Immense Car of Cotton

Waco, Tex., Oct. 6.—The carload of cotton compressed under the new Bessemer system left here tonight for Boston. The car was gaily decorated, as described in these dispatches yesterday. It was hauled this afternoon from the East Waco gin, where it was loaded, and exhibited on a side track of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas at the corner of Fifth and Jackson streets, where it was viewed by a large crowd. The car contains 12 bales, weighing 43,000 pounds.

San Saba Irrigation

San Saba, Tex., Oct. 6.—Mr. Anderson, of the San Saba Irrigation company, has been here several days finishing up the papers of the company, and as soon as that is done work will commence on the dam and canals.

Flooded With Gas

Denton, Tex., Oct. 6.—At a negro dance in East Denton last night Tom Jenkins, colored, white-fooling with an old shotgun accidentally fired it on the ball entered in the top of his foot, tearing it frightfully. It is thought the amputation of his foot will be necessary.

The Recent Hurricane

Key West, Fla., Oct. 6.—Every day fresh information reaches here from the Keys, relative to the loss of life in the recent hurricane. Mr. Pinger, who resides on East Matanahans Key, reports that after September 29 two sailors drifted ashore with life preservers from the British bark Brandon of Quebec from Ship Island for Liverpool, which ran ashore on Crocus reef on the night of September 25 and after sounding over the reef got into the channel and capsized. Another of the crew came ashore the same night. There were seventeen in all on board and they are the only ones accounted for. The captain had one leg broken by a wave and a sailor ship struck the reef and a sailor had both legs crushed. While two of the ship mates were trying to relieve him another wave drifted the timber which held the sailor down so they could not draw him out. They then fastened a life preserver on him. The survivors think the captain, the wounded sailor, the mate steward and another of the crew were drowned as they were in the cabin when the ship upset. The shore is full of pieces of her cabin, forecastle and timbers and three of her boats are smashed to pieces. The names of the surviving crew of the British bark Brandon are John T. Walker, Woodlark, England; William Spofforth, and Lennart Jax, Finland, Russia.

The Norwegian ship the Ora, was lost off Turtle harbor, but all were saved. W. J. H. Taylor, the English, Swedish and French vice consul, provided for the survivors and looked to every manner to their comfort. On September 23, Messrs. Sam Williams and Leon Lowe discovered the body of a drowned man in the Averill Key. After informing some neighbors of the circumstances they went to a pine near where the body was discovered and buried it. It was not discovered until the next day, when it was found and had nothing on it. It is likely that the number of lives lost will never be known as communication with the Keys is difficult.

Wetherford Court

Wetherford, Tex., Oct. 6.—Saturday morning the grand jury for this district court adjourned and made their report, after a sitting of a week, and returned only thirteen bills of indictment, only two of which were felonies. A written report was also handed in in which they stated that they had made a thorough and careful investigation.

igation and found that the county was in a very healthy moral state. The county jail was in excellent condition and complimented the county officers on their efficient performance of duty. After the report Judge Patterson made a short talk in which he complimented the county in the comparative absence of crime, as with years before and the whole country on the existence of a moral and intellectual atmosphere of the highest nature. His talk was well received and the whole county will appreciate the compliment paid it.

The judgment of bales of cotton received in court to date is something over 10,000. The average price has been 54 cents. Cotton seed has been bringing on an average of 14 cents per bushel.

The cases tried before the county court this week were:

State vs. John Hart, gaming fine, $10.

State vs. Henry Pease, simple assault, $5.

Preston Shearer vs. Coleman & Lytton, verdict for plaintiff in sum of $24.50.

Embro-McLean carriage company vs. J. D. Hutchinson.

City of Weatherford vs. W. H. Woodward, judgment for the plaintiff for $11.50.

Carnahan vs. Goforth, dismissed.

Hugh Openheimer vs. H. M. Brace, default and judgment for the plaintiff, $20.22.

A. J. Ross vs. Georgia Home Insurance company, dismissed.

A. J. Ross vs. Adams Insurance company, dismissed.

Mr. Frank Wadley has purchased the stock of goods owned by C. E. Fain, known as the sample store.

The injunction suit of Stewart & Jenkins vs. the Kindel Pharmacy, to restrain latter from selling goods was tried before Judge Patterson this morning. The verdict will not be rendered until Monday.

Railroad Politics
