

WASHINGTON.

Bids Opened for Supplying the Indians with Beef for the Ensuing Twelve Months.

Vessels Supposed to be Infected with Yellow Fever Bound for the Delaware Breakwater.

MEAT FOR THE INDIANS.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The committee of Indian affairs today opened bids for shipping fifteen million pounds of beef to the Rosebud, Yankton, Crow Creek and Pine Ridge Indian agencies. There were ten bidders and the prices ranged from $3.45 to $3.65 per 100 pounds on the hoof. The proposals received at the New York letting were rejected because they were regarded as excessive, and the average prices of to-day's bidding are said to be $4.00 lower.

BRINGING YELLOW FEVER TO THE STATES.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The marine hospital bureau is informed that two vessels supposed to be infected with yellow fever have cleared from Cienfuegos for Delaware breakwater and are due at the latter place to-day. The quarantine officer at the breakwater has been notified, and a revenue cutter from Philadelphia has been ordered to intercept the vessels on their arrival.

THE NUMBER OF DEAD SOLDIERS.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—Adj.-Gen. Drum has completed a list of casualties in the federal army during the late war. The aggregate number of deaths is shown to be 359,496. Of these 29,498 occurred among Union soldiers held as prisoners of war. The total number of troops reported as furnished by various states under the various calls is 2,772,408. Some of the returns were duplicated, and it is estimated that the actual number was about 2,500,000.

THE POWERS THAT BE.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—First Assistant Postmaster-General Hay says he is unaware of any prerogative by which a senator may dictate appointments of postmaster, and while he would give great weight to their suggestions he would appoint a postmaster opposed in politics to the administration, if the majority of the patrons of the office favored such applicant.

GEN. GRANT'S TROPHIES SENT FOR.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—Col. Batheider, deputy quartermaster-general, left Washington last night for New York to receive and bring to Washington the testimonials and presents received by Gen. Grant at home and abroad which were presented to this government by Mrs. Grant. Col. Batheider was specially selected for this duty by the secretary of war a few days ago. It has not yet been decided where the presents will be permanently placed.

PRESIDENTIAL APPOINTMENTS.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The president today appointed the following collectors of internal revenue: John T. McCarrige for the Ninth district of Pennsylvania.

Attila Cox for the Fifth district of Kentucky.

George N. Davis for the Fourth district of Michigan.

UNCLE SAM PARTIAL TO THE LADIES.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The secretary of the treasury has issued a warrant for $150,000 to the director-general of the New Orleans exposition and the head of the woman's department, to be used exclusively in the payment of the claims against the woman's department.

ESCAPED TO CANADA.

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The post-office inspectors who have been pursuing Hibbs, the defaulting postmaster of Lewiston, Idaho, have discovered that he is at Farwell, a town forty-five miles distant from Victoria, B. C. As he is accompanied by his family, the inspectors have little doubt of being able to arrest him. It is probable that an attempt to effect the extradition of Hibbs will be involved in difficulty and take a nice point. He could not be held for embezzlement, as that offense is not covered by the existing treaties with British Columbia, nor for forgery, as he was acting in his capacity of postmaster when he drew the fraudulent money orders. It is hoped that he may be held upon the charge of stealing letters addressed to another person, but this again involves a nice question. The letters Hibbs took from the pouches were addressed to one Davis, which was a name assumed for the purpose by himself.

HUNTING A DEFAULTING POSTMASTER.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—The inspectors of the postoffice department are exerting themselves to effect the capture of Hibbs, the defaulting postmaster of Lewiston, Idaho. It is believed he may have remained in this country, although he was reported to have fled into British Columbia. It is not believed that the government will lose anything by Hibbs's operations.

GAINESVILLE.

A Small Worm Destroying the Cotton in Cooke County.

GAINESVILLE, Tex., June 10.—Some farmers in the city to-day stated that a small worm, of the web-worm character, is destroying their cotton. They are considerably exercised about it. The destruction already done indicates a very thorough cleaning out of their cotton fields. Gen. Hudson, while at his ranch yesterday, saw the first evidence of the presence of the destroyer in his cotton field. They had made considerable havoc in the patch.

In the district court yesterday a motion for a new trial in the J. E. Roney case, convicted of murder in the second degree, was heard and overruled.

by the court. The defendant gave notice of appeal.

In the case of Mrs. Edna Long vs. Shorty Long, divorce was granted and custody of the children awarded the plaintiff. The evidence in this case was palpably scandalous, and yet the defendant claimed that he was a much wronged man.

Mayor J. P. Smith and Hon. R. M. Wynne of Fort Worth were in the city yesterday attending court.

