We Can Make Your Shaving Easier

Shaving in the modern way—with modern utensils—is a real pleasure rather than a nuisance.

However, even some of the latest shaving devices are not a big improvement over the old. But we are in position to know which are the most worthy, as we have had an opportunity to investigate them all.

We tender you a most hearty invitation to inspect our worthy assortment of razors—strops—hones—blades—brushes—soaps in all forms—soothing ointments—etc.

DRUGGIST

WOUND KILLS FLIER BOOTH.

Paris, July 15.—Lieut. W. Vernon Booth, Jr., of the American flying corps, has died at a Scottish hospital near the front from injuries received in a bomb explosion when he was forced to land after an aerial combat over the German lines. This injury necessitated the amputation of a leg. He was buried with full military honors.

Lieut. Booth was born in Chicago in 1889, the son of W. Vernon Booth and Helen L. Booth who is a sister of Mrs. Philip D. Armour.

Last April Lieut. Booth was married in Paris to Miss Ethel Forgan, daughter of David R. Forgan, Chicago financier. Previously he had brought down a German airplane and as a reward a ten day's leave of absence was granted him that he might be married.

CAPTURE GREAT STROKE.

Amsterdam, July 16.—(By A.P.)—By the capture of Kazan, 430 miles east of Moscow, the Czechoslovaks have become masters of the Government of the Lower Volga, says a dispatch from Moscow to the Berliner Tageblatt. The Czechoslovaks, the dispatch adds, also are utilizing War Minister Trotsky's mobilization in the Ural mountains, on the Volga River, and in Siberia for their own purposes by forming from recruits what they call "Black Guards," which they use to strengthen their own forces.

THE GAME OF "KAMERAD"

An article written for the official publication of the United States marines now winning glory in France, says:

"There are some things about the boche mode of warfare which the marines haven't as yet learned and probably never will. On more than one occasion the 'squareheads,' as the Germans are affectionately called have attempted to teach and to play what is popularly known as the game of 'Kamerad,' but with poor success somehow the marines don't take it as they should. For the benefit of the uninitiated it might be explained that the game originated with the boche. It was the 'made in Germany' mark stamped all over it. It can be played by any number of persons and consists in say eight or ten boche coming across No Man's Land on a run with hands upraised and shouting 'Kamerad.' That's where this form of amusement derives its name.)

"When they shout 'Kamerad' it means that they are playing the game and you mustn't shoot at them, but allow them to come quite close. If you shoot at them it spoils the whole game, and besides it's strictly against the rules, boche rules, of course. Anyway, you're not to do any shooting. They will then come up and each boche picks out someone that he likes the best. To show that you're his Kamerad and that he means it as places his arms about your neck, almost as if he were going to kiss you. At the same time he draws a knife, of the long french variety, and stabs you in the back. Then the first part of the game is over. Sometimes they don't come so close, and instead of using the knife they use a grenade, with practically the same results. This process can be repeated until either one side or the other tires of playing. It's a game of black treachery which betrays the Germans' evil ingenuity.

"The boche picked out a particularly dark night to play this game with some marines who were doing patrol duty, but for some reason or other the latter didn't feel like playing, hadn't thoroughly learned the rules of the game, or else from what they had heard just simply didn't like the game or the way it was played. Anyway when four boche began running across No Man's Land the other night, and shouted 'Kamerad,' one of the marine yelled, 'Sure, I'm the guy,' and let go. It was dark, and he couldn't quite see whether he'd made a good hit. There was a few other shouts of 'Kamerad' and he fired some more. Next morning they found two boche just beyond the wire and also some equipment evidently belonging to the ones that had managed to get back into their lines and had discarded haversacks, gas masks and belts, and lost their caps in their hurry. The blood-stained belt and a gas mask with a hole in it testified that the marine had made a hit."—New York Times.

MAMMOTH CAVE PARTY.

Quite a number of young people of the Olivet Baptist Church of Howell, passed through Hopkinsville yesterday on their way to Mammoth Cave. Six cars were making the trip. Rev. M. M. McFarland, pastor of the church and two of the deacons, J. F. Dixon, and W. W. Radford, were in the party. A partial list follows: Mrs. J. F. Dixon, Miss Margaret Dixon, Fagan Dixon, James Dixon, William Littlefield, Miss R. E. Coleman, Ruby Littlefield, Will Lowrey, Lyle McKnight, Elizabeth Lowrey, Miss Elsie King, Robert B. Hicks, W. M. Embury, Walter Dickerson, Barkdale Caldwell, Jr., Mrs. Carey Bandy, Miss Louise Haynes, Preston Haynes and Mrs. M. M. McFarland. Miss Sarah Cook and Miss Rowena Yost joined the party in Hopkinsville.

The plans were to eat a picnic lunch at Shakerstown and reach the Cave in the early afternoon.
