GREAT REMOVAL SALE

The Herald and News has decided to put on the greatest removal sale known in the history of removal sales in this town. We have not space to run the ad in this issue. All of those who owed the paper could not take advantage of the dollar sale we had on in August. We knew it was a bad time and those who really needed to take advantage of that did not feel that they could even put out the dollar at that time. The fall is now here, and while we are not going to put on the dollar sale, we will at least give every one an opportunity to get a very useful article in connection with a subscription to The Herald and News.

We have arranged with Mayes Book store so that we will give with every payment of two dollars, or one year's subscription, either an aluminum water pitcher or an aluminum thermos bottle, or we will give you two small aluminum molasses pitchers, so that you may serve two kinds of molasses at the same time, or you can use one for milk.

These articles may be seen at Mayes Book store right now, and the sale will last for only two weeks, or rather will close on Saturday, November 4. We have not been able to get our mailing list corrected up to date, but we hope to be straightened out in our new home very soon. And then we will keep it corrected to date.

All you have to do is to come to the office and pay two dollars for one year's subscription and you will get an order to Mayes Book store and walk across the street and take your choice of the articles here mentioned. We have already mentioned the mrvf. We have already arranged with Mr. Mayes. He now has some of the articles on hand and will supply whatever number we may order. All three are useful articles. And every housewife would appreciate one or the other. The thermos bottle should appeal especially to school children.

Only one subscription on this plan taken from each subscriber, and applies to new and old subscribers, and regardless of the date to which you have paid.

Come right along now and take advantage of this great removal sale, and we are going to be in position now to publish the best newspaper we have ever printed, and that is going some.

This is a rare opportunity to place in every home in Newberry county a useful and beautiful piece of aluminum. Don't wait but come right now. The offer is open to every one anywhere, and besides get a real newspaper for a whole year.

We are receiving complaints from subscribers that the paper has been late in coming. We realize that this is only too true, but it is a big job to move a printing office, and until we get moved and straightened out delays are going to be avoidable, and we beg our friends to bear with us as best they can. We appreciate the fact that you miss the old paper and we trust the time will not be long until we can resume the visits regularly.

AMONG THE SCHOOLS

On Wednesday of last week I was at Wheeland at the morning exercise. The school opened on Monday, but the patrons and teachers wanted to have some friends at the school during the early part of the session, so it was decided to have what they call the formal opening on Wednesday. Mrs. Annette Brooks and Miss Elizabeth Metts are the teachers for this session. Mrs. Brooks has had experience and this is the first session for Miss Metts. They start off all right and we are expecting some good work at this school. There were more than fifty children present on Wednesday and the enrollment will go beyond sixty. Rev. J. J. Long and Rev. J. L. Cromer were present and made very excellent and helpful talks. The people are interested and these words of encouragement are always helpful. I also talked to the people. They have a nice and comfortable school house at this place and beautiful grounds, but there is need of some work on the roads and especially the one leading from Little Mountain, and then from the school house out to the highway by Fairview school. There is so much lumber hauling now that it keeps the road in bad condition, and that applies to many of the highways.

I drove from Wheeland across to Fairview out by the Wheeler place, and this is a road I do not recall to have traveled before, if so a long time ago, and there are some good farms along this way and a good deal of timber yet in spite of the great amount that is being cut down and hauled away. Everywhere you go there are lumber wagons and trucks hauling lumber, and it would seem that the forests would soon be depleted. I visited the school at Fairview, but getting there just before the dinner hour, did not have much opportunity to observe the work. Mr. Lawrence Derrick is the principal and Miss Hattie Belle Lester the assistant. This is the first year for Mr. Derrick at this school, though he has had several years experience, and is a graduate of Newberry college. Miss Lester taught very successfully at this school last year and is very popular with parents and children and is doing a fine work in the school and community. I had a conference with the trustees and the negroes who are preparing to build a house and to consolidate the negro schools at Fairview and Wheeland and Mt. Pilgrim into one school. Fairview and Wheeland have been consolidated for the past several years and now it is proposed to take in Mt. Pilgrim and the lot has been bought and paid for and the lumber for the framing and weatherboarding is on the ground and we expect to let the contract to put up the building within a few days and have the house finished before very long, in fact to hold school in it this session. I had a good dinner with Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Hamm who live right at the school house, and then came on to Prosperity to meet an engagement which I had at 1:30 o'clock. I intended to stop at Mt. Pilgrim as I came by but owing to the Prosperity engagement could not do both, keep the engagement and make the stop.