Ten or twelve ladies of this city visited the jail yesterday with flowers and reading matter for the inmates. Some of the most hardened criminals seemed touched by the presence of these angels of mercy with their floral offerings and words of sympathy, and the bitter parts of their natures seemed to be awakened for the time being, at least.

District court adjourned this evening. Judge Piner has had his hands full, but he has been untiring and faithful in the discharge of his duty and has won golden opinions on all sides.

The farmers report that worms are destroying cotton very fast and it looks as if the whole crop would be destroyed. The present outlook for a cotton crop is rather gloomy, unless the ravages of the worms can be stopped.

SECRETARY BAYARD.

He Delivers the Annual Address Before the University of Kansas.

LAWRENCE, KAN., June 9.—Lawrence is in holiday attire, and the streets are swarming with people from all parts of Kansas and the surrounding states, attracted here by the visit of Secretary Bayard. The secretary is the guest of ex-Mayor G. D. Bowersock. He has been shown over the city and has received calls from great numbers of the prominent citizens. Last evening he delivered the annual address before the literary societies of the state university, the subject being "Individuality," which he elaborated on in a very interesting and instructive manner. After the exercises at the university Mr. Bayard was given a banquet by the citizens, at which a large number of prominent persons were present. The programme of the toasts and responses was not commenced until midnight.

In his response Mr. Bayard said the desire of his life was that sectional strife be extinguished. He did not speak for any president or administration, yet, nevertheless, the whole energy of the present administration would be to better the whole country without sectionalism or distinction of any kind. Any fears which had existed on this head ought now to be dispelled.

Several other speakers followed Mr. Bayard, and the programme was continued until a late hour.

THE SECRETARY IN ST. LOUIS.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 10.—Secretary Bayard, who arrived here last night, remained in the city, the guest of Mayor Francis. This morning, escorted by the mayor, he witnessed the annual exhibition of the manual training school of Washington university. At noon he breakfasted at the mayor's home in company with Senator Vest, Gen. Sherman, United States Judge Treat, Congressman Glover and others. In the afternoon Mr. Bayard visited the races by special invitation of the directors, and left to-night for Washington.

ABILENE.

A Desperate Character Who is Wanted at the Fort Arrested.

ABILENE, TEX., June 9.—Mr. C. E. Gilbert, who appealed to the county court from the justice's court on a judgment against him for $200 for assaulting Taylor Thompson, was tried by jury before the county judge yesterday and fined $150 and costs. A runaway lumber team collided last evening with a dray. The lumber team was composed of a horse and mule. The horse hallooed lustily but the mule did not utter a sound. The bystanders said the mule was dead but when cut loose from the harness he jumped up as lively as ever, but the horse could hardly stand.

Atulena, Tex., June 10.—Brown, alias Campbell, a desperate character, was arrested at the depot yesterday by Deputy Sheriff McLenore and Irwin. A telegram was received this morning from the sheriff of Tarrant county to hold him. He is charged with murderous assault on two boys whom he hacked up with a knife. One of the victims died, the other is still living. Buckskin Jim got on a rampage this morning, but was corralled.

Mr. Acherman of Dallas, is building an iron house on Front street. Our old opera-house is soon to be used as a variety theater, providing the city fathers do not object. The old building is better fitted for that purpose than anything else.

Wool continues to come in in good quantities. Prices are unchanged. A heavy rain fell last night but no damage was done to crops as far as heard of. It did not extend over much ground.

AFFAIRS ABROAD.

announcement of resignation by the cabinet, the terms he employed being those which have invariably been used on similar occasions, were taken to indicate that the resignations had been decided on and tendered to the queen. The Conservatives are divided on the expediency of assuming power. The majority of them favor trying the experiment. It is expected by the Tories that the Marquis of Salisbury will be ready by July next to accept an invitation by the queen to form a provisional government. It is rumored that Mr. Gladstone intends entirely to abandon political life.

WHAT THE GOSSIPS SAY. Lord Randolph Churchill was asked if the Conservatives would form a government. He answered, "most certainly." Lobby gossip this afternoon continues to mention the name of the Marquis of Salisbury for prime minister, Sir Stafford Northcote for chancellor of the exchequer and Lord Randolph Churchill for secretary of state for India. The gossips also say that Sir Michael Edward Hicks Beach will have a prominent place in the new cabinet.

AN UNKNOWN QUANTITY.

The queen has summoned the Marquis of Hartington, secretary of state for war, to Balmoral. It is not known whether he is summoned to represent a native of Mr. Gladstone, or is to be invited to form a new cabinet. Lord Hartington seems to be in a hurry to comply with the summons, and has not yet started.

SALISBURY READY TO FOLLOW NORTH-COTE.

