THE BLACKS GAZED APPREHENSIVELY AT THE DARK LINE ON THE WATER.

tumbled the racing clouds. The first breath of the wind, faint and silken, tonic with life, fanned through his dry baked body as he finished reading. Then came the second breath of the wind, an angry gust, as the shovels worked rapidly filling in the sand. So heavy was the gust that Sheldon, still on his feet, seized hold of his man-horse to escape being blown away. The Jessie was blotted out, and a strange, ominous sound arose as multitudinous wavelets struck foaming on the beach. It was like the bubbling of some colossal cauldron. From all about could be heard the dull thudding of falling coconuts. The tall, delicate trunks twisted and snapped about like whiplashes. The air seemed filled with their flying leaves, any one of which, stem-on, could brain a man. Then came the rain, a deluge, a straight, horizontal sheet that poured along like a river, defying gravitation. The black, with Sheldon mounted on him, plunged ahead into the thick of it, stooping far forward and low to the ground to avoid being toppled over backward.

"He's sleeping out and far tonight," Sheldon quoted as he thought of the dead man in the sand and the rainwater trickling down upon the cold clay.

So they fought their way back up the beach. The other blacks caught hold of the man-horse and pulled and tugged. There were among them those whose fondest desire was to drag the rider in the sand and spring upon him and mash him into repulsive nothingness. But the automatic pistol in his belt, with its rattling, quick dealing death, and the automatic, death-defying spirit in the man himself made them refrain and buckle down to the task of hauling him to safety through the storm.

Wet through and exhausted, he was nevertheless surprised at the ease with which he got into a change of clothing. Though he was fearfully weak, he found himself actually feeling better. The disease had spent itself, and the men had begun.

"Now, if I don't get the fever," he said aloud and at the same moment resolved to go to taking quinine as soon as he was strong enough to dare.

He crawled out on the veranda. The rain had ceased, but the wind, which had dwindled to a half gale, was increasing. A big sea had sprung up, and the mile long breakers, curling up to the overfall 200 yards from the shore, were crashing on the beach. The Jessie was plunging madly to two anchors, and every second or third sea broke clear over her bow. Two flags were stiffly undulating from the halcyards like squares of flexible sheet iron. One was blue, the other red. He knew their meaning in the Berande private code: "What are your instructions? Shall I attempt to land boat?" Tacked on the wall between

SHE SUFFERED FIVE YEARS

Finally Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Erie, Pa. — "I suffered for five years from female troubles and at last was almost helpless. I went to three doctors and they did me no good, so my sister advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and when I had taken only two bottles I could see a big change, so I took six bottles and I am now strong and well again. I don't know how to express my thanks for the good it has done me and I hope all suffering women will give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It was worth its weight in gold." — Mrs. J. P. ENDLICH, R. F. D. No. 7, Erie, Pa.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials are on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., from women who have been cured from almost every form of female complaints, such as inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration. Every suffering woman owes it to herself to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

If you want special advice write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for it. It is free and always helpful.

Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Strother, of Owensboro, will spend a few days next week with his mother and sister.

A FREAK OF NATURE.

The Curious Vegetable Caterpillar of New Zealand.

Among the many strange growths, apparently freaks of nature, which are to be found in New Zealand the vegetable caterpillar readily ranks among the foremost. This caterpillar is several inches in length, is hairless and does not differ essentially in appearance from some of the caterpillars of our own land.

Its claim to distinction lies in the fact that when it gets ready to die it digs a hole for itself in the earth and completely buries itself. Later a slender green shoot springs from the spot. This bears two or more leaves near its top.

Upon investigation it is found that the green shoot springs from the head of the dead caterpillar, and further investigation develops the fact that the body of the caterpillar is filled with roots.

The form is retained without change, and the roots do not pierce through the skin or enter the ground. When dug up this dead yet living freak presents a most odd appearance, for the head and even the eyes of the caterpillar are distinctly seen, yet from the head is growing the green sprout, with its leaves.

"I have been somewhat costive, but Doan's Regulents gave just the results desired. They act mildly and regulate the bowels perfectly." — George B. Krause, 306 Walnut Ave., Altoona, Pa.

Psychology of Sleep.

