

WE DO PRINTING
FIRST CLASS WORK
Give This Office Your Next Order.

WE DO PRINTING
FIRST CLASS WORK
Give This Office Your Next Order.

VOLUME XXXIII.—NO. 14.

LOUISVILLE, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 3, 1914.

PRICE FIVE CENTS.

PEEVED.

The Junior Order Perturbed Over Recent Fraternal Day Fizzle.

Sore on the Mayor, Chief of Police and This Publication in Particular.

Scores Its Brother Members For Hiding Behind Telegraph Poles.

MAD AT BINGHAM AND DAVIES

The local Junior Order of United American Mechanics are still real peeved over the Fraternal day fizzle and are still busy holding indignation meetings, passing resolutions, condemning everyone that failed to march or take part in the celebration at the ark.

They are so mad at the Kentucky Irish American for the expose of their little scheme to get a lot of free advertising out of a supposed fraternal day celebration that in every other line of their "Banner Bulletin" and "Louisville Council Booster" they vent their spleen on the editors of this paper, but at the same time pay a handsome compliment to its power and influence, when it is taken into consideration that the Kentucky Irish American was the only paper in this section which opposed the Fraternal day celebration, and that opposition was due to the fact that it was planned to hold it under Junior Order auspices and with Junior motives controlling. The following is an extract from their bulletin relating to the parade:

The Juniors showed up well, but could have done better. HOWEVER, WE ARE NOT GOING TO CHIDE OUR WEAK-KNEED BROTHERS WHO HID BEHIND TELEPHONE POLES AND LOOKED ON, FOR FEAR OF BEING SEEN IN PUBLIC WITH THEIR UNITED BROTHERS. A guilty conscience needs no accusers, and next year's courage will take place of moral cowardice and a demonstration of Juniors will parade the streets of Louisville that will make our patriotic friends of the Emerald Isle who have thrown so many buckets of cold water on this first attempt to grasp fraternal hands, regardless of political ideologies, sit up and take notice.

Notice the above, referring to the weak-kneed brothers who hid behind telephone poles, which to an outsider looks as if some of the Juniors were a little ashamed of their membership or the grand patriotic order as they usually style it, but the public at large would hardly expect the country's self-appointed defenders to hide behind telephone poles, which seems to be a habit, especially if we were at war. The writer even singles out one Junior, and says: "Stogie Rich Griffith was seen hiding behind a telegraph pole on Fraternal day. Shame on you, Rich!" The referring to the drill team's part he grows flowery as follows:

The drill team came in sturdy profile, looking manly and determined, that gave credit to their respective councils. Then our boys in special white, emblematic of purity, that put the lie to the dark lanterns of well-meaning, but misguided, citizens who are long on gab, but short on the essential gray matter, their small ego, compels them to make noise to attract attention that they really exist. Then came the rank and file, the bulwark of modern society, the members in citizens' clothes, afoot, autos and hacks.

Notice that last little bouquet about the bulwark of society, which is humorous when, as was called attention to in these columns, not a dozen in line being known to anyone along the line of march, and even the name of the writer does not appear in this year's directory. But for real pluck look at this slant at Mayor Buschmeyer, Attorney W. W. Davies, Judge R. W. Bingham and Chief of Police Lindsey:

The Honorable Mayor, W. W. Davies and Robt. W. Bingham failed to show up. Perhaps they may explain some time in the future for this slant at fraternity when seeking a place in some political gift of 20,000 fraternal brothers. The Chief of Police did not honor this occasion with his presence on a pretext of too much work at the State Fair. However, other parades have been held, and no business was too urgent to find our police force in line. We did not need them, however, for the orders are well disciplined and can take care of themselves, but we extended the courtesy to indicate our high appreciation of our public servants.

Their appreciation of our public servants is pretty good when every one realizes how the Juniors were busy at the last municipal election trying to get rid of these same public servants, and their threat of not supporting Mayor Buschmeyer and the other gentlemen is pretty weak, as they did their "durdut" to beat Buschmeyer, and they will not support the other gentlemen mentioned unless subscribing to their principles of proscription.

Here is another little tribute to the Kentucky Irish American, which we take pleasure in reprinting, and wish to call attention to the fact that the prominent men referred to are limited, the only one mentioned in the official organ of this society being Col. P. H. Callahan, to whom this paper paid its respects last week.

Owing to vicious attacks having been made on the J. O. U. A. M. and Banner Home in particular, by a certain publication in this city that has aroused the indignation of not only the Juniors, but other orders belonging to the Fraternal Association, steps have been taken to correct such savage attacks upon a movement intended to boost fraternal work. Letters have been received from men of prominence repudiating any connection with this paper claiming to represent certain religious ideas. The J. O. U. A. M. is in the field to stay, and Banner Council has nothing to say in private that it will not back up in public. Jas. Pendragon.

