and told to get out.

Tired of How and the menoracious fight over the question of Socialism, the hoboes broke up the convention, threw How and his principles out and organized a "hobo mass meeting."

HON. GEORGE S. LEGARE DEAD.

REPRESENTATIVES IN CONGRESS
From First District.

George Swinton Legare Passes Away—
Represented First District in Congress.

The Hon. George S. Legare, representative in congress from the 1st South Carolina district, died at his home, in St. Andrews, at 12.10 Friday morning. While it was known that Mr. Legare's condition was serious, favorable reports from his bedside Thursday indicated a slight improvement and removed immediate fears. However, the valiant fight he had waged for several years for health and strength came to an end, and he succumbed shortly after midnight. With him, when death came, were the members of his family gathered at his old home in St. Andrew's Parish, to which he had returned when his failing strength rendered it impossible for him to longer attend his duties in Washington.

George Swinton Legare was born at Rockville, Charleston county, South Carolina, in 1870. He was the son of Edward T. and Kate Malcolmson Legare. He attended the Porter Academy, from which he was graduated with honors in 1889. He then attended the Law School, in Washington, D. C., Carolina for two years, after which he studied at the Georgetown University Law School, in Washington, D. C., graduating from there with the degree of LL. B., in 1893. Returning to Charleston after graduation, he entered active into the practice of law and became a member of the firm of Murphy, Farrow and Legare, which became Murphy & Legare on the death of Mr. Farrow. On the death of Col. Murphy, the firm became Legare and Holman, and during the last few years Mr. Legare practiced alone.

In 1898 he was chosen corporation counsel under Mayor Smythe's administration. He continued to hold this office with great brilliance until 1903, when he took his place in the Fifty-eighth Congress to which he had been elected. He has continued to represent the First South Carolina District until his death, for a sixth term in the house of representatives which assumes on March 4.

In 1893, Mr. Legare married Miss Fannie Izlar, of Orangeburg, daughter of the late Judge James Izlar. To them were born six children, four of whom survive as follows: Ferdinanda Izlar, Julia Gladsden, Hermine Brewer, and George Swinton, Mr. Legare is also survived by Mrs. Legare and by his parents, Judge and Mrs. E. T. Legare; A sister, Mrs. F. G. Patton, of Birmingham and two brothers, T. Allan and E. Perwick Legare.

The State's Tribute to Legare.

Columbia, Jan. 31.—At the night session of the house of representatives Mr. Rembert offered a concurrent resolution that a committee, consisting of three members from the house and three from the senate, be appointed to attend the funeral of the late Congressman George S. Legare. This was unanimously passed and Speaker Smith appointed as house members of the committee Messrs. Rembert, Whaley and Mower.

Senate and House Adjourn.

Washington, Jan. 31.—The senate and house adjourned late today as a mark of respect to the late Representative George S. Legare, of South Carolina, whose death occurred yesterday at his home in Charleston. Committee's to attend the funeral were named as follows: Senators Tillman and Smith, of South Carolina; Martine, Swanson, Perky, Meyers, Gronna, Foster and Poindester; Representatives Finley, Ellerbe, Johnson, Byrnes, Aiken and Lever, of South Carolina; Davidson, Wilson, of Illinois; Andrews, Young, of Kansas; Hamlin, McLoughlin, Bronsard, Reilly and Bocher.

CORONER HOLDS SON.

Inquest is Held Over Robert Coleman's Body.

Jonesville, Feb. 1.—Last Night about 7 o'clock Robert D. Coleman was shot at his home about two miles from Jonesville. Mr. Coleman was alone, his niece and son who stay with him being out. The load of shot slugs took effect in the head, face and neck. Mr. Coleman died this morning at 7 o'clock.

The sheriff was notified about 9 o'clock last night, when the body was discovered, and he telephoned for the penitentiary bloodhounds. The hounds came this morning and immediately took the trail and soon suspicion was thrown on Harry Coleman, the son of the victim. He was arrested and hurried to Union.

The coroner's verdict was that Mr. Coleman met death at the hands of his son, Harry.
