Direct Shipping of Beeves From Fort Worth to Liverpool.

The Trade Explained by W. F. Somerville-Dealings in Thoroughbred Stock on This Market-Cattle Clatter.

Nub Pulliam of San Angelo must have string tied to his lucky streak. The other day he made a trade for a few hundred head of steers, and the fellow he traded with paid him $800 to let the trade fall through.

Baum & Garretson report the following sales of blooded stock during the past week: S. W. Burnett, San Antonio, two blooded heifers; Senator J. J. Jarvis, a heifer, two cows and a bull; Mr. Garvey, two heifers; Mr Jeffreys, a cow

Francis & Higginson of Southwest Texas obtained the best price of the season for the shipment of cows they made to St. Louis and Chicago about two weeks ago. They obtained $2.40 in St. Louis and $2.60 in Chicago. This would make their cows pan out about $14 a head.

The stockmen of Concho and Menard counties build better fences than their brethren of Tom Green. Five and six wires are the rule, and when anything is put into a pasture in these counties it is expected to be and generally is there when the owner goes after it .- [San Angelo Standard.

J. I. McDowell has bought a ranch twenty-five miles south of town, in Glasscock county, and will no longer be a citizen of Howard. He will, however, make Big Springs his headquarters, and while Glasscock gets him as a citizen, we will still have his irrepressible presence. -[Big Springs Pantagraph.

Dealings among local live stock men have been quite brisk during the past There has been something of a week. There has been something of a subsidence in the demand for feeders, there are numerous orders in for ses, mules, breeding stock and the ke, that keep dealers stirring about. The dealers in thoroughbred cattle are sustaining the reputation of Fort Worth as the great Southwestern mart for that kind of stock.

B. F. Northington has organized a party to go west from this city to Red Desert for the purpose of capturing a herd of seventy-five or a hundred buffalo that range in that section of the country Mr. Northington's idea is to obtain the calves and raise them out on a ranch at Sage creek, twenty miles south of this He is going to try the experiment of breeding them for the eastern markets.—[Rawlins (Wy. T.,) Journal.

W. F. Somerville of Fort Worth, speaking about the communication in yesterday's GAZETTE from Spinks & Co., live stock brokers of Liverpool, regard-ing the direct shipment of beeves from Fort Worth to Liverpool, said that when in England last summer, he had looked over the ground there with a view to the establishment of such a trade, and that while there were serious obstacles in the way of its immediate operation, he had come to the conclusion that was entirely feasible, and would prove of immense value to those who would go into such a business, well as to the cattlemen from whom the supplies for the trade would be drawn. When he came back to Fort Worth in October, he laid his plan before several expitalists and stockmen of this vicinity, Colonel R. E. Maddox, M. J. Hurley and others, who signified their willingness to embark in the business, and it was arranged to make a trial shipment at nce, but an unexpected decline in the Liverpool market put a stop to the busi-Mr. Somerville thinks ness for a time. an experimental shipment should be made in order to ascertain the possibilities of the scheme. He does not think that the conditions of the cattle business in Texas are just right at the present time, but with the assured location of stock yards at Fort Worth, and with the immense strides being taken in the cattle feeding industry in all parts of the states there is no reason why the cattle raisers should not pocket the commissions heretofore paid to middle men in Chicago, St. Louis and New York.

Northwestern Live Stock Journal: A Texas contemporary makes the estimate that in Texas, Indian Territory, New Mexico, Colorado, Arizona and Kansas there are fully 1,000,000 less cattle than in 1885, and we believe the estimate well and safely within bounds. Assuming the truth of the premise, the subject is one prolific of suggestive thought. countries named are in good part what is known as the breeding grounds, and only a small percentage of the cattle in those regions at any given time are steers. This would be the case especially with Texas in the year named, when for some years all her ranges and farms had been hunted out as with a finetoothed comb for young steers for the northwest drive; and the same was true to a greater or less extent of the other regions named, save, perhaps, Kansas and Colorado. And where ranges have been so well fixed for enormous increase, but have instead gone backward, there are lessons to be learned and valuable hints for the future to be gleaned. The reduction has been in the face of an enormous natural increase, or what must have been such under normal conditions. and has been in great part of she cattle. The she cattle that have gone to market are no longer on the range to atfect the returns, and their going has given false impression of overproduction. Men think they make allowances in the premises; but when the turn of the tide comes even the coolest calculator will find himself at fault. In the case of the evenly balanced scales, one pound taken from the one side and placed on the other makes a difference of two pounds between them. The effect of the reduction will be immense once the true state of affairs become apparent.

