ALEX. CAMPBELL,

Chief of Police.

Mon. John Young Brown, of Henderson, will deliver a political address at the court house at 2 o'clock p. m. to-morrow. Mr. Brown is recognized everywhere as one of the foremost orators of the State, though he has taken no active part in political affairs for several years. He announced candidacy for Governor last year, but he has since been brought into the public again this summer and he has made a few speeches in the present campaign. The people of Hopkinsville and Christian county may esteem themselves fortunate to be given an opportunity to hear a speech from this gifted speaker and statesman. That it will be upon a high and dignified plane goes without saying. The public generally, and our misguided friends of the opposition especially, is invited to come out and hear some good Democratic doctrine expounded.

More Names.

Ten days ago, we published a list of about thirty-five, who proposed to add to Old Point on the 7th, and in our last issue about thirty were added. To this number we add the following: Mrs. E. C. Robinson, Miss Lizzie White, Miss Mary Harlow, Mrs. William Perkins, Mrs. Laura A. Wood, F. A. Trice, Sam Dickson, H. D. Alsdorff and H. E. Stevens. Names are being handed in daily and the prospect is that a very large party will leave this place. Few who love solid comfort and pleasure combined can afford to stay at home this hot weather, when they can get to the coast with this pleasant party at such a small cost. Only a limited number of berths not taken; those desiring them had better speak in time.

Failed to Qualify.

R. F. Heard, appointed postmaster at Pembroke, has so far failed to give the $300.00 bond required and Owen J. Smith still holds the position.
Ball at Cerulean Tonight.
There will be a ball at Cerulean Springs to-night which promises to be an affair of unusual interest. Cerulean is now in the midst of a very pleasant season and the ball is sure to be a success.
One of the first fairs of the season will be that to be held at Uniontown four days beginning August 20.

HERE AND THERE.

The KENTUCKIAN office has put in a telephone. No 23.
Robt. M. Woodbridge, livery and sale stable, Fritz' stand. Telephone 111.
Buy goods of S. M. Gehee Bros.—5 Clarksville, Tenn., and save money.

The board of pension examiners examined ten applicants Wednesday.

The police made 72 arrests during the month of July, against 76 for June.

A Methodist camp meeting began yesterday at Sebree and will continue till the 11th.

Robt. M. Woodbridge has bought out Rogers & Davis' livery stable near the depot.

A grand groom will be given at Crittenden Springs to-night and a large crowd is expected.

The colored people have organized a County Wheel, which will meet at Newstead on the 12th and 13th insts.

If you want a dwelling house insured don't fail to examine our new policy. LONO, WINFREE, & KELLY.

J. G. Guthrie's dwelling house at Cerulean Springs, with contents, was consumed by fire a few nights ago.

Lightning killed a very fine horse belonging to Mr. J. H. Pyle, who resides eight miles north of the city, last Saturday.

BOARDING—Four pleasant rooms with board. Dry boarders wanted. Apply to Mrs. D. T. Underwood, 504 Campbell St.

L. L. Buckner has two fine harness horses for sale cheap that can trot in three minutes or better. Also several good gentle ponies.

William G. Word and Miss Jennie Rogers were married early yesterday morning at the County Clerk's office, Esq. T. C. Tinsley officiating.

The young people of the Casky neighborhood had two pleasant parties this week, one at Mr. Wint. Henry's and the other at Mr. D. M. Whitaker's.

S. H. White & Co., Julien, Ky., are agents for the Hecla, Empire and Mat River Cals. See them before purchasing your winter supply.

WANTED—A first-class house keeper, who thoroughly understands the cooking department. Will pay a liberal salary. Address E. S. G., this office.

The friends of the KENTUCKIAN will confer a favor if they will kindly elect themselves to read it the election news of their respective precincts as soon as possible after the polls close Monday.

The fare at Cerulean is said to be better than ever this season, which means that no summer resort hotel in the state sets as good a table. Every guest returning is loud in his praises of the excellent fare and splendid cooking.

Jenkins and Ely, the two countrymen who forgot to keep a promise made to Judge Brasher to return to town to be tried for disorderly conduct and resisting an officer, are still troubled with absent-mindedness and have not yet shown up.

Early in the season Mr. Thos. L. Graham sold his wheat crop in the shock to Mr. P. B. Garrett, one of his neighbors, for $5.00 cents. Mr. Garrett paid $500 down on the crop, which was estimated at 2,000 bushels. The wheat is not yet threshed, but about two-thirds of it has been stacked in good condition.

Mr. R. B. McReynolds received this week from Mr. F. Herndon Moody of Lake City, Florida, a box of Le-Compte pens raised in his orchard at that place, many of which weigh nearly a pound each. They are as fine as any of the famous California pens. Mr. Moody is a native of this county, but moved to Florida several years ago. His accomplished daughter, Miss Lee Moody, is now visiting relatives in the Pembroke neighborhood.

