REVIEW

OF Affairs in Louisville's Business Circles For the Year
New Changes

Merchants Might Have Fared Warmer in Ritual of the Past.

The Majority of Emotions Have Weathered the Storm Well.

MANY IMPROVEMENTS COMING

The pace that looks over the United States in October of 1907 is doubtless a stimulating one to the business classes, as the men of business and finance in the Metropolis are generally getting away from their old ways of operating.
While the year 1907 is not comparatively dull, many of the secrets that have been exposed in the past few years have been brought to the surface, and the men of business are now operating with a new and brighter eye for the coming year. The commercial class, like Louisville, is now more than ever necessary for the success of the business, and the men of business are looking to the future with a brighter eye than ever before.