This is pretty sassy talk of the Juniors, but in reply it can be stated that whenever a movement is started with the purpose and intent of ostracizing Catholics, as in the recent Fraternal day plans, the Kentucky Irish American will again be to the front in denouncing the perpetrators, and if the recent affair was a Fraternal day for all societies WHY WERE THE CATHOLIC FRATERNAL ORDERS IGNORED? Then, again, if all were to meet on an equal footing why were the preliminary meetings called in the home of an organization whose members have as much use for members of the Catholic religion as the devil has for holy water, the principal leaders of which have carried their antipathy in politics, business and everywhere else? Pretty near the same condition of affairs existed in the recent Covington celebration, the Junior Order attempting to monopolize the parade feature and hog all the glory, which caused such a protest from other Covington societies that when matters were adjusted satisfactorily the Juniors became indignant, taking their doll rags home and refusing to participate. As stated before if there is to be a fraternal celebration in Louisville next year, let it be for all societies regardless of creed, and any attempt to the contrary will be met by hearty opposition in these columns, which as the Juniors concede compelled some of their members to hide behind telegraph poles this year.

INTO NEW HOME.

Members and visitors who attended the meeting of Division 1, A. O. H., on Thursday night of last week, the first held in their new home in the Liederkranz building, Sixth and Walnut, were pleased with the hall and expressed approval of the change of quarters. President Tarry occupied the chair and reported the proceedings of the State convention. Chairman Cleary reported none on the sick list, and after the regular business had been transacted Sergeant John Maloney, President of Division 3; Councilman Charles Finegan and Daniel O'Keefe, Secretary of the County Board, were called upon. They congratulated the division on its new home and predicted that success would follow the change. Thomas Keenan and Daniel McCarthy also delivered short addresses, in which were kind words and a tribute to County President Connolly. They counseled unity and fellowship among the members and urged their members to become active in the work of arousing interest in the division and order. President Tarry, before closing the meeting, pledged the new State Board his best efforts and his time for organization, saying he will leave nothing undone that will tend toward increasing the membership everywhere.

KNIGHTS OF ST. JOHN.

St. Michael's Commandery, Knights of St. John, turned out in large numbers last Sunday morning at St. Peter's church, where the members attended their anniversary high mass and received holy communion. The Rev. Father Edmund Kauer, the pastor, was the celebrant and in the sermon dwelt eloquently on Knighthood, which exists today with but slight variation from that of the past ages. Urging the Knights to be firm in the faith, they should ever prove loyal and serve their God and country. Following the afternoon vespers the Knights assembled in St. Peter's Hall, where handsome gold medals were awarded to Col. Theo. Poppe, H. H. Schneider, Gus Oberhausen, Frank Howe and Leopold Steoth, who had been members for twenty-five years. The presentation was made by Father Keiser, who said the medals were but an outward sign of the heartfelt feelings of the members, who joined him in the hope that the five thus honored would receive the diamond medal of the Knights. The anniversary was concluded with a social session that all present enjoyed.

COVINGTON.

There is every prospect that the big torchlight parade to be given under the auspices of the Knights of Columbus at Covington on the evening of Discovery day will find a splendid representation from the various fraternal organizations of the city. The idea has met with a ready response and the preliminary meetings are being attended by large numbers of delegates. The Knights have decided to take the last place in the parade, while the Foresters have asked for the second last place. The K. of C. division will be headed by John Weber's band. In addition to the organizations previously published the K. of C. committee has sent out invitations to other fraternal societies, including the Red Men, the Macabees, the Moose, Ben Hur, Catholic Knights of America and others.

OCTOBER

The Month That All Catholics Devote to the Holy Rosary.

Impressive Religious Services For Tomorrow at St. Louis Bertrand's.

President Wilson Asks That All Join and Pray For Peace.

GLORIOUS SIGN OF REDEMPTION

October is the month of the Holy Rosary, during which this, the foremost among the practices of piety which the church has approved in honor of Christ's Virgin Mother, is said every evening in nearly all our churches. No formula of prayer has done more excellent service for the church militant in her efforts to withstand the virulent attacks of her enemies from within, no less than from without the fold, than the rosary. We owe to it not alone the victory of the medieval church over the Albigensian heresy, but also the triumph of the faith in Ireland against the allotments of error and the persecutions of the penal code. In Germany, too, the rosary has been the people's comfort in time of trial.

