VOLUME XXXVII
PARIS, BOURBON, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY, JULY 2, 1877

POPULAR PHYSICIAN BURIED IN GAS EXPLOSION.

Seeking a leak in a gas stove came to an end for Dr. J. R. Nightingale, one of the most popular physicians in this city, when his body was found yesterday morning in his house, 901 Main Street. Dr. Nightingale, who resided in this city for several years, had been in the habit of spending his winters in Mississippi, where he was born.

Dr. Nightingale, who was well known for his benevolence, was a member of the American Medical Association and had been a prominent physician in this city for many years.

RACE MEETING AT SOUTH BEND.

South Bend, Ind., July 2. — Two brown horses were killed on the track last night at the Fair Grounds. The horses were owned by a local trainer and were being trained for the upcoming race meeting.

In the first race, a brown horse named "Black Shadow" was killed. The horse was owned by Mr. John Smith and was being trained for the upcoming race meeting. The owner was devastated by the loss of his horse and is considering legal action.

In the second race, another brown horse named "Golden Spirit" was killed. The horse was owned by Mr. James Brown and was being trained for the upcoming race meeting. The owner was also devastated by the loss of his horse and is considering legal action.

The race meeting at South Bend is scheduled to begin on July 4th and will feature some of the best horses in the country.

In other news, the local police have arrested a group of teenagers who were found to be consuming alcohol on the race track. The teenagers are being held for questioning and will be charged with consuming alcohol on the race track.

The local police are also investigating a report of a broken fence on the race track. The fence is believed to have been caused by the horses running too fast.