HALLOWE'EN PARTY AT MRS. E. M. DICKERSON'S.

Quite an enjoyable Halloween party was given at the residence of Mrs. E. M. Dickerson. Her spacious residence was tastefully decorated with bats, owls, black cats, hobgoblins, witches and jack-o-the-lanterns. The program began by each guest drawing his luck from the book of fate which was held by Rachel Hambrick. The ladies read their future in necromantic glasses, fairy floats and a dumb supper. Exactly at midnight each lady's ghost began to walk, and was only changed back to a mortal by some guest guessing her name. The participants were Mesdames Hattie Scott, Jessie Hambrick, Maggie Mitchell, C. W. Brown, Misses Juanita Adams, Lamb, Eureka Martin, Cornelia Bailey, Sophie Foster, Marion Lewis, Emma T. Cheers, Bessie, Willie and Ella Cockrill, O'Neil Frazier, Westella Burns, Elnora Beaden, Minnie and Hattie Bramlette, Lula Clayton, Messrs. L. M. Tillman, P. Carrington, Ernest Young, E. L. Stephens, P. E. Fraser, J. E. George, J. W. Belle, W. J. Browning, A. L. Fox, R. P. Cummings, A. S. Nuis, G. A. Drisdale, A. R. Penn, G. W. Johnson, R. B. McArthur, J. W. Burney, J. S. Scott, R. B. Pruett, F. Smith, Ruth Hambrick received at the door while Cerella Brown served the punch for the evening.

THE NONPARIEL ART CLUB.

The Nonpariel Art Club held its third annual exhibition of art at the home of Mrs. M. E. Bryant, South Market street, Tuesday, October 24th. For this occasion the Bryant home was brilliantly lighted and beautifully decorated in the club's colors, pink and green. After the guests assembled they were invited into the library, where the work done by the club during the year was on exhibition. Every member had prepared several pieces and every piece was indeed a work of art.

Passing back into the parlor the guests were seated, and Mrs. J. A. McMillan, the most charming president, in a few well chosen words reviewed the work of the club and introduced one representative from each of the other clubs of the city. Each responded most graciously. A delightful two-course menu was served, after which each "madame" presented her husband with a little token; and the guests departed, each wishing that "club birthdays come weekly instead of yearly."

HALLOWE'EN ENTERTAINMENT.

Mr. and Mrs. Fox and Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes gave a Halloween entertainment at the residence of N. Moores. The home was decorated with pumpkins heads, with their glaring eyes and grotesque faces. As the night was fastly fading away and the guests began to come in, every one was presented a cap and horn to recall their minds back to those days that the dryads had celebrated. The witches told the fortune of many, which was full of fun.

There was a contest that created a deal of enthusiasm during the night. At a late hour the goblins came and each one went away quietly to their homes. There was a three-course menu, which was served a la carte.

Those present were: Misses Mattie L. Allen, Willie M. Early, E. B. Northern, Noble Satterfield, Lula B. Northern, Bessie Satterfield, E. M. Akins, Della K. Ray, E. Powell Bond, E. Satterfield, Eddie Ray, Willie Hendrix, Julia Granberry, B. S. Scruggs, Estella Cummins, Leslie Allen, Ephania Moore and R. Stockard.

W. E. P. CLUB.

The W. E. P. Club met at the home of Mrs. Anna Matthews, 537 Ramsey street, Tuesday evening, November 7th, with full attendance. The meeting was called to order by the president. After all business was transacted, the club was served with a delicious ice course. The club adjourned to meet with Miss Georgia Moore on Fourteenth avenue, North, Tuesday evening, November 14th, hoping all members will be present, visitors welcome.

The Phyllis Wheatley Club will have a bazaar beginning December 18th and lasting through the week. We hope that all of the Xmas shoppers will pay us a call before purchasing Xmas presents for we mean to have anything on hand that you need. We are also going to serve lunch each day, so gentlemen and ladies, don't go home but come by and let the Phyllis Wheatley ladies serve you.

The People's Saving Bank has donated us their building for that week so you will find us right there. Don't forget the date, December 18th to December 23rd.

The Hubbard Hospital Club will entertain the public with an autumn festival at Odd Fellows' Hall, November 21-22 and 23rd. The H. T. G. M. Club will present an attractive program on the initial night. On the second evening the Algonquin Club will do the honors. The Bachelor Maid's Club will have a splendid program on the last night. These series of entertainments are expected to meet the unqualified approval of all. A great and good time is anticipated. Watch the Globe for display "ad" next week.

CARUTHERS—HILL.

Beautiful and impressive in its simple solemnization was the marriage of Miss Janie A. Hill and Mr. Eugene P. Caruthers at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Hill, Tuesday, October 31st, at 8 o'clock.