A private deputation of Conservatives waited upon Sir Stafford Northcote and the Marquis of Salisbury to-day and urged them to refuse office. The Marquis of Salisbury stated that if the queen called them they must form a government. He would support Sir Stafford Northcote as premier and he expected that the queen's commands would place Sir Stafford in that position.

WOLSELEY ATTACKS THE GLADSTONE GOVERNMENT.

A sensation has been caused by the publication of Lord Wolseley's dispatches denouncing the evacuation of the Sudan. He warns the government that on the withdrawal from Dongola, the whole province will be given up to anarchy and will revolt from civilization to barbarism. The withdrawal, he says, will not avert the struggle. El Mahdi in a few years will attack Egypt. The best policy, in both a military and financial point of view, would be to attack El Mahdi at Khartoum.

FRANCE.

A Napoleonic Manifesto.

PARIS, June 10.—The supporters of Victor Napoleon, son of Prince Napoleon, have issued an election manifesto. It declares war against Republican anarchy, proclaims no community with the revolutionists and appeals for the support of all who are opposed to the republic, promising them fair representation on the electoral lists.

The Conservatives Unpopular in Paris.

La République Française, speaking of the resignation of the Gladstone cabinet, says: "Europe must distrust a ministry wherein the wisdom of Sir Stafford Northcote can be annulled by the passionate impudence of the Earl of Salisbury and the petulance of Lord Randolph Churchill, when foreign questions demand so much coolness and tact."

SPAIN.

Cholera Gaining Headway.

MADRID, June 10.—The civil guards have evacuated their barracks, owing to the breaking out of cholera. Of four cases in the barracks three proved fatal. The men are now encamped in a village on the outskirts of the city. Measures are being taken thoroughly to fumigate and disinfect the barracks, as also all private houses in which cholera has appeared.

There were seven fresh cases of cholera in Valencia yesterday. The Affair at Calcasieu Pass.

PORT WORTH, TEX., June 9, 1885.

To the Editor of the Gazette: Does not your Austin correspondent err in quoting one Maj. W. L. Davidson as the author of "War Reminiscences" in your issue of the 7th inst. (was it not Thomas Ochiltree or Joseph Mulhatton?) Or possibly "Maj. D" referred to some other similar event. He certainly did not refer to the affair at Calcasieu Pass, La., for that event came off on May 6, not April 12, 1864. "Banks" did not send twelve gunboats up the Calcasieu to get in our rear. Gen. Tom Green did not detail Col. Griffin and my command to drive them back. Maj. D. nor any other officer captured 1474 prisoners and $35,000 at that point, no gunboat cast her side overboard, no safe was buried seventy-five yards toward the North or any other star, no extra clothing was captured, there was no high bluff to the banks as stated; no paucal ensued, no fifteen companies fled as stated, no 100 men left to burn bridges arrived as a support and no bridge was burned. The federal infantry was on the east bank of the river and Confederates were on the west bank, not the contrary as stated by the major, and in fact the major was not there himself. Col. Griffin was not cashiered as stated, nor was any charge of cowardice even broached against him. On the contrary he was complimented by Gen. Magruder, district commander for services on this occasion. His force consisted of 250 men detailed from a number of regiments for special duty, and four pieces of artillery from Crewsbar's artillery. The federal force under command of Acting-Master Dillingham, consisted of the iron steamship Granite City, eight guns, and the iron gunboat No. 45 (Wave), six guns, their crews and twenty-five men from the Thirty-sixth Illinois infantry. The last encamped on the east bank of the pass. The pass has no bluff banks, the country being low and flat, and the banks being about two feet high, and affording the attacking force no protection. The entire Confederate force was placed silently on the river bank, firing kneeling, the artillery on their rear firing over their heads. The engagement lasted one hour and twenty minutes, and was hotly contested. In less than thirty minutes two pieces of Crewsbar's battery were dismounted, and in fifty minutes more the two gunboats were helpless wrecks upon the water.

The Confederate loss was sixteen killed and ten wounded. The federal loss was one killed and thirty mortally wounded, nearly all dying soon after. They surrendered some 250 men besides the detachment from the Thirty-sixth Illinois infantry (twenty-five men), 250 beavers and 200 horses. The captain of the Wave made no such remark as the major credits him with, but did say afterwards that had he been able to slip his anchors he would have whipped Griffin badly. No lieutenant on these boats was or had ever been on the Hatteras or captured by the Alabama. Col. Griffin was a brave man of courage and ability, a graduate of West Point and had been in the old service. His strict discipline and in many cases too rigorous treatment of his troops, rendered him unpopular with his men, but not even his enemies thought to charge him with cowardice. Maj. Davidson evidently thought to perpetrate a piece of plebeian bravado on his imagination, but he does a cruel wrong to a good soldier, now at peace with earth and his enemies.
