We doubt if there an another man in public life who can succeed as he has done. if he disagrees with his party make known his views, then, if open arms, the Democratic press with his party to join the opposition and lead it to victory, not once, but a number of times; a man with such force is an ac- freight, lossage, etc. quisition always, but now since he will not endorse the work of the present congress and returns back to his first love, the Demo cratic newspapers sing a differbut I ttle significance.

Independence in politics, would there was more of it, but wher ever it is exhibited it fails because the masses have permitted crafty leaders. South Carolina is peculiarly under the domination of leaders and has always been; whoever occupies the exalted position is absolute. When immediately after the restoration of the State government from the control of the aliens and the another set got control after a revolution, the hush-you-willsplit-the party-idea kept down self assertion, and now another element is at the throttle and it proposes to run over anything of independent tendency. .

The great cry in this State is the negro menace, there is always the nigger-in-the-wood-pile to scare off independent thought and action; there is nothing in this negro menace, absolutely nothing. There are not enough of them qualified to vote to amount to anything, but if there was, the white voters can arrange to submit issues in the white primary and settle them there. as they now settle the choice of men. If issues not created by party leaders could be taken into our primary for settlement-say the tariff, where those who are protectionists as well as those who favor the tariff provisions of the Democratic platform can present their arguments it would tend to cleaner government, freed from bossism. Governor Foss would not stand for his party's attitude on certain issues, he went before his people, a rockribbed Republican State, and showed them why, they did President Wilson will yet benot impugn his motives, charge come a war president. NOT AFRAID OF COFFINS.

Among the Chinese They Are Gladly Accepted as Presents.

Some one who knows Chinese people very well once told a tale to show that they do not permit themselves the luxury of nerves. She said she had gone one day, before the Boxer riots, to visit an old lady who lived out in the country far beyond Weihslen When the American woman arrived the old lady was out, but presently she came in and announced that she had just been out "watching the men dig her grave, but as it began to rain she had told them to wait for a pleasanter day." She did not die for years after that, but she had the comforting assurance that her grave was ready for her without any unseemly haste when ever she cared to occupy it.

The same American had the experience of sleeping in a room with a very large coffin when she was visiting a Chinese friend, and the next morning the old grandfather of the family call ed ber attention to its excellences and explained that his son had made him a present of it. "Isn't the wood fine!" he asked admiringly. "It cost a lot of money." Old people accept such presents as marks of filial love, and not at all as a hint for them to occupy the coffin .- New York Post.

More Window Boxes Needed. Visitors to European cities note the eanty and gayeiy given otherwise somher business buildings by the many window boxes filled with bright foliage and brilliant or attracive blossoms. In those cities most noted for civic beauty these boxes are a marked feature of all classes of buildings both public and private. They are easily maintained with little cost of time or money, and it is strange that more city dwellers do not have them. Their bright blossoms are restful to the eye and at the same time inspiriting to the passerby as well as to the occupants of the house, and a few window boxes in a block transform it from a drear, drab chasm of brick and stone into a vista that is

Tree Is Not a Nuisance.

A tree that has been standing for many years in a highway without being considered an impediment to travel cannot be considered a nuisance if found to extend a few inches into the street when curbs are to be put in, but the curb must be arranged to carry water, etc., past the tree so that it will not interfere with the improvement of the street in a workmanlike manner, according to a recent decision by a Maryland court.

THE SAME OLD SEASONS.

They Are Just About as They Were Couple of Centuries Ago.

The belief of many people that the seasons are undergoing some kind of change has led Professor Ignazio Galli to examine the weather records of the

The investigations of Professor Galli show fifty-one winters that lasted well into spring, thirty-one warm winters, twelve mild winters followed by cold springs, eleven mild winters followed by mild springs, eleven cold autumns, eight very warm springs, eight summers with frosts and five very warm nutumns. There was one instance of six consecutive warm seasons. More than three-quarters of the periods of unusual weather occurred between the middle of autumn and the end of spring. Many times during the eighteenth century the same apparent anomalies recurred at the same seasons in several successive years. In every case the seasons regained their normal characteristics.

There have always been persons who imagined that the seasons were becoming warmer or colder than before. There is, however, small foundation for such beliefs. The world has indeed experienced many cold summers BUSINESS SCHOOL. and many warm winters, but such seasons are not the rule, but the exception .- Youth's Companion.

Kidney Diseases Are Too Dangerous For Manning People to Neglect

The great danger of kidney troubles is that they so often get a firm hold before the sufferer recognizes them. Health will be gradually undermined. Backache, headache, nervousness, lameness, soreness, lumbago, urinary troubles, dropsy, gravel and Bright's disease may follow as the kidneys get worse. Don't neglect your kidneys. Help the kidneys with Doan's Kidney Pills, which are so strongly recommended right here in Manning.
