

News from Silver.

SILVER, S. C., Sep. 29.—One of the most interesting and pleasant occasions I ever enjoyed was the grand military review of the cavalry which took place at Panola last Friday, the 26th.

I need not tell you that Panola, as usual, had a grand day; the morning was lovely, and every thing went merry as a marriage bell. To compliment each command on their efficiency and splendid appearance, both as to horses and men, would require much more space than you perhaps have to spare. However, it is the ladies that always add charms to every occasion, and lends enchantment to the view. It is a fact not to be disputed that when the Hampton Light Dragoons and Connor Mounted Riflemen touch elbows they make their inspections too grand for description. From the least to the greatest they vie with each other in making these occasions successful.

General Farley was to inspect the troops, and all eyes eagerly sought to look upon him, the people patiently awaiting his arrival, that they might touch the warm hand of him who, together with Tithman, had led them to victory. Gen. Farley is a soldier in every respect. His coming among us in his official capacity was received with that attention and courtesy that our people should have bestowed upon so efficient an officer. I need not say the General was well pleased. To the military he spoke in the most complimentary terms. To the ladies (for the General is a bachelor) his remarks were of the most touching kind, and won for him the most pleasant smiles. He said to the splendidly equipped commanders: "The ladies have made you just what you are, and nobody but Almighty God could have made woman as she is, so lovely and so beautiful."

The music was grand, the dance charmed every bystander. All classes of society were represented; all shades of the community were at the altar; while this was the case nothing happened to mar the peace of a single individual, or even forget to chime in with the young in merry-making. Now and then an old croaker could be heard to raise his voice as to the dance, and in his old age recall some pressing moment which he had spent in younger years, when the golden opportunity had forever fled, with his girl.

The substantial dinner, furnished by two young dragoons, is worthy of mention. With but one single exception (it was quite enough) it sustained Panola's reputation. The ice cream was delicious; the confection cool and refreshing, all administered by Panola's fair maidens.

Capt. Brailstord, I imagine, was the happiest trooper on the occasion. He was the recipient of a beautiful bouquet of flowers from one of Panola's young ladies, presented to him as being the handsomest officer in the field.

It was not content to rest the remainder of the week, hence Saturday morning, with George Mahoney, we set sail to attend the meeting of the White Oak Alliance. I was in the big pot would be put into the little. I was not surprised in the least—I was of my own free will, a companion of a judge. It was not long before I was as happy as a dead pig in the sunshine. These Alliance boys have a peculiar way of managing things; They work by craft, and the whole world would give much to find out their secrets.

It afforded me great pleasure to meet the brethren of this Alliance. It was their time of installation. Capt. D. J. Bradham, our county lecturer, was on hand cut and dried. He, I think, made one of the best speeches of his life; in fact, I think the captain ought to have two months, for one cannot express his fullness of Alliance measures. The captain is thoroughly conversant with all our views, as well one of our most zealous advocates of the Alliance. Brother J. E. Davis, our county president, was, too, in his prime. He has a very solemn way of excusing himself when called on for a speech, but he gets there all the same. Both made excellent speeches, and both made good points, which we are likely to remember. This Alliance is on solid ground; we little dreamed of such an interest manifested by the White Oak brethren.

Capt. Bradham installed the officers:
 J. W. Clark, president.
 Robert Plowden, vice-president.
 Joseph Mitchum, secretary.
 T. C. Owens, Treasurer.
 John Childers, Chaplain.
 P. W. Hodge, Lecturer.
 John Childers, Jr., Steward.
 Jeff Brooks, Door-keeper.
 J. E. Graham, Asst. Door-keeper.

Delegates to county convention elected to meet on the 2d October, were then appointed as follows:

J. W. Clark, Robert Plowden, and P. B. Hodge.

After the meeting we repaired to the house of Brother T. C. Owens, where his good wife had one of the most bountiful and sumptuous dinners provided. We were entertained in a most lovely style, and will not soon forget this pleasant day. TOM.

Do You Wear Dresses?

