SHADOWS OF A GREAT CITY.

Wednesday's Lexington Leader comments as follows upon "Shadows of a Great City," in which James R. McCann, a native of this city, plays the leading role:

L. R. Shewell's five-act melo-drama entitled "Shadows of a Great City," had its second presentation on the local stage at the Lexington Opera House last night before a well pleased audience. The play is most excellent one, and in the hands of capable people, such as appeared last night, it gives entire satisfaction. The leading male character, that of "Tom Cooper," was given a most excellent portrayal by Mr. James Ray McCann, a young Kentucky actor who is at home in any part for which he is cast. The reading of his lines, clever acting, fine voice and general stage appearance shows him to be a close student in his profession and an actor of more than ordinary ability. The writer has kept pace with Mr. McCann in his stage career and has noted his advancement with pleasing interest. His line of acting has been varied—it might be classed general utility—and he has always proven himself a success in each of his portrayals. The leading female dual part of "Annie Standish" and "Nellie" was most excellently given by Miss Julia Stuart, and the characters of "George Benson," by W. J. Butler; "Biddy Ronan," by Lizzie Kendall (Mrs. McCann), and "Jim Farren," by Adra LeCroix, were all finely given, while the balance of the support was fair. Taken in all, last night's performance was a splendid one.

Marie Jansen will be a feature of Hoyt & McKee's company playing in Charles H. Hoyt's new skit, "A Stranger in New York."

Armand Castelmarty dropped dead on the stage of the Metropolitan Opera-house at New York Wednesday night while singing the role of Tristano in "Martha."

The "South Before The War" Company drew a good sized audience to the Grand Tuesday night, but gave a very poor performance. The few redeeming features were the contortionist, several choruses and the cakewalk. The company is a large-sized disappointment.

In her Trilby dance Adelaide Herrmann wears a great quantity of jewels. Her feet are shod in sandals, and her toes, as well as her fingers, are laden with rings. In her hair she wears a diamond coronet, and a collar of pearls, with a necklace of Indian topaz below it, encircles her neck, while a serpent is made up of the most essential elements that go to nourish the body. Where the appetite is varying or lacking, it increases it, and where digestion is weak, it aids it to perform its function in a more vigorous way. It enriches the blood, makes healthy flesh and cures chronic coughs and colds by making it possible for the body to resist disease. Our friends tell us "IT WORKS WONDERS" but we never like to over-state the merits of our remedy even when it has been tested and tried for over twenty-five years. If you will ask for it, we will send you a book telling you more about the subject than we can put in a few words.

The world's famous soprano, Mme. Nordica, will give a grand concert at the Lexington Opera House, to-morrow night. Mme. Nordica is assisted by Mme. Sophia, Barron Berthod, John C. Demsey and Isadore Luenstone. This will be the musical and society event of the season at Lexington.

A member of the feline tribe which is forever ostracized for olfactory reasons invaded a wealthy home in the suburbs of Richmond several nights ago. The members of the house were aware of the presence of the intruder but allowed it to depart in peace. But the cat came back—just like the one in the song—the very next night and again visited the bedroom of the master of the house where it was killed. The lady of the house is now away from home on a visit—for obvious reasons.

KARL, THE PEDDLER.

Theatre-goers note with pleasure the return of Chas. Gardner, the sweet singing German comedian, who comes to the Paris Grand Opera House to-morrow night, presenting that charming play "Karl, The Peddler." With a clever, bright plot, a heart-touching story and a few sensational incidents it possesses all the elements of attractiveness that will appeal to all classes of theatre goers. The Gypsy encampment gives an extraordinary chance for picturesque costuming, and during the progress of the play Mr. Gardner has a great chance for the introduction of the songs that have made him famous.

Will Not Perform Miracles But It Will Cure.

DR. MILES' RESTORATIVE NERVE cures nervous prostration. Not miraculously, but scientifically, by first removing the germs of disease, and then supplying healthy nerve food, increasing the appetite, helping digestion and strengthening the entire system. Desperate cases require prolonged treatment as shown by that of Mrs. M. B. Reed, of Delta, Iowa, who writes: "As the result of a lightning stroke, the physicians said I had a light stroke of paralysis, my limbs would all draw up. I would have throbbings in my chest that seemed unendurable. For three months I could not sleep and for three weeks did not close my eyes. I prayed for sleep, and felt that if relief did not come I would be dead or insane. I took Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve and the second night slept two hours and from that time on my health improved; slowly at first, but steadily and surely. I took in all 40 bottles, and I cannot express how grateful I am, for I am now perfectly well, and have taken no medicine for over four months." Dr. Miles' Nerve is sold by druggists on guarantee that first bottle benefits or money refunded. Book on heart and nerves free. Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.
