

ATTENTION! Sick Women

To do your duty during these trying times your health should be your first consideration. These two women tell how they found health.

Hellam, Pa.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for female troubles and a displacement. I felt all run down and was very weak. I had been treated by a physician without results, so decided to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial, and felt better right away. I am keeping house since last April and doing all my housework, where before I was unable to do any work. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is certainly the best medicine a woman can take when in this condition. I give you permission to publish this letter."—Mrs. E. R. CRUMLAND, R. No. 1, Hellam, Pa.

Lowell, Mich.—"I suffered from cramps and dragging down pains, was irregular and had female weakness and displacement. I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which gave me relief at once and restored my health. I should like to recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's remedies to all suffering women who are troubled in a similar way."—Mrs. ELISE HIRM, R. No. 6, Box 85, Lowell, Mich.

EARN 14 CENTS A DAY;
HAS WIFE AND BABY

And Yet This True Story Has a Happy Ending.

Even a Frenchman sometimes loses, for awhile at least, his "unfailing" sense of humor.

Take, for instance, the case of a man from Lille, a soldier, Waeltelet by name and only twenty-three. He had some pretty well, for the youngster had already his own printing shop in that northern French town, which is still inside the German lines. In the trenches Waeltelet developed tuberculosis, and he was sent to a hospital at Grenoble.

There he was considered incurable, and after the usual three months of treatment he was granted his 14 cents a day pension. Said his fatherly army doctor, "My son, you can perhaps cure yourself if you will live in the mountains, if you will eat plenty of nourishing food and, above all, if you don't worry."

Waeltelet should have smiled, but he didn't. He was thinking of his baby and his wife—and his 14 cents. "Don't worry!" The humor of it entirely escaped him.

Then the Red Cross stepped in. He was found by an American woman with some American Red Cross money for just such cases, and within a few hours he no longer had need to worry. He was sent to the mountains at Lamure, in the French Alps, happy in the knowledge that his family was being cared for by these amazingly kind Americans.

And now the army doctor's words are coming true. Waeltelet's lung is healing fast, and he is dreaming of another printing shop and of living again some day with that little family.

There have been over 400,000 new cases of tuberculosis in France since the war started, and to care for these cases and check the White Plague's spread is merely one of the big jobs the American Red Cross has set out to accomplish.

FATHER AT WAR, TRAGEDY AT HOME

Just What Home Service Means to a Soldier.

The father kisses his wife and kiddies goodnight, shoulders his gun and marches away to war.

For a time the current of life flows smoothly for the soldier's little family. Then comes the tragedy. Mother is taken ill. The little brood of brothers and sisters is helpless. No father to turn to. A helpless mother!

To whom can the American soldier's family look at this critical period? Must a brave man's loyalty to his country mean desolation and suffering to those nearest and dearest to him? No! Emphatically no! The American people will not permit the families of their soldiers and sailors to suffer because their breadwinners are fighting for their country. And so the Red Cross Department of Civilian Relief has created a nation-wide organization for home service for the families of soldiers and sailors.

Under the banner of "Home Service" patriotic men and women have enrolled and are devoting themselves to the noble task of helping soldiers' families to meet and adjust the problems of everyday life and aiding them to maintain the standards of health, education and industry.

Home Service—True Service.

Home service means keeping the soldier's children well and in school. It means tiding the family over financial troubles, arranging the household budget, meeting insurance premiums, adjusting a mortgage, bringing medical aid and legal advice to bear at the right moment. In short "Home Service" is true service, in that it provides the warm handclasp of friendship rather than the humiliation of charity. It calls for sympathetic understanding and intelligent consideration of the most vital needs of the soldier's family.

The Red Cross is pledged to "Home Service" wherever needed in the United States. In each chapter of the Red Cross there will be a home service section, under competent hands, whose mission will be to protect the welfare of the soldiers' and sailors' homes and to safeguard the normal development of their families in employment and in ideals of self help and self reliance.

"PAT" O'BRIEN HAS GERMAN SECRETS.

The man who possesses secrets that may hasten the defeat of Germany is due tomorrow, when Lieut. "Pat" O'Brien, who spent 72 days behind the enemy's lines will arrive for his appearance at the Hopkinsville Tabernacle Monday evening, May 13th, at 8 o'clock.

"A soldier can't wander through a country for over two months without picking up valuable military information," says Lieut. O'Brien. "From my hiding places during the day I made observations and on my night pilgrimages I investigated the country of the Hun and accumulated much data that I hope will benefit our just cause."

"My curiosity and zeal nearly caused my recapture after I had successfully passed the charged wire barrier on the Holland border, for after passing those deadly wires and drawing my first breath of regained freedom, I noted a group of soldiers some little distance away. It was night and I started to crawl in their direction to overhear their conversation. I had only gone a few yards when a sentry loomed up close by and as I flattened out on the ground the Hun passed within a few yards of where I lay."

"He was on one side of the wire fence of course but I knew that would not have made any difference. If he had seen me he would have fired and apologized to the Dutch afterward."

"After my experiences I will never again condemn any story as impossible, for if a writer or fiction or motion picture company had its principal character shot in the mouth by a machine gun, then crash to earth from a height of 8,000 feet and later jump through the window of a speeding train and live through it all, they would be laughed at as picturing the impossible. But I now fully appreciate that truth is stronger than fiction for I went through those seeming impossibilities and I am alive to tell the story."

FREE SETTING OF EGGS GIVEN AS WAR MEASURE.

(By International News Service.)

Little Rock, Wash., May 10.—Members of the Oregon and Washington Poultry Breeder's Association have offered to give free setting of eggs to all people who will promise to set the eggs and raise the chickens for market. The offer is a war measure, designed to increase the supply of both chickens and eggs, and so lessen the demand for meats. California poultrymen are reported to have endorsed the plan, and to be willing to furnish eggs for California families that have pet hens, as well.

PRICES UNJUSTIFIED.

Washington, May 10.—As a result of threats by bakers in a number of cities to raise the price of bread on the ground that substitutes for wheat flour which they are required to use are more expensive than flour, the Food Administration has sent telegrams to State Administrators saying that increases in bread prices are unjustified. The substitutes are under regulation, the administrators were informed, and their price shows a marked downward tendency.

PRIEST INVENTS AIRSHIP.

(By International News Service.)

Beaver Falls, Pa., May 10.—The Rev. T. J. Glynn, a Catholic priest, of this place, has invented a large, powerful, triple propeller airship. It is kite-shaped and much larger and more powerful than the machine now in use. The planes and huge body are made entirely of tin sheeting of the lightest and toughest material. There are three large propellers. The main propeller is mounted directly on the shaft of the motor; the two other propellers are set on bracket bearings a few feet below on each side of the main propeller and are driven by an endless chain geared to the main motor shaft.