The Feast of the Holy Rosary, instituted by Pope St. Pius V., recalls to us the victory won by the Christian army over the Turks at Lepanto, on October 7, 1571. It is always celebrated on the first Sunday in October. In Louisville the most elaborate and impressive celebration will take place at St. Louis Bertrand's church. At the solemn vespers there will be a parade of the sodalities and children carrying fifteen beautiful banners and presenting a scene but seldom witnessed.

President Wilson has also asked that Rosary Sunday be observed throughout the United States as a day of prayer for the restoration of peace, and therefore the attendance tomorrow should include every Catholic and our churches should be filled to their capacity.

Many will ask, what is the rosary? You smile, but do you know? The grains of which it is composed—it matters little whether they be pearl or coral, ivory or wood—merely serve to count the number of prayers to sustain and fix the attention on the mind and heart by sensible signs, but the cross attached to them is a sign of strength, life and salvation—the glorious sign of redemption—a sign ever memorable for Christians. Let us hear the words of Lacordaire—the eagle of the pulpit of Notre Dame de Paris—in his life of St. Dominic, the inspired author of the devotion of the rosary: "The conferences of the rosary are multiplied beyond number; there is hardly a Christian in the world that does not possess, under the name of the beads, a portion of the rosary. Who has not heard at eventide the grave voice of peasants reciting the Ave Maria, in two choirs? Who has not met processions of pilgrims passing through their fingers the grains of the rosary, and charming the length of their journey by the alternative repetition of the name of Mary? Whenever anything becomes perpetual and universal it necessarily contains a mysterious harmony with the needs and the destinies of man. The rationalist smiles to see a procession of men pass by reciting the same words over and over again. He that is enlightened by a better light understands that love has but one word, and that in saying it forever it never repeats."

Imagine if you can a formula of prayer more universal, easier and better suited to the capacity of all, more sublime, and at the same time more simple. The rosary is a memorial, an abridgment of all Christianity; it is the breviary of all pious laics; it is an alphabet for simple souls, for children and for good old people. But for the learned, for men of genius, for those that wish to meditate deeply, it is a sublime book, the vastest compendium of theology; it is an immense and unfathomable sea, like the mysteries it commemorates.

The rosary is fit, some one will say, only for children, devotees, simple and ignorant persons. What! St. Dominic, founder of the Order of Friars Preachers, celebrated for his profound learning and his eloquent preaching—St. Dominic recited the rosary and he found in it more than his intelligence could fathom and his heart contain. What! St. Thomas Aquinas, the angelical doctor, the genius of theology, who had fathomed the depths of metaphysics, who had gathered up and Christianized all that was true and beautiful in pagan antiquity—he who is even to this day considered the loftiest and vastest human intelligence. St. Thomas Aquinas recited the rosary, and he found therein all the sublimity of his genius. What! Father Lacordaire, that magnificent intelligence, that noble heart, that thundering and sympathetic orator, that captivating apostle of enthusiastic and studious youth, wore his rosary at his girdle; he recited it, as did St. Dominic and St. Thomas, and he found in it an abyss for his mind and an ocean for his heart.

GENEROUS PENSION.

The Holy Father has assigned to the sisters of the late Pope a most

COMING EVENTS.

October 9—Euchre and lotto in Bertrand Hall, the evening only. St. Cecilia's Sodality—Euchre and lotto in St. Cecilia Hall, Wednesday, October 14.

St. Ann's church—Euchre and lotto, afternoon and evening, Friday, October 16, in school hall.

October 15—Euchre and lotto for benefit of St. Bridget's church in parish hall.

October 15, 16, 17—Bazaar in St. Columba's new school hall for benefit of building fund.

October 21, 22—Euchre and lotto given by Trinity Council, Y. M. C., in hall, Baxter and Morton.

October 30-31—Bazaar under auspices of Young Ladies' Sodality of St. Patrick's church in school hall.

November 25—Euchre and lotto by Division 3, A. O. H., at Heptasoph Hall.

generous pension, which will enable them to live in comfortable circumstances for the rest of their days. To signify the pleasure with which the municipality of Pegli have received the news of the Pope's election the square in which the Pope lived as a child has been named Piazza Benedetto XV.

RECENT DEATHS.

Many friends sincerely mourn the death of Mrs. Gladys McDermott, beloved wife of Henry McDermott, who died Monday at her home, 1610 Dumont street. She was fifty years old, and besides her husband leaves several brothers and sisters. Mrs. McDermott was widely known for her charitable work and her loss will be felt in St. William's parish. Her funeral took place Wednesday morning, when requiem high mass, celebrated by Father George Connor, who also preached the funeral sermon, and besides her husband, she was buried in the cemetery of St. William's.

