

EVERYTHING READY FOR BIG HARVEST JUBILEE

Columbia, Oct. 16.—Everything is in readiness for the big Harvest Jubilee and State fair, which opens here one week from today. Consensus of opinion coming from all sections of that the enormous crowds of one year ago are to be expected next week. With cotton selling at and above 17 cents a pound and seed more than $50 a ton, little complaint of shortage of money is heard among the farmers, who annually make a journey to the Capital City to view the exhibits from all sections of the State and to be entertained by the special features of the occasion.

The queen of the Jubilee will be crowned Monday evening, the coronation ceremonies taking place at the State capitol. A ball in her honor will follow immediately thereafter at the Jefferson hotel, and throughout the week many social entertainments are to be given for her and her maids of honor. "Beauty Supplements" to many of the county papers have been sent out and the voting by coupons is well under way. The balloting is to be concluded Wednesday night, October 18. The crown is to be bestowed again this year by Gov. Manning.

Free acts on the streets of Columbia will be an attractive feature this year. Four troupes of aerial acrobats and specialties have been engaged and a free performance will be given by each in the afternoon and evening during the week of the fair. These will be on Main street and half hour intervals will lapse between the different acts, that the audience may see all four in one evening.

The horse show races this year promise to be the best ever held in Columbia. An effort is now being made to bring two large units of show and race horses from Atlanta. The grand circuit racing aggregation will finish their season in Atlanta this week. Also a big show of Tennessee horses will be given in Atlanta simultaneously. The management of the fair is urging that both units be brought to Columbia.

Football games will draw many to Columbia the latter portion of the week. The big game between Carolina and Clemson will be played Thursday noon. This alone brings hundreds to the fair, who follow the fortunes of their respective alma mater and cheer the team on toward its triumph of the season. A big show is planned and the slightest details and getting much attention in advance that there may be no tie up when the show opens.

Look at "The Face in the Mirror" at the Opera House today and see also Helen playing "At Danger's Call," etc.

The great attraction for the weekend will be "Enoch Arden" at the Opera House Saturday, with other regular features.

BOYCE WOLFF SHOT BY A NEGRO MAN

Body of Former Laurens Citizen is Brought to Old Home For Burial.

Laurens, Oct. 15.—The funeral of the late Boyce Wolff, the former Laurens man who was killed at Lodbell, Miss., last Thursday afternoon, was held at Rabun Creek church this afternoon at three o'clock. The body, accompanied by Mrs. Wolff, one of her sisters and one or two friends, arrived in Greenville Saturday evening, and was brought from there to the home of the young man's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Wolff, who live near Shiloh.

Mr. Wolff was shot and killed in his yard by a negro farm hand, according to the details of the tragedy brought by members of the funeral party. It seems that a negro woman, wife of the slayer, had quit work and demanded her pay for the week. Mr. Wolff explained that he would pay her off Saturday along with the other cotton pickers. The woman carried her grievance to her husband. He immediately came to the house and demanded a settlement. Again Mr. Wolff declined, whereupon, it is alleged, the negro, standing just outside the yard fence, drew a pistol and shot his employer through the head, death ensuing in a few minutes.

As the negro fled from the scene of the tragedy, he passed by the colored cook who was picking cotton near the house, shot and mortally wounded her, saying that she would not be left to tell anything about the former tragedy, she evidently having witnessed the shooting of Mr. Wolff.

Officers aided by a posse of citizens and blood hounds from the State farm, located nearby, at once took up the trail of the negro murderer. In the trail of the fugitive through the delta four bodies of negroes were found, all victims of the deadly shot of the desperado. At last accounts the negro had not been apprehended, though every effort possible was being made to run him down.

Mr. Wolff, formerly employed by the government in farm demonstration work in Mississippi, was engaged in superintending a large delta farm for private individuals, and he employed a large force of negroes in the operation of the farm. In fact, he and Mrs. Wolff were the only white persons residing on the plantation, which is located 14 miles from Greenville, Miss. Mr. Wolff was 32 years of age and was a graduate of Clemson. About four years ago he married Miss Zallie Burkman, formerly of West Point, Miss.

Cattle bought in the fall and kept over winter in this way might cost less than would have to be paid for them in the spring, and the farmer would have more manure to put on his crops.

Moore-Orr.

The State.

The marriage of Miss Caroline Dow Moore, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Thompson Moore, to Joseph Kyle Orr, Jr., of Atlanta was solemnized at 8:30 o'clock Thursday evening at Trinity church, centering the social interest of the capitals of the two neighbor States, South Carolina and Georgia. A brilliant assemblage of guests filled Trinity church and upwards of 200 attended a reception afterward at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Moore on Sumter street.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Pamela Moore, as maid of honor, by Mrs. Kenneth James of Darlington, formerly Miss Sue Flinn of Columbia, as dame of honor, and her other sister, Miss Kate Moore, and Mr. Orr's sister, Miss Harriet Orr, of Atlanta, as bridesmaids. They all carried out in their costumes the color combination of lavender and gold and all carried quaint arm baskets filled with deep hued Lady Hillington roses, overflowing in a shower of rosebud and lavender clusters, knotted on gold cords. The maid of honor was gowned in cloth of gold with flowing sleeves and draperies of two toned yellow tulle and bodice of silver lace and she wore silver slippers. The two bridesmaids wore gowns of pussy willow taffeta in gold of ophir hue over petticoats of net trimmed with gold lace, and the dame of honor was in lavender taffeta, satin striped and combined with white thread lace.

