The Rich Grow Richer.

A St. Louis plumber has fallen heir to $500,000. What does any plumber need of an extra $500,000?—Los Angeles Express.

Historic Beard.

"The longest beard recorded in history was that of John Maye, painter to the Emperor Charles V. Though he was a tall man it is said that his beard was of such a length that he could tread upon it. He was very vain of it and usually fastened it with a ribbon to his buttonhole, and sometimes he would untie it by command of the emperor, who took great delight in seeing the wind blow it in the faces of his courtiers."

Quaker Toothache Cure.

As a cure for toothache, Mr. E. A. Rowland told the Dorset (Eng.) Aquarian Field club at Dorchester recently, a Dorset farmer two or three years ago recommended a friend to put his arm round a young oak tree, mark the place where his fingers met, and there make a slit in the bark. Then with his right hand he was to pull some hair from behind his right ear and put it in the slit in the bark.

Improved on Old Superstition.

The first time pigs cross your threshold make them jump over your pants' belt, or your wife's garter, or the maid's apron; then they will come home regularly. A plan now in use among up-to-date American farmers is to keep the pigs in regular pens and feed them twice a day. It is regarded as a scheme more popular with the wife and the maid. The other way is recorded as being a German one.

Touching.

A teacher trying to impress on her children the rightness of kindness toward all animals, took them for a walk, to bring the lesson home to them. Hearing a scream from little Johnny, she asked: "What's the matter, Johnny?" "I've been sitting on a hornet," was the tearful response, "and I'm afraid I've hurt the poor thing."—Delineator.

Worth Knowing.

There are 315 ways of changing a quarter of a dollar. The pieces used are the 20-cent piece, ten-cent piece, five-cent piece, three-cent piece and the one-cent piece. To make all these changes without using the same coin twice would require 1,228 one-cent pieces, 614 twos, 378 threes, 184 fives, 69 tens and nine twenties, making 2,684 pieces, worth $53.75.

Pities Man's Delusion. Every time a spinster looks at a man who has just been led to the altar by a widow she says to herself: "How easily you poor men are fooled!"—Exchange.

They Go Together.

"Shakespeare says there are sermons in stones." "And object lessons," added the militant suffragette, "in windows."

Looked Weathered.

"Fresh Paint," said a sign on the front of a big building entrance. A passing pedestrian who glanced at it and at a girl of very fashionable complexion standing just under it, remarked: "It may be fresh, but it looks to me as if she had it on over-night."

Probably Provision of Nature.

We do not know why white is an almost unknown color among small birds. Possibly it may be a wise provision of nature for protective purposes. A white bird among green leaves would be a very conspicuous object, and too easily seen by its enemies, such as hawks, falcons, etc.

Amateur.

"Some snail-folk in this town are always throwing the game of poker at our unfeeling head," says a Georgia editor. "We want to say, once for all, that we don't know the game. If we had known it we'd be richer, at this writing, by a house and lot, a gold watch and chain, and a real diamond stud."—Atlanta Constitution.

To Hang Pictures.

Pictures are hung preferably nowadays without long pieces of wire dropped from a molding, except in the case of extra large and heavy ones. They should be hung flat against the wall; and small pins or hooks that hold firmly and do not mar the wall may be had to effect the invisible hanging.

Baseball Merely an Infant.

When we consider that cricket was played in the reign of Queen Elizabeth and that tennis was popular when Catherine de Medici was in the height of her power, baseball is merely in its infancy. Football was popular with the Greeks and Romans. They actually played it in much the same form as soccer is played today.

The Young Idea.

A high school freshman, asked to recite on the life of Alexander the Great, extemporized as follows: "Alexander was a quick-tempered man. Once when he had taken too much wine he got angry at his best friend and killed him. Alexander was very much grieved, and did everything he could to help bury his friend."

Above Ancestry. It is fortunate to be of noble ancestry; it is more so to be such that people do not care to be informed whether you are noble or ignoble.—La Bruyere.