The psychology of sleep is a vast and little explored subject. Sleep deepens to trance, trance to death. Therefore in life, speaking somewhat paradoxically, sleep is most akin to death. Whether the spirit is parted from the body and goes long journeys through space, or whether it is in a state of one long dream, parts of which we are alone conscious of, is a matter for the Society of Psychical Research. Yet many of us have dreamed things, seen things or even spoken and heard things in sleep which we have seen, heard or spoken later on in reality. We can more or less follow the stages up to the final sleep of all, but here we must pause, and, with Hamlet, in vain attempt to learn what lies beyond the veil: "And in that sleep of death, what dreams may come!" — London Globe.

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets do not sicken or gripe, and may be taken with perfect safety by the most delicate women or the youngest child. The old and feeble will also find them a most suitable remedy for aiding and strengthening their weakened digestion and for regulating the bowels. For sale by all dealers.

"A Child Shall Lead Them."

It was in Boston. They were having a "difference." "After careful cogitation," said he, "I am firmly convinced that I displayed a deplorable lack of discernment in choosing you as the partner of my joys and sorrows." "You are correct," said she, "and I am sure that I must have been suffering under a mental aberration to have given an affirmative answer to your impassioned pleading." "I have realized," said Bartholomew, the four-year-old progeny, as he stepped from the nursery—"I have realized for several years that my parental affiliations were uncongenial. I might almost say distasteful. But I have deemed it my duty to continue as 'the tie that binds.' Now I must insist that unless you show to each other the courtesies due my immediate ancestors I shall be forced to repudiate my relationship." They embraced. Again a little child had won.—Brooklyn Life.

That the Best Things

do not have to be advertised would be a reasonable conclusion. But people must be REMINDED of that which is BEST. This is the reason the best things are advertised. Pick up the daily papers and you will notice that the oldest, most reliable firms are the constant advertisers.

How many times do you see Uneda Biscuits advertised? Everyday.

How often do you see the firm of Tiffany & Co. advertised? Every month in the leading magazines

Do you ever see the Saturday Evening Post mentioned in cold, black type? All the time.

Now, is your store the BEST STORE

How often do you remind the people that in your store you sell the best? People forget the good, remember the bad. If they get stung they never forget.

The columns of The Breckenridge News

are the best columns and we remind you that through them you can

Remind Others

of the best you have to sell.

FIGHT OFF WORRY.

Don't Waste Nervous Strength and Energy in Useless Fretting.

The immediate cause of neuralgia is poison in the blood; therefore our object is to keep the blood pure and healthy, as it is the only way the blood is poor that the neuralgia poisons develop in it. Poor blood is caused by lack of sleep, lack of fresh air, improper food and overfatigue, by too little exercise and by mental worry.

Nothing is easier to say than "Don't worry" and few things so difficult to carry out. But by "Don't worry" the doctors mean do not waste valuable nervous strength and energy in fretting over things beyond your control. Make a point of putting all anxiety from you during meals and above all when you go to bed. Train yourself to think of something cheerful as you try to go to sleep; otherwise your sleep will be harassed and fitful and will do you very little good.

He was a wise man who made it a rule to think of nothing disagreeable after 10 o'clock at night. He at any rate could never have been a victim to neuralgia.

Keep up the general tone of the nervous system and you will have little difficulty in keeping off nervous ailments, notably neuralgia. — London Mail.

A Gift With A Thought In It.

What other Christmas present costs so little and means so much as a subscription to The Youth's Companion—52 weeks for $1.75? It is a gift which benefits not only the one who receives it, but every member of the household.

With many Christmas presents the sense of novelty wears off by the week's end but The Youth's Companion is as new and sought after the fifty-second week of the year as it was the first. It is elastic in its adaptability, too; for it does not matter whether the present is for a boy or girl, young married people, sedate couples, grand-parents—there never was one yet who did not set store by The Youth's Companion. You cannot make a mistake if you give The Companion—and it is only $1.75 a year now. On January 1, 1913, the price will be advanced to $2.00.

The one to whom you give the subscription will receive free The Companion's Calendar for 1913, lithographed in ten colors and gold, and you, too, as giver of the subscription, will receive a copy of the Calendar.—The Youth's Companion, 144 Berkeley St., Boston, Mass.
