Lesson IV.—Fourth Quarter, For
Oct. 25, 1914.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Matt. xxvi. 47-50; xxvii. 3-10—Memory Verses, Matt. xxvii. 3-5—Golden Text, Matt. xxvi. 24. Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

Here is another instance of God and the devil face to face, as in the temptation in the wilderness (chapter iv), after the baptism at the Jordan. But there it was the devil in his own person, while here it is the devil in Judas Iscariot. First the devil put the thought into the heart of Judas, and later he entered in himself (John xiii. 27). It was would be overcomes we must resist the thoughts that are evil. It is encouraging to know that if we resist the devil he will flee from us (Eph. iv. 7; 1 Pet. v. 8, 9). We must bear in mind that our great daily conflict is not so much with the visible in the form of people or circumstances as with the rulers of the darkness of this world, wicked spirits in the heavens (Eph. vi. 12), and we certainly need the whole armor of God to be able to stand against the wiles of the devil.

Some one has said that as this was the greatest piece of work the devil ever undertook he could not trust it to any of his followers, and so entered into Judas himself. It was a host of the devil's followers, including the chief priests, elders and scribes, who came with Judas as their leader, for our Lord had said to them earlier in His ministry, "Ye are of your father the devil" (John viii. 44).

It is written that the way in which the betrayer knew where to find Jesus was because He oftentimes resorted thither with His disciples (John xviii. 2). "The wicked (one) watcheth the righteous and seeketh to slay him" (Ps. xxxvii. 32), and he seems to know our resorts and our weaknesses. Judas had told the band of followers that he would indicate the man they wanted by kissing Him. This he did, and Jesus suffered it, simply saying, "Judas, betrayest thou the Son of Man with a kiss?" (Luke xxii. 48). How much He bore for our sakes, but how little we seem able to bear for Him! Knowing all things that should come upon Him, He went forth to meet His enemies and said, "Whom seek ye?" They answered, "Jesus of Nazareth," to which He replied, "I am."

Then happened a wonderful thing, an instance of His power, an illustration of the fact that not all the soldiers on earth could take Him if He had not been willing. They went backward and fell to the ground (John xviii. 4b). They would never have risen again if He had not permitted, but would have been like the army of Sennacherib, all dead men (1 Kings xix. 35). He allowed them to rise up and come again and take Him. It was then that Peter in his zeal blundered with his sword and took off a man's ear, but our Lord gently rebuked Peter and healed the ear.

How often by our blunders we hinder people from hearing the gospel! It may be by untimely zeal or by some inconsistency or some un-Christianlike word or deed suggested by the devil.

In following lessons we will take up the story of Jesus and Peter and Jesus before Pilate, but give us an asked to continue the story of Judas until the end of his earthly career as recorded in chapter xxvii. 3-10. This portion of the record being found only here. The seeming change in Judas was when he saw that Jesus was actually condemned. Is it possible that, having seen so much of the power of Jesus Christ and remembering the day when He quietly slipped away from the hands of the people of Nazareth, and perhaps recalling His words that no man could take His life from Him (John x. 18), he did not believe that He would ever let His enemies kill Him? He could make a little money and then foot the high priests and others to see Jesus take Himself out of their power.

I cannot tell what His thoughts were, but I cannot forget the words, "It had been good for that man if he had not been born" (Matt. xxvi. 24). The pieces of silver remind us of the money received by Joseph's brethren when they sold him, and also of the profit that he made in the end. It is a little perplexing, as it is said that the words about the pieces of silver were spoken by Jeremiah the prophet, yet we find them written in Zechariah, not Jeremiah. One lesson does not say they were written, but spoken, by Jeremiah. If Jeremiah spoke them and Zechariah wrote them that would clear it all up. Some say we will know, if necessary.

The words of Judas in verse 1, or have shown us that I have noticed the innocent blood? are to my mind one of the strongest testimonies on record to the holiness of the Lord Jesus—the testimony of one possessed by the devil, who was in a sense one of the twelve and knew the inner life of the little company and would have seen any flaw in the life of the Lord Jesus if there had been any.

I have often wondered if he testifies on record. The elders and high priests seemed glad to have dealings with him when he offered to betray Jesus, but now that he seems to have changed his mind they throw him off with the words, "What is that to us? See thou to that."

Why Not Publish It.

When you want a fact to become generally known, the right way is to publish it. Mrs. Joseph Kallans, Peru Ind., was troubled with belching, sour stomach and frequent headaches. She writes, "I feel it my duty to tell others what Chamberlain's Tablets have done for me. They have helped my digestion and regulated my bowels. Since using them I have been entirely well." HEALTHY HAIR SOFT. FLUFFY AND RADIANT.

Beautiful hair does not just happen to be so, but is always a matter of care and proper nourishment of the hair roots. No matter if your hair is falling out, stringy, lifeless and full of dandruff, Parisian Sage, an inexpensive tonic, sold by all druggists, is all that is ever needed. It nourishes the hair roots and stimulates the growth of new hair. Even dandruff is entirely removed with one application, and itching scalp and falling hair cease; your hair will be bright, vigorous, soft and fluffy.

Whether your hair is oily, dry or brittle, Parisian Sage immediately removes the cause, and by toning up the scalp quickly restores the hair to its original brilliancy and vigor.

Parisian Sage can always be had from R. E. McRoberts and is a delightful and easily applied treatment that will never fail to act as a real and lasting benefit to your hair and scalp.

Reverend Morgan filled his appointment at Bethel Saturday night. Sunday and Sunday night and delivered some good sermons.

On last Saturday night at 1 o'clock the death angel visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Butler Sebastian and claimed as its victim their own little six year old boy Lewis. He was stricken with Membranous croup and lived but a short while. He will be missed by his school mates. His remains were laid to rest in the family burying ground Sunday afternoon. The writers heart felt sympathy is extended to the family in their sad bereavement; and may they be comforted by Him who said, "I will be with them until they are brought to me, and I will be with them until they are brought to me, and I will be with them until they are brought to me."

A precious one from them has gone. A voice they loved is still. A place is vacant in their home. Which never can be filled.
