Don't forget the Billy Bryant Stock Co. Opera House Monday night, 50 Ladies free under the usual condition.

"Wilful waste makes woeful want". is an old copy book axiom. Witness its truth in the scarcity of water at the reservoir.

Brackett.

Mr. Thomas Brackett died at his home on the old Danville pike on last Saturday night and his remains were interred in the Rush Branch burying ground on the following Monday. Mr. Brackett had not been well for some time, had been suffering from a complication of diseases, but his last illness was of only a few days' duration, the immediate cause of his death being peritonitis. He is survived by a wife of only a few months, who before her marriage was a Miss Croucher.

Tom Brackett was an honest, straightforward hardworking man and held the esteem of all who knew him. He had been a tenant on the farm of Mr. W. R. Cook for many years, and was held in the highest esteem by him. He was born and reared in the Hubbe neighborhood, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Brackett and the sympathy of that entire locality goes out to the bereaved family and the young wife in the loss of this worthy young man.

A Third Browning Boy Implicated In Bryantville Robbery Is Arrested At Berea, Brought To Lancaster And Lodged In Jail.

Messrs. J. C. Williams and Hogan Ballard, members of the Becker-Ballard, Co. of Bryantville, went to Berea on Wednesday and securing the assistance of an officer, went to the college and arrested a third member of the Browning family, a boy sixteen years of age and a brother of the two sent to the school of Reform, charging him with being implicated in the robbery at Bryantville. The young man was a student at the Berea school, was reputed to be a good student and was popular with both faculty and students. In his rooms were found a large amount of the goods which had been taken from the Bryantville store, gold watches, jewelry of various kinds, neckwear and various other goods, to the value of at least $200. The young man denied that he had ever been in the store or that he had been implicated in the robberies, but admitted that he knew his brothers had entered the store on more than one occasion, and that he had strongly urged them to quit such behavior, and warned them that they would ultimately be caught. He also admitted that he had been disposing of the stolen property for them. Messrs. Williams and Ballard brought him to Lancaster with them and turned him over to the authorities and he was lodged in jail Wednesday, and will doubtless also be sent to the School of Reform. They also brought back with them the stolen goods found in the young man's room, together with his trunk which also was well filled with the articles.

FLATWOOD

We will report a wedding next week or the week after.

W. H. Furr sold 5 shoats to J. W. Coldiron for $2.50 each.

Chas. F. Napier bought a milk cow from R. C. Boian for $45.

Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Johnson visited at Mrs. Cormney's Sunday.

W. H. Furr bought 13 shoats from Chas. F. Napier for $2.50 a piece.

Charley Napier sold a fat cow to Sam Anderson for $3.35 a hundred.

Mr. Peter Cormney is visiting Mrs. M. F. Cormney and family this week.

Squire J. W. Coldiron bought three hogs from Bailey Starnes for 6 cents a pound.

W. H. Furr bought a load of corn from Geo. Beasley for $4 a barrel and a load from Wm. Able at the same price.

We sure do miss the water since the lake is gone dry.

The Tulsa World has the following regarding a former Lancaster young lady who took a prominent part in the opening of the International Dry Farming Congress in that city a few weeks ago.

"Mary Clay Williams, an auburn haired Tulsa school girl, was introduced by Governor Cruce. In clear tones, she explained how the pupils of the Tulsa schools had made the gavel with which the president of the congress would preside over the meetings of the week.

"In the name of the boys and girls of this city," she said, "I bring you this little gift. It is a little intrinsic value, but in the sense that we give it to you, its value cannot be compared with gold and rubies. It is but a token of our interest in the International Dry Farming congress. Although still in school, we have a great conception of the work being done by you and your organization." She then handed the gavel to President Motherwell.

The crowd broke into cheers as the school girl finished her well-spoken speech of deliverance. In his address a few moments later, President Motherwell uttered sincere thanks to the school children of Tulsa for the gavel and their interest in the congress. He bestowed much praise upon the head of Miss Williams.

Mr. Motherwell made the closing speech of the opening session and declared the Eighth International Dry Farming congress formally opened."

School Notes.

(W. F. Miller.)

Miss Robinson will not entertain Friday morning.

Mr. Baldwin visited our school Monday morning and made an interesting talk.

Mr. Clayton was a visitor at our school Tuesday morning and gave us an interesting talk on strawberries.

Don't forget the "Lost Chaperon" has been found in Europe and will be here November 26th, at school auditorium at 7:30.

The Lost Chaperon has been found and will arrive on the 2 o'clock train Wednesday Nov. 26th, and will appear at the School Auditorium at 7:30 that night.

Don't forget that good "Foot Ball Game" Monday between the Normal Model squad of Richmond and the local boys at 2:30. Come out and root for Lancaster, and they will surely win.