A large number of deeply sympathetic friends attended the funeral mass of Mrs. Lina E. Stutz, which was celebrated Wednesday morning in St. Bridget's church. Five months ago her husband, Oscar Stutz, was called to his eternal rest, and friends noticed that the grief of her heart never knew relief until death. Mrs. Stutz was a native of Germany, but came to Louisville when a girl. She is survived by two sons, Oscar Stutz, who is in the wall paper business, and Frank M. Stutz, President of the Stratton & Terstege Company; two daughters, Mrs. Josephine Schneider and Lula Bowes, and eight grandchildren.

SURPRISE FOR MEMBERS.

The members of Division 4, A. O. H., were given the surprise of their lives when they entered the hall on entering their quarters in Bertrand Hall they found that since their last meeting the hall had been renovated, painted and decorated and electric lights installed with two chandeliers of handsome design, the improvements making it one of the prettiest and most convenient halls in the city. Reports on the recent State convention were made by the delegates and addresses were made by County President W. J. Connolly and John M. Maloney, President of Division 3, both discussing the proceedings of the convention and the changes in the by-laws that were adopted. The following list of alternates to the county convention were chosen: M. J. McDermott, Fred Mooney, J. J. Score, L. D. Meaney and Thomas Farrell. The convention will be held at Bertrand Hall on Sunday afternoon, October 11, and will convene at 2 o'clock.

SOUNDS STRANGE.

Those who for years read with interest the cablegrams of T. P. O'Connor, the Irish home rule leader in England, are surprised over his strange utterances since England declared war. O'Connor has evidently turned the Irish volunteers and aligned himself with the English soldiery. His former admirers will find it hard to believe the following, which he sent the Sunday press from London:

In Liverpool last Monday night, 14,000 people, mostly Tories, greeted with the same enthusiasm learned, for men of genius, for those that wish to meditate deeply, it is a sublime book, the vastest compendium of theology; it is an immense and unfathomable sea, like the mysteries it commemorates.

The rosary is fit, some one will say, only for children, devotees, simple and ignorant persons. What! St. Dominic, founder of the Order of Friars Preachers, celebrated for his profound learning and his eloquent preaching—St. Dominic recited the rosary and he found in it more than his intelligence could fathom and his heart contain. What! St. Thomas Aquinas, the angelical doctor, the genius of theology, who had fathomed the depths of metaphysics, who had gathered up and Christianized all that was true and beautiful in pagan antiquity—he who is even to this day considered the loftiest and vastest human intelligence. St. Thomas Aquinas recited the rosary, and he found therein all the sublimity of his genius. What! Father Lacordaire, that magnificent intelligence, that noble heart, that thundering and sympathetic orator, that captivating apostle of enthusiastic and studious youth, wore his rosary at his girdle; he recited it, as did St. Dominic and St. Thomas, and he found in it an abyss for his mind and an ocean for his heart.

IRELAND INVITED.

An Irish flavor will be given to the centenary celebrations of the independence of the South American republics, Argentina and Chile. Ireland is invited to participate in the celebrations in 1916, and a Commission from Argentina, T. J. Dunne, has been invited to Ireland to collect memorials of Admiral William Brown, who was born in Foxford, County Mayo. Among the exhibits will be photographs of Foxford and of the house in which the naval hero was born. Chile will also send to Ireland for memorials O'Higgins, O'Brien, Lynch and other naval and military heroes of the liberation of that State. The Irish-born population of Argentina is 40,000, and there are several hundreds of Irishmen in Chile also including professors in the University of Santiago.

BALTIMORE

American Federation of Catholic Societies Hold Annual Convention.

Bishop Schrembs Denounces Attitude of Secretary of State.

Immense Parade Tuesday Reviewed by Cardinal and Many Bishops.

TRIBUTE TO CARDINAL GIBBONS

Unity of action to accomplish the purposes and aims of the organization was the watchword at all of the gatherings held during the first day of the thirteenth annual convention of the American Federation of Catholic Societies at Baltimore. The principal event was the opening of the convention on Sunday with a Pontifical mass at the Cathedral. Bishop Owen B. Corrigan was the celebrant of this mass, and Cardinal Gibbons, visiting Bishops, Monsignori and priests, as well as many seminarians and acolytes, were in the sanctuary. Bishop Joseph Schrembs, of Toledo, created a stir in the crowded edifice when, in the course of his sermon he denounced in unsparring terms the attitude of Secretary of State Bryan toward conditions in Mexico, and the alleged failure of Bryan to put into practice those principles he has so often outlined in brilliant rhetoric.