Dr. P. C. Woodson, the old druggist and practicing physician at Lafayette, Ky., desires to thank the people in and around that place for their past liberal patronage and respectfully solicits a continuance of same, promising to deal in the future as in the past—squarely, honestly and earnestly. He assures the public that he will retail drugs and medicines cheaper than similar houses in the surrounding cities and towns. An experience of 40 years in the business is a sufficient guarantee that the above statement can be relied upon. Mr. W. E. Anglen, an experienced prescriptionist, has been retained in that capacity.

Stock for Sale.

At public auction on the first Monday in August, at 11 o'clock, at the Court House door, in Hopkinsville, Ky., 60 shares of the Bank of Hopkinsville, 15 shares of Crescent Milling Co., 500 shares of Crescent Milling Co., 500 shares of Crescent Milling Co., 500 shares of Crescent Milling Co.

Road trip tickets will be sold from Nortonville to Old Point Comfort, for limited express train leaving that point at 1:27 a. m. Wednesday, Aug. 7th, at 11c. Parties leaving that place on said train will arrive in Louisville in ample time to join the sea shore party, leaving this point on the morning of the 7th. Tickets good returning until Aug. 29.

Tickets to the Northwest.

The L. & N. will sell excursion tickets to Arkansas, Texas, Kansas and the Northwest Aug. 6th and 20th, Sept. 10th and 24th and Oct. 8th at one fare for round trip. Tickets good to return in 30 days. For further information apply to W. W. Alexander, Agent.

DEATHS.

FLOURNOY: Col. R. C. Flournoy, who had an extensive acquaintance in this county, died at Los Angeles, July 23rd. The Herald of that city contained the following account: "A well-known citizen of Los Angeles, Colonel Robert C. Flournoy, died at his residence on Hill street yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock. He had been troubled for some time with neuralgia of the heart, but no serious danger had been apprehended. Monday he was at his office at work as usual, but yesterday he found himself unable to leave the house. His physician called on him several times during the day, but the death, when it came, was sudden and quite unexpected."

Colonel Flournoy came to Los Angeles seven years ago from Louisville, Kentucky. He was a native of Bourbon county, Kentucky, and made his way out to California before the war broke out. When the news of the rebellion came to the Coast, as his sympathies were with the Confederacy, he returned to his native State and was put in command of a regiment. He was in the battle of Shiloh and several other conflicts during the war. After the failure of the rebellion he retired to Louisville and began the practice of law. On account of the illness of his oldest son he came out to Los Angeles, and since settling here he has been identified with the progressive elements of the city. A Democratic in politics, he took an active part in the councils of his party. Having invested largely and wisely in Los Angeles real estate, he leaves his family, a wife and three sons in very good circumstances. There are several children of the deceased who are prominent members of the bar: George C. Flournoy of San Francisco, Victor Montgomery, of Santa Ana and Jno C. Flournoy of this city.

Mrs. Elias J. Deane, widow of the late Dr. W. H. Deane, died in Clarksville Saturday, aged 81 years.

Col. Polk G. Johnson, a prominent citizen of Clarksville, died suddenly in New York City Sunday, when he had gone on a business trip. He was a native of Clarksville and was 45 years of age. He had been for 19 years Clerk of the Chancery Court of Montgomery county.

BUCKNER: Mrs. Harry C. Buckner died near Longview Wednesday night after an illness of several weeks. She was formerly Miss Myers and was married to Mr. Buckner a few years since. She was in the 39th year of her age.

Rev. K. N. Hay, a Baptist minister of Hopkinsville, died at his home in Madisonville this week.

WILLIAMS: Col. Chas. P. Williams died suddenly at Mrs. Alexander's near this city, Wednesday afternoon of heart disease. He was 82 of age and was never married. Col. Williams was at one time Mayor of the city of Mayeville, Ky. His uniform courtesy and politeness to everybody caused him to be known as the "Cheerful of Western Kentucky." He was a man of much learning and wide information and spoke several languages with great fluency.

Christian County Pomona Grange.

The next meeting of the Christian County Pomona Grange will be held with Casky Grange on Friday, August 16th, 1890, at 10 o'clock, a. m.

The following is the program: "How may we guard against the evil effects of Hebanian fly in wheat?"—G. W. Lander.

How can absent members be induced to give regular attendance to our meetings?—Dr. W. S. Peetre.

Do our present laws and system of government demand political action in the Grange?—J. A. Keene.

Are farmers' organizations beneficial to the average farmer?—M. B. King.

Some of the most important qualifications to insure success on the farm?—J. F. Garnett.

How will farmers be benefited by the creation of the office of secretary of agriculture?—Austin Peay.

