San Antonio, Tex., Oct. 2.—A dispatch from Runge, Karnes county, says: For some unexplained reason the deer of neighboring countles appear to have all centered near here. For three weeks past the brush has been filled with bucks, does and fawns. They have vaulted over pasture wires, and in many places cropped the grass in the pastures so closely that eattle cannot live on it. They have invaded cornfields and broken down the growing stalks, and in some of the cotton plantations their pas-sage has been marked by a swath of crushed

GENTLEMEN-I received your dictionary in due time and am highly pleased with it. I consider it well worth the money without the paper, and I would not exchange The GAZETTS for any other paper in the state.

I also have the Encyclopacita of Human Nature and Physiognomy that you have been offering with THE GAZETTE, I think it a splendid work and worth at least $10 to any person just starting out in life. I have often wondered beyond could furnish it so cheap. Yours very truly.

D. H. DAVENPORT.

The unabridged dictionary received from your office as a premium is everything and much more than you claim for it. No family abould think to do without it. The book is well bound and worth double its cost anywhere.

To the Fort Worth Gazette

After a cursory examination I can say that I am well pleased with The Gazetre's Original Webster's Unabridged Dictionary. I think it just such a book as should be in the hands of overy earnest secker after knowledge, and no well-regulated library can be complete without one, and the unperailede offer piaces it in the reach of all, and I will say to those wishing a Dictionary that they will find The Gazetre's Dictionary to be just as good as higher-priced works, and In addition to getting one of the best Dictionaries at a nominal low price, you get one of the best papers now circulated in our great state. Yours truly. B. C. Brasis Gazette, Fort Worth Tex.