The highway which has just been completed by the contractor was in terrible condition at that time, so rough that you could scarcely drive over it and remain in the car. And dusty, just like a big fog all the time. But when the rains come and the drag is applied and the upkeep man comes along and does his part there will be a fine road out this way and it certainly was needed.

Monday morning of this week I went out to Union where they had the opening. There was a large crowd present and the interest they took in the opening was encouraging and it looks now like they mean business and intend to build a house and have a school. There were around fifty children present on Monday and they say there are several more to come, and that the enrollment will be around sixty. Mrs. Bessie D. Pugh is the teacher again this year with Miss Mary Price assistant. They have fitted up the old building until they can get the new one ready for occupancy. Four acres of land have been secured and the contract for the sawing of the lumber has been let and work on the building will begin very soon. They say they mean to have a building and to furnish it nicely and to maintain a real school. Only recently the people of the district voted to increase the tax to 8 mills and the vote was unanimous, and that looks like they mean to do something. They are going to build a two teacher school house with an auditorium so that they may have a place for the holding of meetings of various kinds, and that is the correct idea according to my way of thinking.

Tuesday I went over to Vaughnville and I was greatly pleased to see the fine work that is being done here. Over fifty per cent of the children have taken the diphtheria anti-toxine and Miss Mamie Hill the efficient teacher is arranging to put on one of the health plays the latter part of the month, the first school in the county to undertake this. I want to say more about this work up here in the next article. I stopped at Silverstreet on my return and had a very pleasant conference with the teachers at the noon hour and the work here seems to be getting in good shape. I am very much pleased with the manner in which Mr. Merchant has taken hold of the job, and I am sure that he means to do things and that he is not afraid of work, but on the contrary he and work will be good friends all of the school term. Thursday I am going to Columbia to meet with the state superintendent and the other county superintendents of the state at the call of the state superintendent.

Tuesday, October 24 has been designated by the state fair authorities as education day and school day at the fair and the attractions will have especial reference to education. I wrote the fair authorities some time ago if they would make any concessions for school teachers, and the reply is that if they will come in groups tickets of admission may be had for 30 cents each. I also took up the matter of transportation with Mr. W. E. McGee of the Southern Railway, and he says the fare is one and one half regular fare one way, and that he would be glad to leave us any one or more of the best coaches so that the teachers might have a car to themselves. Mr. McGee also said that while the railroad does not haul the passengers out to the grounds he would take pleasure in assisting to secure special street cars for the party when it arrived in Columbia, so that you might get off the train and right on the street car, and be transferred immediately to the fair grounds. Superintendent Cannon of city schools says he does not favor giving a holiday unless the teachers really go to the fair, and neither do I. If they desire to go, and will go, then I would recommend to the trustees that they give this day for that purpose, but unless they are really intending to go there is no use in a holiday. Of course the matter of giving the day for this purpose is in the hands of the trustees. If any number of teachers would like to attend the state fair and will let me know at once I will be glad to take the matter up with the trustees, and also with the state fair association and arrange for the entrance and also for the special coaches so that there would be no crowding, and also for the street cars so that there would be no delay in getting to the grounds after arrival in Columbia. I should have the information at once so that I may make the necessary arrangement. If any number of teachers would care to go it would take more than one coach to accommodate them comfortably. Trustees could be counted in the same group. Personally I think the state fair has an education value and I feel that a day off to attend by the teachers of the county would be profitably spent, but the matter of letting the teachers take the day is for the trustees of the various school districts to determine.

I would like to see a United States flag hoisted at each school in the county. To get a good flag will cost some six dollars, and then there would be the expense of hoisting the flag pole, and the trouble of taking care of the flag, but I think it would be well worth the trouble and expense, and the teachers would have a fine opportunity to teach the lessons of the flag and the significance of it, and it would tend to instill a patriotic feeling.

