The election in Branchville Monday for mayor and aldermen, the following were elected: Mayor, J. B. Williams, Sr.; aldermen: T. L. Hutto, Hebron Berry, P. M. Wimberly, B. F. Smoak, O. W. Smoak, and D. L. Rhood.

The Woman's Missionary society of Trinity church, will meet next Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 in the church parlors. As business of importance will come before the meeting, each member is requested to be present.

Mr. H. N. Folk has purchased from Col. John F. Folk, the latter's residence on Midway avenue formerly occupied by Mr. J. C. Moye. Mr. Folk has had the place improved, and he and family moved into the residence on Tuesday.

The friends of Mr. S. W. Sandifer will regret to learn that he has had to return to a hospital in Charleston for treatment. It will be recalled that Mr. Sandifer had the misfortune to cut his foot with an axe several weeks ago. Blood poison set in, and the wound has been very painful.

Mrs. R. C. Jones received a telegram Sunday afternoon informing her of the death of her father, Mr. T. A. Caldwell, at his home at Appomatox, Va., which occurred at 2 o'clock Sunday. Mr. Caldwell died very suddenly. He was 67 years of age. Mrs. Jones left Sunday night to attend the funeral.

Mr. J. W. Pearlstine, a valued subscriber to The Herald at Olar, in renewing his subscription, says: "You will find enclosed my check for $3.00, which pays up my subscription to The Herald until December, 1916. Don't forget to send me The Herald each week, as I can't do without your good county paper." We appreciate the kind words of friend Pearlstine, and hope that his good example will be followed by many, and that we will receive a good many of those $3.00 checks which are still due us.

The South Carolina railroad commission visited Bamberg recently on a tour of inspection of the Walterboro division of the Atlantic Coast Line. Previous to coming to Bamberg, a conference was held with the business men of Walterboro in regard to putting into effect a change of schedule between Green Pond and Bamberg. It was proposed by some of the Walterboro people to put on a double daily passenger service. An objection to this seems to be that the passenger traffic on the line is small, and it is not probable that any steps will be taken or that this service will be insisted upon. The members of the railroad commission are Messrs. G. McD. Hampton, chairman; John G. Richards and Frank W. Shealey.

Brakeman Lost His Leg.

Branchville, Dec. 13.—Mr. M. G. Smith, a brakeman on the Southern railway, who lives here, met with the misfortune of having his right foot cut off while switching cars at Embree Saturday morning. It seems he tried to catch the moving train but his foot slipped and fell across the rail. He was taken to Charleston on a passenger train soon after and is reported to be getting along as well as could be expected.

Arrives in Blackville.

The body of S. E. Wray, who was killed Friday afternoon by a train near Shelton, arrived in Blackville Saturday, where the funeral and burial took place.

Mr. Wray was an employee of the Southern railway, and was attached to a work train near Herbert's siding. He was on the bridge over Broad river, and was struck by the "Carolina Special." Mr. Wray was about 60 years of age.

Miscellaneous Shower.

One of the prettiest and most enjoyable events of the season occurred on last Friday afternoon, December 10th, when Mrs. Bernard Vance Kearse, of Olar, entertained with a miscellaneous shower, complimentary to her sister, Miss Sudie Ritter, who will soon become the bride of Mr. Henry Cart Glover, of Walterboro.

The day was an ideal one. Not a cloud could be seen and with the warm rays of a bright sun so beautifully shed round, everything was suggestive of the coming event.

A large number of friends and relatives responded to the invitations and every anticipation was fully realized. The neat, comfortable home was transformed into a picture of loveliness with its tasty decorations of green and white. Garlands of vines, intermingled with flowers, traced the rooms, while a handsome bunch of blooming narcissus ornamented the centre table. In a cozy corner were a mass of potted palms and ferns with graceful draperies suspended above, caught with bouquets of real carnations. This the bride-elect occupied, where her blonde beauty was displayed to an advantage, so becomingly gowned in a suit of satin. Scarce was there time for congratulations or good wishes when the door opened wide and another sweet scene appeared, little Miss Gladys Virginia Kearse and Master J. W. Jenny in a fairy-like manner delivering express. Not often do we see such a lovely collection of gifts. After these were inspected and commented on cards and pencils were distributed and each guest requested to compose an acrostic on the two names. These were read by Miss Cressida Breland and were indeed rich and amusing. Mrs. J. L. Copeland received the prize, a cut glass bon-bon dish, which she presented to Miss Ritter.

Next on the programme was a sumptuous salad course, followed by coffee with whipped cream. Mints were partaken of at intervals.

Delightful fruit punch was served in the hall by Mrs. G. B. Kearse.

Evening shades were drawing near when the party disbanded, expressing real enjoyment and wishing for repetitions of such an occasion.

The invited guests were: Mesdames J. J. Farrell, J. L. Copeland, F. H. Copeland, I. D. Copeland, S. W. Copeland, J. M. Dannelly, J. S. Dannelly, J. D. Dannelly, Max Walker, J. F. Chasseau, H. S. Kearse, O. E. Kearse, O. P. Folk, Probst Sease, of Ehrhardt;

Brabham, Olar; Misses Ollie Folk, Ehrhardt; Eulalie Coleman, Bamberg; Cressida Breland, Etta Kearse, Winnie Kearse, Agnes Kearse, Olar; Leila Richburg, Leila Folk, Edith Folk, Beulah Folk, Alice Smoak, Columbia; Margaret Bellinger, Charleston.

B. & L. to Wind Up.

At a recent meeting of the stockholders of the Young Men's Building and Loan association, it was decided to wind up the association with this month, in order to avoid payment of taxes after the first of January, amounting to several hundred dollars.

It was reported to the meeting that by paying the usual monthly payment of one dollar a share and an additional $3.60 per share, the association could be wound up and discontinue business this month.

A motion to do this was adopted. No steps were taken at this meeting toward the organization of a new association, but it is understood that this will be done in the near future.

Fiddlers Adjourn.

As announced on evening of the 7th, fiddlers and their friends, about 150 in all, met the following day about 1 o'clock at New Bridge and enjoyed a well prepared barbecue.

After this a business meeting was held at the court house, about 5 o'clock, and the following officers were elected: Capt. W. S. Bamberg, president; L. A. Brabham, 1st vice president; O. D. Faust, 2nd vice president; W. D. Sease, treasurer; C. W. Rento, secretary.

About 7:30 o'clock, same day, the fiddlers and a fairly good crowd of citizens assembled at the court house.

The following fiddlers were present:

J. B. All, R. J. Hightower, R. L. Hightower, Charlie Simons, F. W. McMillan, J. R. Collins, L. A. Brabham, K. B. Warren, O. D. Faust, H. J. Delk, C. W. Bessinger, G. W. Wilson, W. D. Sease, J. S. Folk, Herbert Folk, Miss Wilhelmina Folk, Miss Dorris Folk, Miss Minnie Kirkland, Connor Smoak, M. L. Zorn, A. W. Brabham.

After about one hour and a half of our usual lively fiddling, fiddlers all joined in the strains of "Home Sweet Home," and most of them began their journey homeward.

"Leather breeches," "Raccoon on de rail," "Arkansas Traveler," "Cindy," "Shear 'em," "Dixie," and all the others went home feeling they have done their full share on the occasion.