Bishop Schrembs began his sermon with a warm tribute to Cardinal Gibbons and to Baltimore, which he styled the cradle of the Catholic church in America. Gradually he led up to his point. "We must get away from petty selfishness," he said. "We must get away from the narrow parochial bonds; we must even loose sight of diocesan demarcation. Our endeavors and our spirit must be as broad as that charity dispensed to us by our Maker. We read in the papers today of some great wrongs being suffered by peoples of other lands. We remark how sorry we are for them—and then pass on to the next item of news. To show you what organized effort can do," continued the Bishop, "I will give an illustration. About a year ago a Jew in far-away Russia, was accused of 'ritual murder'—that is, he was charged with taking the life of a Christian child that he might use the blood in a religious ceremony. When this charge was laid, the poor Jew found a Government only too ready to give credence to the charge. It was forbidden he should suffer the penalty of death. Then, what a righteous indignation stirred the world! What a storm of protest! Men of all faiths and men of no faith were appealed to by members of the Jewish faith the world over. It was their sense of justice and their sacred religious convictions that the cry was heard. That solitary Jew was released, and the blot of ritual murder wiped from the escutcheon of the Jewish race.

"Let me pursue this illustration further. In Mexico, not one man, but thousands upon thousands of men and women have been outraged in their sacred religious convictions. Churches have been closed and destroyed. Priests and other religious have been exiled, tortured and in some instances brutally murdered. Nuns, devoted women who have sacrificed their lives in the service of their fellow creatures, have been taken from their cloisters and handed over for what is worse than death—to the shameful lust of a brutal soldiery.

"Where are those other powers who stand sponsor for those in authority in Mexico today. Who prevent other nations from coming in, yet do nothing themselves? It was that Bishop Schrembs made his reference to Bryan and the Cross of Gold speech, when he exclaimed 'a political genius, now in authority in the direction of the affairs of our country, cried out several years ago, in a moment of political exultation: 'You shall not press down the crown of thorns upon the brow of labor; you shall not crucify mankind upon the cross of gold!' When that speech was uttered I applauded and remarked: 'Well done.' But, in this day, I am tempted to say to the political genius: 'Here indeed is a splendid field for translating rhetoric into action.' The Federation of Catholic Societies should become fully conscious of its duty to aid the downtrodden. To promote justice and to give protection to the outraged."

After the mass Cardinal Gibbons delivered the Papal blessing to the delegates after making a few remarks, in which he praised Bishop Schrembs for his address and welcomed the visitors to Baltimore. At the afternoon session of the Social Service Commission was held with Bishop Muldoon presiding, when reports showing the growth of the social service work were read. Bishop Donahue preached at the vespers at night, and after the mass for deceased members the convention was formally opened Monday morning. Tuesday night the feature was the grand concert of 5,000 voices, and on Tuesday the monster parade was held, passing in review before Cardinal Gibbons and many Bishops, the Governor, Mayor and ELABORATE ANNIVERSARY.

With splendid and impressive religious ceremony the silver jubilee of the founding of the St. John Sick Benevolent Society was celebrated last Sunday at St. Vincent de Paul church, Shelby and Oak streets, more than 300 members and friends of the society participating. The celebration began with a jubilee high mass at 6:30 o'clock in the morning, when the members received holy communion in a body. Father Thome was the celebrant of the mass, and also of the vespers in the afternoon, when the blessing of the handsome new silk flag of the society took place. Rev. Father Rudolph Ruff, formerly of St. Vincent de Paul's but now pastor of St. Patrick's at Stithon, preached a patriotic sermon on the flag and its significance, urging his hearers to never fail in their duty to their country and their church. The anniversary concluded with a sumptuous banquet at 8 o'clock in the evening, at which John Dodt, the first President and only living charter member, presided most happily as toastmaster. Right Rev. Bishop O'Donoghue and other members of the clergy and a number of prominent citizens were the guests of honor. When justice had been done the menu responses to toasts were made by Rev. Father Berreheim, Lieut. Gov. McDermott, Benedict Elder and Edward J. Reiss, for the past twelve years President of the society. This society was organized in 1839 by the Rev. Father John Heising and has a membership now of over 200 men. During its existence the St. John Society has done an incalculable amount of charity work and its influence has been widely felt.

GREAT HOLY NAME RALLY.

The annual rally of the Holy Name societies of Campbell and Kenton counties was held last Sunday at Bellevue. Indoor exercises were held in the morning at St. Anthony's church, while the great outdoor services were conducted in Spink's ball park. The parade consisted of seven divisions, each headed by a band. Over 12,000 men were in the parade, headed by the city officials, police and fire departments and the Grand Marshal and his staff, and marched over the principal streets of Bellevue and Dayton. Rev. I. M. Ahmann, of Covington, delivered the principal address of the day. Judge E. J. Kennedy, of West Covington, also spoke. Right Rev. C. P. Maes, Bishop of the Covington diocese, who returned from Oregon Friday, reviewed the parade at St. Anthony's church. A male chorus of 100 voices under the direction of Prof. R. J. Schiffer, of Newport, furnished the music. The city was decorated with flags and bunting bearing the insignia of the Holy Name societies.