BOY SCOUTS

Another of the fourteen mile hikes:

On Friday morning, Sept. 8th, I got my things ready for my hike. I left home at 8 a. m., bound for Jalapa. I crossed Speers Street school yard and hit College street. At Rosemont an auto passed with two scout from somewhere. I went on down the road until I came to a little store and bought a drink. When I had gone up the road a piece a man asked me the road to Whitmire and I told him. My first stop was about 2 1-2 miles from town, where I asked the way to Jalapa. Went on down and took the fork of the road that leads to Laurens, Clinton and Greenville, and crossed the railroad. Passed Mr. Davis's chicken farm on the hill. I was offered a ride several times but did not accept. Passed by a schoolhouse about a mile out from Jalapa which was being fixed for the beginning of school. Stopped in a ditch to eat dinner and went on to Jalapa at 11:00 a. m. I stayed there until twelve o'clock and filled my canteen and started home, which I reached at three p. m.

(A.) J. D. W.

August Klettner and I started for Prosperity at 9 a. m. Monday morning. We turned into the highway and passed a branch and a store. Some highway men asked us to ride but we explained that we were passing a test and that we would have to walk. We passed another store and saw some men working in a field. We went on passing a gin and a church. Another man offered us a ride but we declined. We passed another fork in the road and a lot of car boxes. We passed another church and a railroad crossing and sat down to eat a little lunch. We traveled on and reached Prosperity at about 11:30. We stayed in Prosperity until about 12:30. We got some drinks and a little lunch and started for Newberry. We went for about 4 miles and stopped for a rest. Another man offered us a ride to Newberry. We stopped at a store about 1 mile from town and got some drinks. We came into the city at about 3:15.

PAY ADVANCES

ON MUCH COTTON

Growers' Cooperative Association Receives Many Shipments of Staple

The State

The South Carolina Cotton Growers' Cooperative association paid advances yesterday on 2,704 bales of cotton delivered to the association Saturday at its various receiving stations and warehouses over the state. This was the largest delivery made in a single day since the association began to function, although there has been a steady increase in the deliveries since the first day of the association's operations according to officials of the organization.

The 2,704 bales on which the association paid the initial advance yesterday do not represent the total delivery Saturday. Many of the members have not yet sent in their warehouse receipts and bills of lading. Officials of the organization expressed confidence last night that over 3,000 bales were delivered Saturday. This is believed to be the largest delivery to any association Saturday excepting possibly Oklahoma and Texas. The Oklahoma association had a delivery of 3,195 bales on Monday, October 2.

A telegram received by officials of the South Carolina association from C. L. Stealey, general manager of the Oklahoma association, said:

"What is believed to be the greatest volume of business ever done by a farmers' cooperative organization in a single day was handled by the Oklahoma Cotton Growers' association Monday when 3,195 bales of cotton were delivered by members. Advances to members Monday totalled $181,456.97. The association is receiving more cotton every day than on the corresponding day last year." The Oklahoma association functioned last year.

That was not much of a fire causing the alarm to be sounded Friday at 6 p. m. A small blaze in a house in Glenn street, near Main, not needing the firemen, but they arrived promptly as usual.

The 1921 American Cotton Crop Was 7,973,000 Bales

The guess is that the 1922 crop will be about 9,000,000 bales. The 1921 and 1922 crops will be very little more than the South made in 1911, which was 16,108,029 bales.

It Looks That Cotton Should Go Higher

Store your cotton with the Standard Warehouse Company at Newberry where it is protected against loss by fire or water in the strongest insurance companies in the United States and whose receipts are regarded as the very best collateral and command the lowest interest rates at your local bank, or in Columbia where you can borrow 75 per cent of the value of your cotton.

"Son, Purina is going to make us get more cans."

"Yes, Dad, it's a great system of feeding. Cow Chow sure does get us more milk. And besides it starts our dairy calves out right before they are born, by giving the cows the minerals and proteins they need to grow well-boned, thrifty calves."

"Then Purina Calf Chow takes the young calf gradually off of whole milk and saves us a lot of milk right there."

There are "Sons" and "Dads" right around this town who are using more milk can space because they now feed Purina Chows. Call us up—let us tell you all about it.

Pretty girls and plenty of them is the slogan with "The Girl From Greenwich Village," the sensational musical comedy success that is to appear at the Newberry Opera House Friday night, October 20. The principal feature with this attraction will be Paul Whiteman's celebrated orchestra, known the world over as the peer of all musical organizations. All indications point to a record house and it is advisable to secure your seats early.