The improvement of farm lands and how avoided?—George Pierce.

Why do farmers take less interest in co-operation than other classes?—Dr. J. D. Clardy.

Do the benefits of commercial fertilizers warrant their continued use?—V. M. Metcalfe.

Essays: The faithfulness of fidelity—Miss Lyde Garnett.

Q. & A. The discussion of these questions will begin at 1 o'clock, p. m., and every one, whether a member of this order or not, is invited to attend and participate in the discussions.

T. L. GRAMM, Lecturer.

To the Pleasure-Seeking Public Everywhere.

CRITTENDEN SPRINGS, July 29.—The Southern Convention of Christian Workers has closed its session here and the body has dispersed.

The Crittenden Springs are again open to the pleasure-seeking public at the rates heretofore announced. A splendid string band of Italians is employed and commodious ball rooms, cool rooms, ten pin alleys and such are at the disposal of the Springs' patrons. No pains will be spared to insure to you the pleasure of this place, and such as you will not find elsewhere.

PARK A. HEATON, Manager.

Ayer's Ague Cure is the most popular antidote for malaria. All who are exposed to the dangers of malarial regions should try it. Always ready for use, and if taken according to directions, warranted a sure cure for all malarial disorders.

Shall We Surrender Our Charter?

I have no doubt that if each member of Casky Grange was asked this question, the answer would be emphatically no. Some of the best farmers and some of the best informed men in Christian county are members of this body. Men who see the importance of co-operation, and who see every other class organizing and co-operating, and some of them actually trying to keep farmers disorganized that they may get the benefit of their labor; who see a dozen men get together in the morning and fix the price of an article of common use, with no standard but their arbitrary will, and then notify the people of this great free country how much they shall pay for the necessities of life; who see their interests menaced with great dangers. The fact is the point of intolerable shame has been reached and will continue to grow worse until the farmers by some concert of action stop it; it is in their power to do it if they will. But it is useless for me to talk to you about the necessity of co-operation, you know that as well as I do.

Buyers, shippers, merchants, millers and others are doing a good and profitable business handling the fruits of the farmer's toil, while after all the work in preparing the soil, in planting and cultivating, harvesting and preparing it for the market, the farmer has not received a fair reward for all his toil, for the labor and capital invested. The average farmer must feel that this year will not leave him an honest share of what his harvest yields. Why is it they have so little left? Why have those in other occupations prospered more than they? Because their interests are organized, thoroughly organized, and use their organizations to advance their business interests. Through organization they have secured favorable legislation; have shifted the burdens upon the farmers who are not yet organized as they should be. United they stand, divided they fall. Now with these facts before us shall we surrender our charter? I should dislike very much for it to be done, but if we cannot revive an interest we had as well do it. We have some members who never attend, though they feel an interest in the Grange, keep their dues paid up, but expect the rest to attend to the business. Then we have four classes of attendants: 1st. I would go, but there will be plenty without me. 2nd. I would go, but there won't be any one else there. 3rd. If I do not forget the day and everything is convenient I will go. 4th. Who are very few—try to shape their business and arrangements to go on the appointed day.

I have failed to attend but one meeting this year and will continue the balance of the year if we can accomplish anything. If not then I will join a live Grange as we have several in the county. I would rather ride 20 miles to a live Grange once in three months than to ride two miles twice per month to a dead one or not meet a quorum, which we have not had at Casky during the past three months, and we have some very important business which should have been attended to, and twice we only lacked one of having a quorum. Since the County Grange was organized we have only had one delegate at one meeting, while the other Granges of the county would be well represented, with a large, enthusiastic crowd in attendance. It meets with us on the 3d Friday in August. I suppose we will have a large attendance, as we always do when we are expecting our visiting members, and I hope every Granger in the county will come and endorse new life into us, for it is duty we owe to our country and our children that we revive the interest of Casky Grange.

RUMSEY.

RUMSEY, Ky., July 31.—It has been some time since I had anything to write from here that would be likely to interest your readers, but I will try to send you a few current items.

The Government work here is almost at a standstill just now. There is a very little work being done on the new dredge boat which lacks a great deal of being complete.

We have had much rain lately and crops are suffering in consequence. Tobacco is so much "frenched" it is almost ruined in many places. There was considerable complaint of chinch bugs sometime ago but I do not think they did much harm. The wheat crop I think is a fair average and the corn crop promises well.

We had two thunder storms on last Sunday afternoon that exceeded any thing ever before witnessed by the oldest people in this place. The air seemed continually aflame with great sheets and streaks of fire frequently crossing each other while the thunder was appalling. Peal after peal broke forth sometimes two at once and ere they had died away from some other part of the heavens a mighty roar would come reminding one of heavy cannonading. The lightning struck frequently but did but little damage. More again.
