OLD DELPHAS

For the past week the weather has been very unfavorable to farming. The farmers are getting ready for corn planting.

Mr. Brutus Sanders, prominent farmer, is preparing for a big corn crop this year. He raised tobacco last year. If he is done with the weed, he is not the only one.

In conversation at a country store, the question was asked, "Did tobacco hurt you last year?" "No, but it hurt my creditors," was the reply. Some say tobacco is a curse to our nation, while others say it is a blessing. I will agree to the blessing, for it has brought a cash system to the state of Kentucky, and that's a blessing, we all know.

The school at Woodland Height closed Tuesday, May 3, and the teacher, Miss Lola Fortune, has returned to her home at Berea.

Miss Fortune was much liked by her pupils and by the patrons of the district. She will be missed by many friends whom she made during the school term.

The Rev. Stoper, pastor at Synloam church, filled his regular appointment the second Sunday. A large crowd was present.

Mr. Herbert Stocker and wife were guests of relatives at Cuzick Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Mary Jane Isbell and Mrs. Gerti Stocker were guests of Mrs. Mary Ann Agee last week.

Mrs. D. Shifflett and Mrs. Belle Herring were guests of Mrs. R. R. Johns last week.

Mrs. Cordia Sanders and Miss Bessie Masters were guests of Mrs. Ellen Chaney and family at Cuzick Sunday.

Mr. William Woods, of Jessamine county, has been visiting his daughter, Mrs. Minnie Perkins, at this place.

Sunday School at this place is progressing nicely, large crowds attending and much interest manifested.

Mr. Elijah Comley has been visiting his son, Mrs. Smilie Comley, at Edenton.

Rev. W. L. Peel will fill his regular appointment at Bethel church the third Sunday.

Mr. Irvine Isbell spent a day with his brother, William Isbell, in Garrard county, last week.

Mr. Ben Foster and wife spent Sunday with his relatives near Cuzick.

Mr. Elbert Sanders entertained a large number of his friends Thursday night at his home with music and singing. All of his guests enjoyed the evening very much.

Mrs. Nancy Fullilove, who has been ill for some time, died at her home Saturday. Funeral services were held at the home Sunday morning at 10 o'clock by Rev. Fred Sanders, after which the body was laid to rest in the Gilhard cemetery. Mrs. Fullilove was 66 years old. She had been a member of the Baptist church for 42 years. She leaves two daughters, Mrs. Belle Hughes and Mrs. Elois Perkins; three sons, Brutus, Willie and Bryan, and her husband, Mrs. Jones Fullilove, besides many other friends to mourn her loss.

GREAT MOVEMENT FOR STATE LIVESTOCK

Is Campaign for Purebred Sire, by Louisville Exchange, Says Prof. Harris

Declaring the better bred livestock movement of the Louisville Live Stock Exchange to be the greatest ever undertaken for the livestock interests of the state, Prof. W. J. Harris, of the staff of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture, in an address to farmers at the Bourbon Stockyards quoted figures to show what results would be if continued until properly bred animals were developed.

He asserted that the failure of the cotton crops was forcing the entire south into the livestock industry and that it was only a question of time when the south would become the livestock producing center of the nation. With the herds of Kentucky virtually the only ones of character and reputation in the South and the South must turn to this state as the nearest for assistance in founding and extending its livestock industry, he said.

No section of the world approaches Kentucky in climate favorable to raising livestock, while its wonderful limestone waters and blue grass make it ideal for that purpose. Prof. Harris urged the buying of pure bred bulls at the Farmers Better Sire Sale to be held at the Bourbon Stock Yards by the Exchange and the Kentucky Pure Bred Livestock Association on June 2, as the first step toward bringing this state to its proper position as a leader of the South in livestock development.

Prof. Harris said that figures given him showed that almost a quarter of a million of beef cattle had been handled through the Bourbon Stock Yards last year of which 90 per cent at least were scrub or nondescripts. He declared that they represented a loss in profits that would have been made if they had been high grade of from $900,000 to $1,800,000. The address of Prof. Harris follows:

I want to compliment the Live Stock Exchange for the movement they have undertaken, and putting on this pure bred sire sale campaign, and interest they have taken in the fat stock show, also for bringing it here to the yards where it belongs instead of at the fair grounds, where it was out of place.

If this purebred sire campaign is successful and I don't know of any reason why it should not be, it will be the greatest thing ever done in the livestock industry in the state of Kentucky. This is a most completely organized movement and is reaching more people through its systematic publicity campaign, than any I have every known of. Every county is well informed as to this pure bred sale.

I don't know why we could not dispose of a large number of bulls at a fair price. I understand the breeders in the state who are consigning these bulls don't expect a big price. All they want is a fair price and one which the farmers can afford to pay, to carry along with the cows they now have in order to make the farmer money. If sold at a reasonable price, every farmer will be pleased with his purchase, will see what a good pure bred bull can do and the first thing you know, will be saving back some of his heifers sired by this bull, and when they get old enough to breed, will dispose of this bull to a neighbor and buy a still better bull. This better bull will be used on these graded heifers, which he purchased at say $75 to $100 per head. After he realizes in dollars and cents that the pure bred bull is the superior of the scrub and nondescript, he will want only pure bred because he will see that the pure bred will make $5 per head more on market steers.

I think the Live Stock Exchange is coming to the occasion and are just now putting the proposition before the farmers in Kentucky in such a way that they are bound to realize the benefits of taking hold. Now that will not mean so many more pure bred breeders in the state, that is not the idea of the movement, it

THE U. S. ROYAL CORD

Advances tire—and a famous tread. Acknowledged among motorists and dealers alike as the world's foremost example of Cord tire building. Always delivering the same repeated economy, tire after tire, and season after season.

The stripe around the sidewall is registered as a trade-mark in the U. S. Patent Office.

How you can measure tire value in 1921 —

OFTEN it's surprising the number of different tire views that come out in a chance talk at the curb or in the leisure of a friend's garage.

Almost every day you come across the man human enough to believe he can outguess the cut-price tag on "job-lots," "discontinued lines" and "surplus stocks."

His opposite is the hard-pan car owner who sticks year in and year out to a standard brand as the only rational economy.

Many will remember the scarcity of U. S. Tires last year.

A hardship at the time, but a benefit now. There are no U. S. Tires to be worked off—no accumulations—no forced selling of any U. S. brand—no shipping of tires from one part of the country to another to "find a market."

There are 92 U. S. Factory Branches. Each one gets its share of U. S. Tires. There is a broad, constant, even distribution of U. S. Tires always going on from these Branches to the dealer.

Buy a U. S. Tire anywhere—in a community of 500 people or even less—and you get a fresh, live tire of current production—with all the original service and mileage the factory put into it.

The owner of a medium or light-weight car stands on equal ground with every other car owner.

Any United States Tire is a universal full money's worth—backed up with a leadership policy of equal quality, buying convenience and price for everybody.