Ladies, you are especially invited to call and examine S. A. Rigby's fall stock of dress goods. He has one of the nicest selections ever brought to this market, consisting of ladies' cloth in all shades; Bedford cords, which are so popular everywhere; light and heavy flannels fifty-four inches wide only sixty cents per yard; India cashmere which is unlike the ordinary cashmere, and has a soft, downy surface, in navy blue, wood-brown, ~~tan, blue-gray,~~ and other fashionable tints. Be sure and ask to see their plaid chevot which makes such striking suits. We have only enumerated some of the latest style goods, but he can furnish you with any style dress you may desire from a handsome ottoman or London curl silk with brocade or silk velvet trimmings, to the cheapest cotton knitting. His efficient salesman, Mr. Jenkinson, will take great pleasure in showing you these goods and assisting you in making your selections, which you will find no difficulty in doing from so large and varied a stock. These goods are all sold cheap, and no one can complain at the prices.

Petit Jury for October Court.

John P Carrol, Packsville
 T B Owen, Panola.
 B F Ridgill, Manning.
 Jeff Davis Hodge, Manning.
 F M Graham, Panola.
 J N Brown, Packsville.
 Milton Stokes, Foreston.
 R H Griffin, Pinewood.
 C C Way, Silver.
 S B Gibson, Manning.
 T M Mims, Silver.
 Isaac N Tobias, Foreston.
 N R McKenzie, Sandy Grove.
 G W McCall, Manning.
 T C Owens, Jordan.
 R E Harvin, Oakland.
 J W Ardis, Silver.
 T A Bradham, Manning.
 J H McCollum, St Paul.
 J E Tenuant, St Paul.
 S C Turbeville, Seloc.
 E G DuBose, Manning.
 R S Elliott, Silver.
 R C Gayle, Pinewood.
 S H Bradham, Manning.
 T J Tisdale, Manning.
 T T Hodge, Manning.
 Joel G Rhodus, Davis Station.
 B P Broadway, Packsville.
 H B Tindal, Summerton.
 L T DesChamps, Silver.
 John W Clark, Jordan.
 H J McLeod, Packsville.
 N H Holladay, Manning.
 Brown Corbett, Packsville.
 D F Lide, Pinewood.

If you want paints, oils, white lead, window glass, alabastine, varnishes, brushes, etc., call and see us. We carry a large stock of these goods. J. G. Dinkins & Co.

Can a Man Choose His Own Sunday?

MEMPHIS, TENN., September 23.—In the celebrated case of R. M. King, the Seventh Day Adventist, convicted in Obion county of Sabbath breaking, an appeal was taken to the Supreme Court of the United States this morning.

It will be remembered that King sued out a writ of habeas corpus before the United States court, and on hearing of the cause was represented by the Hon. Don M. Dickinson. Judge Hammond held that King was not, as alleged, convicted and held without due process of law, and hence the Federal Court could not entertain the appeal.

This morning King, his counsel, and bondsmen appeared before Judge Hammond, and filed an application for appeal and also for suspension of sentence till the appeal should be heard. The bond was fixed at $1,000 and suspension of sentence was also granted.

Big lot of fine wool and felt hats at B. A. Johnson's.

Granulated Sugar, 4 pounds for 25 cents, at Kalisky's.

Best sewing machines for the least money at W. H. Young's.

Go to Brockinton's drug store for pure drugs and medicines.

A full line of Thompson's glove fitting corsets just arrived at Rigby's.

Are the mosquitoes troublesome? if so try a bottle of our "Mosquito Conqueror." It will drive them from the house. Only 10 cents a bottle. J. G. Dinkins & Co.

FOR RENT.—A large new brick store, 100 feet deep, with handsome plate glass front, in the ~~trading center~~ of the town. Apply to S. A. Nettles.

A $500 Fire Policy

on your Farm Residence will cost you in most cases only $5. One dollar on the hundred is very little. Your house is not apt to burn, but then in case it did and you had no insurance, you would be in a decidedly bad fix; if, however, you were insured with any of the Fire Insurance Companies represented by S. A. Nettles your loss would be promptly paid.

S. A. Nettles, Manning, S. C., represents some of the best fire insurance companies in the world.