BURNS LONG STAPLE BRINGS HIGH PRICE

SEVEN BALES OF COTTON BRING 18 CENTS A POUND

Mr. S. A. Burns Will Plant His Entire Crop in This Cotton in Future—Can Be Grown as Easily and as Cheaply as Lower Grades.

Anderson Mail.

Mr. S. A. Burns, president of the Anderson County Farmers Union, has just sold seven bales of long staple cotton, grown on his farm in Rock Mills township, ten miles southwest of the city, at 18 cents per pound. The cotton was bought by Mr. Lewis W. Parker, of Greenville, and will be spun at the mills of the Victor Manufacturing Company at Greers.

In talking of his cotton, Mr. Burns said that he intends to plant his whole crop in the long staple this year. He has 300 bushels of the seed on hand—enough, and with some to be sold. He says that the long staple grows just as [illegible] yield to the acre, and with no more fertilizer and cultivation than is needed for the short staple.

This particular cotton is known as "Burns Long Staple". Three years ago Mr. Burns discovered a stalk of cotton in his field that was larger than the rest, and with a finer grade of lint. He preserved the seed, and from this has been developed the long staple cotton in which he intends to plant his whole crop this year.

For the past two years Burns Long Stapel hase been grown with success at Clemson college, and it has been pronounced an excellent grade of cotton. Mr. Burns will sell some of the seed but reserve enough to plant his whole crop. He says he sees no reason why he should not raise cotton at 18 cents, rather than cotton at 11 or 14 or 15 cents.

Tortured For 15 Years

By a cure-defying stomach trouble that baffled doctors and resisted all remedies he tried, John W. Modders, of Moddersville, Mich., seemed doomed. He had to sell his farm and give up work. His neighbors said, "He can't live much longer." "Whatever I ate disagreed with me," he wrote, "till I tried Electric Bitters, which worked such wonders for me that I can now eat things I could not take for years. It's surely a grand remedy for stomach trouble." Just as good for the liver and kidneys. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50c, at Theo E. Wannamaker & Sons'.

FORMER TENANT CONFESSES.

Robert Miller Admits Starting Incendiary Blaze.

Rock Hil Special to The State.

Robert Miller, a former tenant on the farm of R. H. Peacock, has confessed that he purposely started the flames which, about the 1st of December, last year, destroyed the barn and contents, with two mules and two horses, entailing a loss of something like $1,500.

It was suspected at the time that the fire was of incendiary nature, and with that idea in mind, B. A. Wharton, deputy insurance commissioner of this state, came here and started an inquiry, with the result that Robert Miller, a former tenant on Mr. Peacock's place, confessed that he started the fire.

Miller said that he was mad with Mr. Peacock because he had not made enough last year to pay Mr. Peacock all that was due, and that Mr. Peacock had taken his corn to apply on the debt. He said he came by the place on the night of the fire, and that he did not have a match but was smoking and got a handful of hay and blew on his cigar until the hay blazed, and then threw it into the barn among a lot of fodder.

He waived preliminary examination and was sent to jail to await trial.

LAST LEGAL HANGING

Before Electric Chair Supplants Gallows in Kentucky.

Lexington, Ky.—James White, an eighteen-year-old, feeble-minded negro, was hanged at Pineville, Bell county, Monday, for the assault and murder of a little white girl a year ago. This will be the last legal hanging to take place in Kentucky, as it is the last murder committed before last June has already disposed of, and the death sentence for crimes committed since that time was carried out by electrocution at the Eddyville Penitentiary.

OLDEST MAN IN THE WORLD

John Morg, of Garadyville, Ky., Says He Is 140 Years Old.

Gradyville, Ky.—John Morg, a native of Germany, believed to be the oldest man in the world, celebrated his one hundred and twenty-fourth anniversary here. He is in the best of health, and his memory of more than a century is perfect. Morg was in the war of 1812, and tells many interesting stories of Washington and other [illegible] in his younger days he was a noted boxer.

FOUNDER OF D. A. R. DIES.

Miss Mary Desha, One of Moving Spirits of Organization, Passes Away.

Washington, D. C.—Miss Mary Desha, aged 65, one of the three founders of the Daughters of the American Revolution, died suddenly of apoplexy while walking near her home here.

Miss Desha was educated at Sayre institute and Kentucky State college at Lexington, Ky., and taught in the public schools there for several years. During the Spanish-American war she was assistant director and held several offices at different times in the Daughters of the American Revolution, and was also president of the Albert Sydney Johnston chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy. She was a member of various other patriotic societies.

TO TRAIN WHITE MAN'S HOPE.

Wealthy Banker Gets Control of Carl Morris and Prepares for Johnson.

Tulsa, Oklahoma.—Announcement is made that the seven-year contract held by William Stone, of Sapulpa, as manager for Carl Morris, pugilist, heralded as "the white man's hope", has been purchased by Frank B. Ufer, a wealthy banker and oil man of Tulsa. The consideration is said to have been $25,000. Elaborate training quarters are to be fitted up here for Morris. Dispatches were sent to Joe Choynski and Bob Armstrong, asking if they would be available as trainers for the Oklahoma man. Bill Delaney is also mentioned as a possible director of the Tulsa training camp.

You are probably aware that pneumonia always results from a cold, but you neevr heard of a cold resulting in pneumonia when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy was used. Why take the risk when this remedy may be had for a trifle? For sale by all dealers.