The bride wore an exquisite gown of filmy white tulle over white satin made round length and traced with quaint garlands of hand-made satin flowers, the sole trimming of the lovely frock. The veil, fastened with a wreath of orange blossoms, lengthened to form the train for the gown. She carried a shower bouquet of valley lilies and lavender orchids and wore as her only ornament a beautiful bow knot of diamonds, the bridegroom's wedding gift.

Entering with her father, she was met at the chancel by the bridegroom with his best man, Carl Ramspeck of Atlanta, and there the betrothal service was read, the bridal pair, attended by the maid of honor and best man advancing to the altar to exchange their marriage vows. The Rev. Kirkman G. Finlay, rector of Trinity church, officiated, and Paul de Launay, organist of the church, presided at the organ, playing the march from Tannhauser as a processional and the Mendelssohn march as a recessional and giving an enjoyable programme during the preliminary half hour, while the guests were assembling. The ushers were the bride's three brothers, (William and Thomas T. Moore, Jr., of Columbia and Jerome Moore of Atlanta; her brother-in-law, Sam Evans, of Atlanta. Henry Graves of Atlanta and P. E. Scott of Newberry.

The church decorations consisted of bride roses which filled the altar vases and palms which banked the chancel, rising from the low bridge chancel railing against the massive carved choir stalls.

The reception was made more or less informal to accord with the tradition of the hospitable house. Guests were greeted in the hall by Mrs. Thomas Thompson Moore, Jr., and Mrs. P. E. Scott of Newberry, and shown into the drawing room where, in the receiving party, were Dr. and Mrs. Moore, Miss Pamela Moore, Miss Orr, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kyle Orr, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kyle Orr, Sr., of Atlanta, Mrs. Kenneth James and Miss Kate Orr.

HUSBAND RESCUED DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

Catron, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side.

The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good. I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair.

At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without tiring me, and am doing my work."

If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 33 years of wonderful success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. "THE VELVET PAW"

A woman must challenge the world at its own games. She cannot stand above the mists and call the crowds to her, but many will follow her up through the mists if she wins.

Washington, D. C., that entrance to fame—the hot bed of political strife, that oft becomes the gateway to oblivion, has been called the most beautiful city in the world, and yet tradition and fact record many of life's wonderful dramas that have had their birth and death in the shadow of the great dome of the Capitol.

Like many faithful wives, Mary Dexter accompanied her husband to Washington in search of success, but it came in a far different manner than she anticipated, and the golden bridge over which she crossed to sunrise, also brought her in sight of The Cross.

Most women would have given up the fight, but Mary Dexter proved that woman has a natural greatness which man seems unable to destroy, and out of the depths of the sorrow she passed through, she mounted to the pinnacle of success. She proved the Nation's champion, and out of the goodness of her soul came an inspiration that caused as great a fight as was even seen in the House of Congress.

This is a marvelous picture and House Peters with Gail Karie demonstrate the power of Right—and Love. Opera House Tuesday.

Y.—"I am a farmer 74 years of age and got into a weak, run-down condition as a result of the Grippe. Our druggist suggested Vinol to build me up and I noticed an improvement soon after taking it, and it has restored my strength so I can now do a good day's work. My wife has also taken Vinol for a run-down condition with splendid results."—H. W. LESTER.

WIFE TOO ILL TO WORK

IN BED MOST OF TIME

Her Health Restored by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Indianapolis, Indiana. — "My health was so poor and my constitution so run down that I could not work. I was thin, pale and weak, weighed but 100 pounds and was in bed most of the time. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and five months later I weighed 133 pounds. I do all the housework and washing for eleven and I can truthfully say Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been a godsend to me for I would have been in my grave today but for it. I would tell all women suffering as I was to try your valuable remedy."—Mrs. WM. GREEN, 322 S. Addison Street, Indianapolis, Indiana.

There is hardly a neighborhood in this country, wherein some woman has not found health by using this good old-fashioned root and herb remedy.

If there is anything about which you would like special advice, write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Two hundred and sixty-five gallons of soap made in four hours and a half is one day's record at the manufactory of R. C. McCarter in Newberry this week. This is making some soap. McCarter must be figuring on selling soap for Jule Booser's steam laundry next year. We do things in Newberry. They work fast also at the Coca-Cola Bottling plant, when the expert handler at the machine puts up twenty-four bottles in a minute and a quarter. That's bottling. Figure it out.
