COLUMBIA, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY August 4 1920.

NUMBER 102

End of a Beautiful Life.

The human family soon becomes reconciled when the death of an old person occurs in a home, as the lines on the face indicate that time is rapidly passing for that one, and that death is fastly approaching, hence they are nerved for the final dissolution.

Not so when the young is called for persons of tender ages are living in the body; they are constantly laying plans for the future, believing that they will get well. Their cheerfulness cheers the loved ones about them, and they, too, look upon the bright side as long as there is life.

So it was with Mrs. Ruth Stults, the beloved wife of Mr. C. T. Stults, whose death occurred last Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. A gentle and lovely young matron less than 21 years old, answered the summons, and while intently watching her husband and other loved ones about her bedside, her life ebbed away and her spirit went to God whom she loved and obeyed.

She was a member of the Christian Church, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Tandy, of Georgetown, Ind., her mother being with her to the end, her father arriving after death.

The funeral services were conducted in the home, by her pastor, Eld. Z. T. Williams, Friday afternoon at three o'clock. The minister paid loving tribute to her memory, and admonished the sorrowing husband and all other relatives to be prepared to meet her in the celestial city beyond the skies.

The interment was in the city cemetery, and when the family and other loved ones withdrew, her last earthly resting place was covered with beautiful and fragrant flowers.

May the God of love comfort the husband, father, mother, brothers and sisters, and all other relatives is the wish of this writer.

While the immediate family more keenly feel this loss, the father and mother-in-law, sisters and brother-in-law, who affectionately loved her, weep with son and brother.

Drowned in the Cumberland.

One day last week Herbert Wheat, 17 years old, a son of Mr. W. D. Wheat, who lives at Rowena, was drowned in Cumberland river. We learn from a Russell county gentleman that the deceased, in company with some other boys, were hauling corn, and getting too warm, they concluded to go to the river for a bath. The river had been up and the banks were slick. In walking along the edge of the bank, Herbert fell and slid into the water which was very deep. He could not swim, and in a few minutes he went down the third time. His friends were powerless to save him. The alarm was given and a drag for the body commenced. In about one hour it was found. He was a popular young man and the whole country is in sympathy with the parents.

A Serious Accident.

Last Monday morning Mr. J. C. Strange, of the Republican office, was preparing stove wood when his ax glanced, the blade striking his left ankle, cutting a deep gash which will lay him up for a week or ten days. Dr. Russell took several stitches in closing the wound. The wound was very painful, and being in the ankle it will not mend as fast as Mr. Strange and his friends would like. It is hoped that serious complications will not set up.

There is nothing that thrills a man like coming back to the old home. About fifty years ago John McAlary, who lived in the Union neighborhood, bade adieu to his play mates and left for Texas. Books had been called when he reached the school house. He stopped and his former school mates came out to bid him God speed on his journey to the west. He is back now on a visit and the boys and girls with whom he played in the days of "Auld Lang Syne," are married and have families, and as he meets them how his heart fills with joy—the recollections of his happy boyhood days being vividly brought to mind.

To the Ministers of Columbia.

If you are doing your duty, a large majority of the citizenship of this town, are judging you wrongfully. In about four weeks it is announced that a series of meetings will start at the Methodist church and when they close the Baptist people will open one which will continue through the month of September. Young people must get right before they will take interest in religious exercises. We are not one who believes that vice, any kind of frivolity, can be quenched by abuse. To put a stop to objectionable exercises, kindness must be used and a superabundance of it. Meet the parties you are interested in, tell them in loving words what the best people think of their conduct, then tell them what the course they are pursuing leads to, refer them to their sainted mothers if they have passed through the veil, and the interest they manifested in them while living; and if they expect to meet them in the world beyond the skies, they must change their course.

Some years ago there was a hop in progress in a residence, not in this town, and a pastor of some of the participants entered the ball room. The music ceased, and the minister said: "All will please kneel for prayer." When he closed there was not a dry eye in the room. Suffice it to say that was the last hop held in that home.

Improving.

Mr. Geo. J. Hurt, who had the misfortune to get one of his hips broken while returning from Russell Springs, is in the city hospital, Louisville. A letter from the institution states that he is improving, but is not as yet able to walk. As soon as he is able to travel he will be returned to the Soldier's Home, Dayton, Ohio.

The date for the coming of Dr. Frank Cheek, of Danville, and Dr. J. R. Crawford, of Paducah, and the pastor of the first Presbyterian Church, Lebanon, will be Saturday night 14th and Sunday the 15th of August. They will hold interesting services and every body is invited to attend the meeting. They will come from Union Church to this place.

Public Sale.

I will on Saturday, the 14th day of August, sell at my home, at Bliss, two good mules, 4 and 7 years old and harness. One good mare 9 years old, and one Jersey milk cow and three heifers. 41-2t Vivian Coomer, Bliss, Ky.

Special Band Music.