AWFUL DEATH.

George W. Everin, a well known railroad engineer, and Peter G. Allen, his fireman, met an awful fate on Friday, when their engine went down into a ravine on the L. & N. railroad between Turners and Engleish, where four spans of a wooden trestle gave way beneath the train's weight. Both men went down with the engine, and if not instantly killed were scalded to death. When the bodies were recovered they were removed to their homes in this city. Engineer Everin resided with his parents, Stephen and Helen Everin, 2933 South Third street. One brother and six sisters survive him. His funeral was held Sunday from Holy Name church. Rev. Father John O'Connor conducted the sad obsequies. The fireman resided at 747 South Eighteenth street, and is survived by his wife and an infant child; his mother, Mrs. Mary A. Allen, and a brother and sister. He was twenty-three years old, and had been with the L. & N. since 1911. Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at the Sacred Heart church, conducted by the Rev. Father Walsh.

LEXINGTON.

News was received in Lexington on Wednesday of the death of Sister Lucy Mother Superior of St. Mary's Academy, Leonardtown, Md., who died last Tuesday. Before taking the veil she was Miss Mary Danahy, of Lexington, daughter of the late T. J. Danahy, who at one time was a member of the City Council. Sister Lucy was forty-three years old and had been a nun since 1895. Five years ago she was made Mother Superior of the Church of the Annunciation Academy at Pine Bluff, Ark., and was transferred to Maryland last June. John H. Danahy, of the Henry Clay Fire Insurance Company, of Lexington, is her brother, and Mrs. J. W. Foley and Miss Johanna Danahy are her sisters. Her burial took place at Nazareth on Friday.

HOLY HOUR.

Holy Hour devotions are now held at St. Patrick's and St. Louis Bertrand's churches every Thursday night from 7:30 to 8:30 o'clock, in honor of Christ's suffering in the Garden of Gethsemane. At both churches there is a noticeable increase in the attendance each week. The Very Rev. James P. Cronin, V. G., and his assistant, Rev. Father McAleer, alternate in conducting the services at St. Patrick's, and at St. Louis Bertrand's they are made impressive and attractive by Rev. Father Crowley, O. P., the prior.

TAKES IN WORLD.

The world-wide St. Vincent de Paul Society is organized and active in fifty-one countries of the world.

REGISTRATION

Days Next Tuesday and Wednesday For Those Of All Parties.

As in Other Sections Progressive Sentiment Waning Very Fast.

Democratic Campaign Committee Confronts Hard Task in November.

EDUCATION BOARD CANDIDATES

Next Tuesday and Wednesday, October 6 and 7, will be registration days, and although nothing like the registration figures of last year are expected, nevertheless the leaders of all three parties are working hard to register their full strength. Last year in this city the Democrats registered 29,586, the Progressives 13,527, the Republicans 7,370 and the Independents 5,024, and in the election Buschmeyer, the Democratic nominee, received 24,944; Axton, the Progressive nominee, 29,399, and Wood, the Republican nominee, 1,388.

This year the Democrats at a conservative estimate will have a registration of about 25,000, the Republicans about 8,000 and the Progressives about the same, the latter party being expected to lose heavily over their former figures, as Roosevelt in 1912 was responsible in a great measure for their strength, while many of Axton's followers last year were in that camp because of the municipal election and the promise of political pie, which latter feature, eliminated from this year's race, will probably rob the contest of any interest for the average local Bull Moose, and this is evidenced by the attempts of the local campaigners to secure Roosevelt for a rally with the intent of reviving the fast waning interest in the party.

On the other hand Roosevelt's continual play for the center of the stage and the calcium light have driven many late Progressives back into the ranks of the Republicans, the personal popularity of ex-Gov. Willson being in a measure responsible for this, while Burton Vance, his Progressive opponent for United States Senator, is practically unknown, and this also applies to Charles Gardner, the Progressive nominee in this district for Congress against Swagar Sherry.

The Louisville Herald is fighting desperately to revive interest in the Bull Moose party, but without much success, their extensive advertising campaign, and their persistent promises that they are not trying to win Republican favor falling on deaf ears. Then, again, the Herald tells of stirring speeches by Messrs. Vance and Gardner at the Bull Moose meetings, and on reading stenographic reports and the reader finds nothing but a rehashing of the Buschmeyer-Axton contest and a discussion of work politics instead of their views on the questions of today.

