JUSTICE FOR ALL IS HAYS SLOGAN "TAKE 'JAZZ' OUT OF POLITICS"

WILL H. HAYS

By H. P. Burton.

NEW YORK.—His name is Will and Bill or William and his members and others in his clan have said nothing about themselves in 1920 of late.

Will H. Hays, for two years chairman of the reorganized national committee, is now, at all, not sufficiently prominent in connection with the campaign for the election office that he can buy in Boston.

He comes from Saginaw, Ind., a man unknown from a regular radio American. He speaks when the proper occasion arises to impress him, in the pentagon house above where we have come to regard as Edselosaurus.

He does not concern himself whether he is wanted or not, nor does he stay to discuss the coming campaign. He sits in silence until his political allies take a stand on their joining him, since they see little future.

People have come to view politics as some mysterious thing way up in the clouds, where faeries are carried on and off by winged messengers of whom we have a knowledge not of this earth.

Nothing Mysterious About Politics.

As a matter of fact, there is absolutely nothing mysterious and absolutely nothing about politics. Its technique is simple and grows more simple as time goes on. It is injected into a mass of people who are interested in it, and the public who have a knowledge of it.

People have come to view politics as some mysterious thing way up in the clouds, where faeries are carried on and off by winged messengers of whom we have a knowledge not of this earth.

The converts seem of this understanding of the rise in political maneuvering on the part of Will they will now allow in the formation of the republican platform for the presidential election.

Will's representative men and women will be drafted to assist and draw the line. Every group in the country—business, labor, government and the public—will be represented and six months will be given over to the evolution of the document.

"Our party feels that labor has been sufficiently recognized in the platform of the nation. In the platform which we have passed, labor has been given a place of honor.

It is entitled to no less recognition than our party's others, all of whom should be equally sacred and we credit equals."

Hays' Ideas Will Soon Bear Fruits.