Prof. Leo Wright and his boy band of Louisville, enlivened Columbia several evenings of last week. The band is made up of fourteen boys ranging in age from twelve to twenty, and it made delightful music, the community being well pleased with its renditions. Prof. Wright is a band teacher, and as an instructor he has gained considerable reputation over the State. He certainly did this community a favor in bring his band to Columbia.

Wanted.

A white woman to cook at Lindsey-Wilson Training School. Good Salary and board.
R. V. Bennett, Columbia, Ky.

It May Turn Out All Right.

Six or eight months ago three or four young men, representing a mining company in Eastern Kentucky, blew into Columbia and at once commenced selling stock. The proposition looked good and a number of our citizens bought.

The information that was promised was not forthcoming, and Mr. S. E. Shively, one of the purchasers here, concluded to go to Chicago, where the company was located, and see into matters. He did not find things to his liking, and a new organization was brought about and Mr. Shively was elected temporary President. Headquarters were then removed from Chicago to Manchester, Ky.

On Thursday morning last Mr. Shively and Mr. Bert Epperson, the latter also being a stockholder, left for Manchester for the purpose of looking further into the business.

Mr. Shively is of the opinion that he will finally get the company in shape to do business, and that those here who invested their money will not lose anything. He says that there is no doubt but the company has the coal lands.

Wanted.

A white girl to work in a family. Will pay good wages. Write or call Mrs. H. W. Depp, Columbia, Ky.

Miss Louise Moss.

The above named supported by her sisters, all residents of Greensburg, entertained at the Paramount theater last Friday evening. They are all children of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Moss, who are also musicians. Miss Louise is the star of the company and when it comes to reading and playing she is a wonder, surpasses actresses who are ten years her senior. All who attended pronounced the entertainment high class, one that no one could fail to enjoy.

OIL NEWS.

The oil interest in this section is not on the wane, but the machinery at different localities is out of commission. As soon as repairs can be made the drilling will proceed.

The machinery has been removed from the Flowers well, near Zion, to Henry Ingram's farm, and drilling will start there in a few days.

Campbell Bros., of Creelsboro, were here a few days ago, accompanied by a driller, Mr. Sweet. They stated that the wells at Creelsboro were producing well, but they wanted to see it in larger quantities, hence the wells at this place would be sunk deeper.

The Burley tobacco growers of the State are having a meeting in Lexington to-day. The meeting is for discussing the tobacco situation, and the advisability of curtailing its production and planting a larger acreage in corn, wheat and other foodstuffs. It is believed that many counties in the State are represented in the meeting.

It is said that there is more old corn in Adair county at this time of the year than ever before known. Also that the growing crop is in a very prosperous condition.

Big bargains at the Monday sale, Knifley, Ky., on the 20th of August.

Mr. Gaither Bryant Dead.

One of the most respected farmers in this county finished his life work last Sunday morning when Mr. Gaither Bryant, aged 81 years, crossed to the other side, fully prepared to meet his God. The end came at his home near Glenville. He had been long a member of the Baptist Church, and when in health, he often exalted. He was respected by every body for his correct living.

When the war between the States broke out he enlisted in the Confederate army and was in nearly all the hard fought battles in the South. After the war he devoted his time to farming.

He was a gallant soldier and when the roll call for battle was sounded he was always ready.

We heard Gen. Jo Lewis say in this town, while he was Circuit Judge, that "Gaither Bryant was the bravest man he ever saw." Continuing he said: "He was the only man in my command that I could not persuade to lie down in a close and hotly contested fight. When I gave orders to lie down, load and shoot, Gaither stood up and deliberately loaded his gun and fired during the battle." The writer asked Mr. Bryant why he did not obey orders." He said, "I was marksman and when I took sight on an object and fired, I knew that I would hit the mark."

The burial took place in the cemetery on Mr. Austin Loy's farm, Monday morning, many relatives and friends being present.

He fought a good fight and died an honorable death. Peace to his memory—sympathy for those who weep.

S. M. Burdette will hold his next mule sale at Russell Springs on Saturday, Aug. 14 at which time he will sell twenty good yearling and two year old mules.

A Party.

On Saturday evening from eight till twelve at the lovely and hospitable country home of Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Rowe, Mr. L. G. Williams, who has been installing Carbide lights for the Adair county people, entertained about eighty guests. The lawn was illuminated by beautiful light fixtures placed in the trees, which shed a clear, soft, enchanting glow on the happy company as friends mingled and indulge in pleasant conversation and lively repartee. Frequent pauses were made in the social hum by the merry crowd to listen to fine piano and victrola music. An especially pleasing feature of the music, were a number of selections rendered on the violin by Miss Louise Rowe, in accompaniment with the piano.

During the evening delightful refreshments of delicious cold drinks, fruits, ice cream and cake were served. This is the second time that Mr. Williams has thus royally entertained his many Adair county friends and all present report the second party as the best and hope that Mr. Williams may go on dispensing light and good cheer until a friendly Carbide light gleams out from every country home.