The State Democratic Campaign Committee is going to leave no stone unturned to aid in the election of Beckham for United States Senator, and this past week have made arrangements to have Messrs. James and Congressman Stanley here for speeches in his interest, in addition to others of prominence, which indicates that the leaders take no stock in the claims of Ollie James, who in an interview at Washington claimed that Beckham would win by 20,000 majority. This estimate is ridiculous, especially when it is taken into consideration that in the counties which lately passed into the dry column because of the county unit bill there will be found hearty opposition, especially from the liquor men, who blame all of their troubles on Beckham and Haley, and this past week have made arrangements to have Messrs. James and Congressman Stanley here for speeches in his interest, in addition to others of prominence, which indicates that the leaders take no stock in the claims of Ollie James, who in an interview at Washington claimed that Beckham would win by 20,000 majority. This estimate is ridiculous, especially when it is taken into consideration that in the counties which lately passed into the dry column because of the county unit bill there will be found hearty opposition, especially from the liquor men, who blame all of their troubles on Beckham and Haley, and this past week have made arrangements to have Messrs. James and Congressman Stanley here for speeches in his interest, in addition to others of prominence, which indicates that the leaders take no stock in the claims of Ollie James, who in an interview at Washington claimed that Beckham would win by 20,000 majority. This estimate is ridiculous, especially when it is taken into consideration that in the counties which lately passed into the dry column because of the county unit bill there will be found hearty opposition, especially from the liquor men, who blame all of their troubles on Beckham and Haley, and this past week have made arrangements to have Messrs. James and Congressman Stanley here for speeches in his interest, in addition to others of prominence, which indicates that the leaders take no stock in the claims of Ollie James, who in an interview at Washington claimed that Beckham would win by 20,000 majority. This estimate is ridiculous, especially when it is taken into consideration that in the counties which lately passed into the dry column because of the county unit bill there will be found hearty opposition, especially from the liquor men, who blame all of their troubles on Beckham and Haley, and this past week have made arrangements to have Messrs. James and Congressman Stanley here for speeches in his interest, in addition to others of prominence, which indicates that the leaders take no stock in the claims of Ollie James, who in an interview at Washington claimed that Beckham would win by 20,000 majority. This estimate is ridiculous, especially when it is taken into consideration that in the counties which lately passed into the dry column because of the county unit bill there will be found hearty opposition, especially from the liquor men, who blame all of their troubles on Beckham and Haley, and this past week have made arrangements to have Messrs. James and Congressman Stanley here for speeches in his interest, in addition to others of prominence, which indicates that the leaders take no stock in the claims of Ollie James, who in an interview at Washington claimed that Beckham would win by 20,000 majority. This estimate is ridiculous, especially when it is taken into consideration that in the counties which lately passed into the dry column because of the county unit bill there will be found hearty opposition, especially from the liquor men, who blame all of their troubles on Beckham and Haley, and this past week have made arrangements to have Messrs. James and Congressman Stanley here for speeches in his interest, in addition to others of prominence, which indicates that the leaders take no stock in the claims of Ollie James, who in an interview at Washington claimed that Beckham would win by 20,000 majority. This estimate is ridiculous, especially when it is taken into consideration that in the counties which lately passed into the dry column because of the county unit bill there will be found hearty opposition, especially from the liquor men, who blame all of their troubles on Beckham and Haley, and this past week have made arrangements to have Messrs. James and Congressman Stanley here for speeches in his interest, in addition to others of prominence, which indicates that the leaders take no stock in the claims of Ollie James, who in an interview at Washington claimed that Beckham would win by 20,000 majority. This estimate is ridiculous, especially when it is taken into consideration that in the counties which lately passed into the dry column because of the county unit bill there will be found hearty opposition, especially from the liquor men, who blame all of their troubles on Beckham and Haley, and this past week have made arrangements to have Messrs. James and Congressman Stanley here for speeches in his interest, in addition to others of prominence, which indicates that the leaders take no stock in the claims of Ollie James, who in an interview at Washington claimed that Beckham would win by 20,000 majority. This estimate is ridiculous, especially when it is taken into consideration that in the counties which lately passed into the dry column because of the county unit bill there will be found hearty opposition, especially from the liquor men, who blame all of their troubles on Beckham and Haley, and this past week have made arrangements to have Messrs. James and Congressman Stanley here for speeches in his interest, in addition to others of prominence, which indicates that the leaders take no stock in the claims of Ollie James, who in an interview at Washington claimed that Beckham would win by 20,000 majority. This estimate is ridiculous, especially when it is taken into consideration that in the counties which lately passed into the dry column because of the county unit bill there will be found hearty opposition, especially from the