Stanford foot ball squad who was billed to play the local squad here, yesterday evening did not arrive, they wanted to come Tuesday, and it did not suit the local squad, so by that we guess Stanford will not come to Lancaster.

Miss Brashear's room exercises Friday morning was very much enjoyed; especially her special pupil "Little Miss Effie Caner", the following were visitors for Miss Brashear's exercises, Mrs. C. W. Anderson and daughter; Mrs. Grant, Mrs. Clay Dunn and daughter; Mrs. Ebb Dickerson and daughter; Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Gaines and Mrs. Caner.

Doctors Lose by Telephone.

"Do you know," said the doctor apologetically to the patient waiting in his office, "that this prescribing by phone is becoming a serious business for us doctors. Now, if I had no 'phone I would be called to the house and I would charge my regular fee for a visit. But if I attempted to charge for prescribing over the telephone I would be thought an extortionist. Yet there is no reason why I should not be paid for my advice over the telephone just as much as if I sat at the patient's bedside and prescribed. Take, for instance, a case which should be watched for three or four days. Instead I'm told, 'we'll call you, doctor, if there is any change.' And then proceed to call me over the telephone. The symptoms and ask what is to be done. Of course, there is no excuse for going to the patient's side after the telephone bulletin, unless there is a turn for the worse. So I'm cut right out of a fee for a visit. I believe that we physicians should get together and agree to charge a certain sum for prescribing over the telephone."

Artist and Parvenu.

Phil Morris, the eminent portrait painter, who died when his fame was at its height, had a very unpleasant experience whilst visiting a wealthy merchant who had commissioned him to paint his wife and baby for the sum of £700. The first evening Mr. Morris and his "employer" were discussing the "pose," and the artist, thinking that he had hit on a brilliant suggestion, said it would be effective if the child were lying on the hearth-rug with just a vest on, and his mother leaning over, playing "This little pig went to market."

"How dare you, sir! Do you wish to insult me?" I've half a mind to countermand my order," roared the irate wealthy magnate. Poor Phil Morris couldn't think what harm he had done until a few days later he learned that his patron had made his money in "pork," and was known as the "bacon king."

Method of Spearfishing.

In spite of the march of civilization, there remains much that is still primitive in Sicily, and a curious sight at Palermo is to see the fishermen spearing fish in the harbor by the aid of glass-bottomed buckets (says the Wide World Magazine). There are many corners of the world where fish are speared, but perhaps the use of the glass-bottomed bucket in this connection is to be seen only at Palermo. The fishermen lean far over the side of their boats, and hold the bucket on the water with one hand, poking their heads into it as if engaged in the Halloo'en game of ducking for apples. They hold a spear poised in the free hand, and thus await the arrival of their victims, who are sighted through the glass bottom of the bucket, which acts as a kind of telescope.

Fire Proof Roofing

COR-TRIGHT METAL SHINGLES

What could be better for town or country buildings than a roofing that won't burn—won't leak—that is lightning proof—lasts as long as the building itself, and never needs repairs? Cortright Metal Shingles meet every one of these requirements. Beware of imitations—None genuine without the words "Cortright Reg. U. S. Pat. Off." stamped on each shingle.

For Sale by Local contractors or Cortright Metal Roofing Co., 50 North 23rd Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

TOBACCO GROWERS!

The following letter has been sent out by
The Madison Tobacco Warehouse Co.
to Tobacco Growers in this and adjoining Counties.

We are the pioneers in the loose leaf tobacco market in this city, having built the first warehouse for that purpose several years ago and have more recently added a new steel structure so we can better handle your crop. We wish to announce to our friends and patrons that our warehouse will be open to receive tobacco on Thursday, November 20th, our first sale being on the following Monday, November 24th.

In addition to the buying interests of former years we expect to have with us buyers for several new firms. We are better prepared than ever to handle your tobacco. It is not everyone who knows how to run a sale and get the best prices for tobacco. Like every other enterprise that is a success one must know his business from start to finish. Our four year's experience will be worth much to you. It will enable us to secure for you the best possible price. This you may absolutely depend upon. Our pricing facilities are unsurpassed. As to capacity we have almost double that of any other house here. With the addition of our new steel structure we have 42,000 square feet of floor space, aside from three drive ways which will accommodate 150 wagon loads. We have added stalls that now accommodate 200 horses.

Experience has shown that buyers discriminate against badly handled tobacco, especially, as you well know, against that brought in in too high case. If you expect to get the best prices you cannot be too careful in handling and grading your crop. We will have exactly the same management that we had last year and which gave such excellent satisfaction. We are expecting a good strong market and it will be our earnest endeavor to make your crop entrusted to our care to bring top notch prices.

We hope to have your business and assure you courteous treatment. Follow the crowd and come to the Madison house.

Thanking you for past favors, we remain,
Yours very truly,
Madison Tobacco Warehouse Co.
