CAN'T PASS BILL
VICE PRESIDENT MAY DECIDE SENATE DEADLOCK

STONE FLAYS REBELS

Thanks to Accords With A Nation as Hard the Democratic Vote Is a Result of Harry Flood by Republicans—Waiting for Action in Senate.

The Peace Conference is being the government for the time being. The signing of the armistice and the raising of the flag over the Paris Peace Conference will be a great news event.

President Wilson's announcement that he would not sign the bill after it was passed by Congress, and the Senate's refusal to override the veto, has created a feeling of disappointment among Democrats and Republicans alike. Many of the latter are inclined to blame Mr. Wilson for the failure of the bill to pass.

The main difficulty now seems to be the question of whether or not the bill should be passed. The Senate at present is divided on this point, some Senators favoring it, while others oppose it.

URGES COOPERATION
WILSON SAYS GOVERNMENT AND BUSINESS MUST JOIN

QUINTE AS IN WARTIME

President Wilson, in delivering his address to the Chamber of Commerce, has said that there is a general sense of the necessity for cooperation between the government and business. He has urged that this cooperation be extended to every aspect of the situation.

In his address, President Wilson said:

"I feel that it is my duty to call your attention to the necessity of cooperation between the government and business. This cooperation must be extended to every aspect of the situation. It is necessary for the rapid mobilization of our resources, for the maintenance of our economic system, and for the successful prosecution of the war."

President Wilson has urged that the government take the lead in this cooperation, and that business cooperate by making concessions and by reducing prices.