liquor men, who blame all of their troubles on Beckham and Haley, and this past week have made arrangements to have Messrs. James and Congressman Stanley here for speeches in his interest, in addition to others of prominence, which indicates that the leaders take no stock in the claims of Ollie James, who in an interview at Washington claimed that Beckham would win by 20,000 majority. This estimate is ridiculous, especially when it is taken into consideration that in the counties which lately passed into the dry column because of the county unit bill there will be found hearty opposition, especially from the liquor men, who blame all of their troubles on Beckham and Haley, and this past week have made arrangements to have Messrs. James and Congressman Stanley here for speeches in his interest, in addition to others of prominence, which indicates that the leaders take no stock in the claims of Ollie James, who in an interview at Washington claimed that Beckham would win by 20,000 majority. This estimate is ridiculous, especially when it is taken into consideration that in the counties which lately passed into the dry column because of the county unit bill there will be found hearty opposition, especially from the liquor men, who blame all of their troubles on Beckham and Haley, and this past week have made arrangements to have Messrs. James and Congressman Stanley here for speeches in his interest, in addition to others of prominence, which indicates that the leaders take no stock in the claims of Ollie James, who in an interview at Washington claimed that Beckham would win by 20,000 majority. This estimate is ridiculous, especially when it is taken into consideration that in the counties which lately passed into the dry column because of the county unit bill there will be found hearty opposition, especially from the liquor men, who blame all of their troubles on Beckham and Haley, and this past week have made arrangements to have Messrs. James and Congressman Stanley here for speeches in his interest, in addition to others of prominence, which indicates that the leaders take no stock in the claims of Ollie James, who in an interview at Washington claimed that Beckham would win by 20,000 majority. This estimate is ridiculous, especially when it is taken into consideration that in the counties which lately passed into the dry column because of the county unit bill there will be found hearty opposition, especially from the liquor men, who blame all of their troubles on Beckham and Haley, and this past week have made arrangements to have Messrs. James and Congressman Stanley here for speeches in his interest, in addition to others of prominence, which indicates that the leaders take no stock in the claims of Ollie James, who in an interview at Washington claimed that Beckham would win by 20,000 majority. This estimate is ridiculous, especially when it is taken into consideration that in the counties which lately passed into the dry column because of the county unit bill there will be found hearty opposition, especially from the liquor men, who blame all of their troubles on Beckham and Haley, and this past week have made arrangements to have Messrs. James and Congressman Stanley here for speeches in his interest, in addition to others of prominence, which indicates that the leaders take no stock in the claims of Ollie James, who in an interview at Washington claimed that Beckham would win by 20,000 majority. This estimate is ridiculous, especially when it is taken into consideration that in the counties which lately passed into the dry column because of the county unit bill there will be found hearty opposition, especially from the liquor men, who blame all of their troubles on Beckham and Haley, and this past week have made arrangements to have Messrs. James and Congressman Stanley here for speeches in his interest, in addition to others of prominence, which indicates that the leaders take no stock in the claims of Ollie James, who in an interview at Washington claimed that Beckham would win by 20,000 majority. This estimate is ridiculous, especially when it is taken into consideration that in the counties which lately passed into the dry column because of the county unit bill there will be found hearty opposition, especially from the liquor men, who blame all of their troubles on Beckham and Haley, and this past week have made arrangements to have Messrs. James and Congressman Stanley here for speeches in his interest, in addition to others of prominence, which indicates that the leaders take no stock in the claims of Ollie James, who in an interview at Washington claimed that Beckham would win by 20,000 majority. This estimate is ridiculous, especially when it is taken into consideration that in the counties which lately passed into the dry column because of the county unit bill there will be found hearty opposition, especially from the liquor men, who blame all of their troubles on Beckham and Haley, and this past week have made arrangements to have Messrs. James and Congressman Stanley here for speeches in his interest, in addition to others of prominence, which indicates that the leaders take no stock in the claims of Ollie James, who in an interview at Washington claimed that Beckham would win by 20,000 majority. This estimate is ridiculous, especially when it is taken into consideration that in the counties which lately passed into the dry column because of the county unit bill there will be found hearty opposition, especially from the liquor men, who blame all of their troubles on Beckham and Haley, and this past week have made arrangements to have Messrs. James and Congressman Stanley here for speeches in his interest, in addition to others of prominence, which indicates that the leaders take no stock in the claims of Ollie James, who in an interview at Washington claimed that Beckham would win by 20,000 majority. This estimate is ridiculous, especially when it is taken into consideration that in the counties which lately passed into the dry column because of the county unit bill there will be found hearty opposition, especially from the liquor men, who blame all of their troubles on Beckham and Haley, and