The nuptial music was charmingly rendered by Mrs. Mary Saunders and the wedding party entered the parlor to the strains of Mendelsohn's wedding march, being led by Miss Bessie Rhodes, a cousin of the bride. While the groom was attended by Mr. S. H. Rhodes, followed the bride and her father, Mr. P. A. Hill.

The bride was becomingly gowned in a white embroidery robe elaborately trimmed in lace and carried white carnations.

Mesdames Rhodes and Smith, assisted by Miss Lovie V. Blake received the guests.

Following the ceremony the guests enjoyed an informal reception.

The wedding presents were numerous and costly, thus attesting the undisputable popularity of the contracting parties. The groom is the son of one of the oldest families of Maury County. The bride descended from an honorable ancestry whose name is a household name in Nashville and Middle Tennessee.

GREENWOOD SOCIAL CLUB.

The Original Greenwood Social carried out a grand meeting Sunday of November 6th, which was one of the grandest outings of the season. Those who participated in the Outing were: Messrs. Sol. Johnson, Walter Swindoll, Luke Williams, Willie Price, Mrs. Mattie E. Smith, Misses Mable H. Smith, Frankie T. Trammell, Bessie B. Johnson

Y. M. L. CLUB.

"The Great Men of the Negro Race." This subject has been discussed at great length, and at various intervals, but in the capacity in which our president, Mr. Kinzer handled it, but few have ever heard. In merits of greatness, said Mr. Kinzer: "A great man is one who gives his life for his race," personating Booker T. Washington, the Moses of our race, for an example, he also mentioned others of less importance. The speaker so thoroughly portrayed the fundamental principles of greatness that routed the very rurals of our mind as to who of our race save Booker T. Washington, is great, and so the subject was converted in our minds to the great man of the Negro race." Other numbers of the program were "Tom O'Shanter," by Mr. Winston, and a "Solo," by Mr. J. E. Johnson. The club then partook of a tasty luncheon prepared by the hostess. Visitors at luncheon were Mrs. Dr. Hadley and Mr. Graves. Meeting adjourned to meet with Mr. Jas. Johnson at Young's Hotel, Cedar street.

VISITING MINISTERS SERVED DINNER.

Mr. Mon Martin, of McMinnville, gave a dinner Thursday evening at Young's Hotel in honor of a few of the elders and doctors attending the Tennessee Annual Conference at St. Paul. A dinner of several courses was served. The dining-room was beautifully decorated with cut flowers and ferns. Those to enjoy the dinner were Elders J. H. Smith, Jackson, N. P. Greggs and Drs. J. A. Jones, H. A. Stevens, D. A. R. Johnson and Ottaway Rich, of McMinnville.

NASHVILLE CHORAL SOCIETY.

The Nashville Choral Society in its work is surpassing the fondest hopes of its projectors. It is growing steadily and substantially, and is doing superb work in its study. The music from Arthur W. Tams Co., in New York, has come and some of the selections are about learned; nothing now remains but the shading and finishing. The society at present has between seventy-five and one hundred voices, for the most part, well-trained. The larger portion of the singers are fine music readers, making it unnecessary to spend much time upon the rudimentary aspect of singing, and indications point to a first-class artistic concert when the society makes its debut to the Nashville public. It is a permanent organization which has entered upon the execution of broad plans which will undoubtedly form a large part of the life of Nashville. With a view of making it as representative as possible, as well as effective, the management is desirous of enlarging the chorus to two hundred and fifty voices, and extends a hearty invitation to all who can sing and read music to join the organization.

Applications for membership may be sent or presented to any one of the following: Messrs. H. A. Cameron, T. B. Hardiman, S. S. Caruthers, A. G. Price, J. I. Watson, W. E. Washington, Mesdames T. Clay Moore, H. A. Cameron, J. D. Ballentyne, C. O. Hadley, Laura Allen, Misses Hattie Caruthers, Lady Emma Phillips and Eva Green. Or if this is inconvenient apply to any member of the society. The meetings are held every Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock at the First Baptist Church, Eighth avenue, North.

PUBLISHING BOARD MEETING.

Work for the Year Forecasted and Thoroughly Outlined at the Meeting Tuesday.

At an adjourned meeting of the National Baptist Publishing Board, which was held Tuesday, in the office of the Secretary, 523 Second avenue, North, a forecast of what the board intended to do for the ensuing twelve months with a well outlined campaign was agreed upon. At this meeting, Rev. J. P. Robinson, D. D., of Little Rock, Ark., chairman of the Home Mission Board, presided, which is the court-sy usually shown him in the annual meeting by chairman Clark. The most important part of the work transacted was the adoption of the reports of the several committees, namely: on Sunday-School Work, on Missionaries and on Publications. Secretary Boyd brought before the board quite an elaborate report of the Publishing work. Three members, whose term expired in October, were re-elected as were all of the old officers. The Board went into an elaborate discussion of the work of the denomination at Key West, Fla., and on the Canal Zone in Panama, where it holds some