The cattlemen of New Mexico and Arizonia expect to be effected advant-ageously by the instituting of the American Meat Company of New Mexico and New York. The company has a capital of $25,000,000, of which but $10,000,000 is to be used at present, the remaining $15,000,000 lying in the treasury for future developments, and it has taken over many of the best ranches in the Southwest, both in New Mexico and Arizona. Among these are the celebrated Dorsey and Palo Blanco, the Delano & Dwyer, the Lake and the Peck ranches Colfax county, the Oak Grove and Dane outfit in Grant county. The purchases include the deeded lands, cattle, horses, houses, cor-rals, and in fact the entire outfit in each The company has also acquired the well known and favorably situated Santa Maria grant estate, just south of the line in Chihuahua. All the ranches are exceptionally well situated as to climate,

excelled either for raising or grazing cat-

In addition, the slaughtering and packing houses, with ice houses, refrigerators, etc., of Hammond & Co., at Kansas City, have been purchased, and these are supplemented by extensive feeding sheds now being arranged. Here the beef cattle, after feeding up to the best condition, are to be slaughtered, and the dressed product only will be shipped in the company's own refrigerator cars to the distributing points in the eastern cities. It has also purchased the extensive and successful storage warehouses and retail shops of O. Hammond, jr., at Baltimore and these are to be supplemented by similar establishments in New York, Philadelphia and Boston. The cattle-men of the country where this concern will operate feel that they have made themselves independent of the dressed beef monopolists by putting their affairs in the hands of a company so strong and influential.

A STORM PREDICTED.

The Coldest Weather of the Season was be On Us Within the Next Forty-eightstours.

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 12.-Rev. Irl R. Hicks of this city, who has received considerable fame as a weather prophet, predicts that there will be severe storms and the coldest weather of the season within forty-eight hours, and that the period of regular annual winter salstice storms between the 15th and 25th instants will extend the time of the disturbance. He also looks for a storm of exceptional intensity, a blizzard perhaps, on the 2d and 3d of January.

TEXARKANA.

Brock, the Cotton Belt Train Robber, on Trial Further Claims Against the Firm of A. Block.

Special to the Gazette. TEXARKANA, TEX., Dec. 12 .- In the Miller county circuit court to-day the ense of T. W. Swift vs. the Fire Association of Philadelphia was finally disposed of. It is an old suit and has been botly contested for several terms. It grew out of a loss sustained by the plaintiff by fire, which consumed his residence and furni-ture. He held a policy in the above com-pany for $2000. The insurance company refused to pay the loss, alleging false representation contained in the application for the policy, and a violation by the assured of the terms of the policy. The plaintiff claimed the whole amount of the insurance, but the jury brought in a verdict for him of $1700.

W. L. Brock, the Cotton Belt train robber, is now on trial before the court.

THE GAZETTE gave a full account of the robbery and an examination of Brock, who turned state's evidence. Three indictments were found against him by the Miller county grand jury, one for grand larceny, and two for attempt to murder. He pleaded guilty to the former charge but is fighting the others. It is thought he will get two years in the former case, and the others will perhaps not be decided until to-morrow. The wife of the accused is here attending the trial and seems deeply distressed. It will be remembered that a short time after the robbery this lady was noticed spending a good deal of money for Christmas presents at some town out west. Pinkerton's men followed up the clew and made the arrest.

Claims continue to arrive against the firm of A. Block reported by THE GAZETTE as closed yesterday evening, but no levies are made as the assets in are more than covered. Mr. Block has employed an able attorney here and intends to institute suit in the circuit court of Bowie county against Rice, Stix & Co. for $150,000 damages for suing out their attachment wrongfully

The grand jury of Miller county, to-day found a bill of indictment against young Spears who killed Dr. Beidler on Saturday-and was turned out on bond of $5000 of murder in the first degree, and he will be remanded to jail.

SAN ANTONIO SOCIAL EVENT.

The Daughter of an Ex-Rallway Vice-President Marries a Chicago Millionaire, opecial to the Gazette.

SAN ANTONIO, TEX., Dec. 12 .- The most notable and brilliant social event in this city in many years was the marriage this evening, at St. Mark's cathedral, of Miss Mollie Fronck, daughter of Colonel H. B. Andrews, ex-vice-president of the Southern Pacific Railroad, to Mr. John Philldrick Lattin, a young millionaire, of Chicago. The bride's trousseau came from Worth's at Paris. The floral decorations were provided by a noted florist of New Orleans, and the supper was prepared by a famous caterer of New York. The presents ranged in value from the conventional silver set to a $50,000 check from the father of the groom. The maid of honor was the beautiful daughter of United States Senator Bate of Tennessee. The bridal couple will leave the city tomorrow for New York via New Orleans. After remaining a few weeks in New York they will go to Europe on an extended tour.

A Family Feud,

Special to the Gazette. SAN AUGUSTINE, TEX., Dec. 12.-On last Saturday James T. Logg L. Loggins had a difficulty, W. L. Loggins knocking J. T. Loggins down and bruising him badly. On the way home. about six miles from town, the difficulty was renewed and a desperate hand-to-hand fight ensued, in which A. G. Loggins took part. He was badly braised up about the head and face. James T. Loggins was badly cut in the neck and head, but nt last accounts was doing well, W. L. Loggins was also struck across the head and knocked down. James T. and A. G. Loggins are brothers and W. L. Loggins is their cousin. Some say that James T. Loggins shot at W. L. Loggins. This difficulty, it is apprehended, is only the beginning of a series of difficulties. There are at least twenty fighting men in the two families, and all Lossingale Admitted to Bail. Special to the Gazette.

HEMPSTEAD, TEX., Dec. 12.-Justice of the Peace Robinson heard and decided the case of Joe B. Lossingale, Jr., for the killing of ex-Sheriff McDade, granting him bail in the sum of $5000.

About forty witnesses were summoned and left this afternoon for Houston in the case of Springfield and McDade for the killing of Alchin at this place in May last. The case comes up for trial to-morrow at Rouston.
