

For Balanced Meals

Drink Vegex
the delicious
and satisfying
yeast food

Thousands of people are gaining new health, new strength, new energy through a rich appetizing vitamin food. Why? Because this food makes poor foods whole. It contains the vitamins, mineral salts and phosphates which cooking, cold storage, contact with metals, etc., destroy in ordinary foods. It is the same substance which under another name was used by the British Government with startling results to energize its soldiers and cure deficiency diseases during the war.

Vegex is a body-building, nerve-feeding, gland-restoring food, one pound of which contains the concentrated vitamins, proteins, phosphates and mineral salts of 12 pounds of rich brewer's yeast. Dr. Lewis B. Allen, nationally known food expert, says: "Our feeding tests show Vegex to be the most potent carrier of water soluble B we have ever seen." The vitamin potency of Vegex keeps indefinitely.

Taste Vegex and you'll want more. It has a rich, aromatic, meaty flavor and can be served in many appetizing ways—especially as a drink or spread for sandwiches. Within one week (and perhaps within three days) after starting to use Vegex in your family, you will feel the results in better sleep, and appetite, relief from gas, fermentation, indigestion, constipation, etc., and a decided increase in energy.

Try it on our Guarantee

Money-back: Thousands of people are getting such favorable results from the use of Vegex, that we do not hesitate to offer this delicious food to you on a money-back guarantee. We know its value. If your first trial does not satisfy you, take back the empty or partly-empty jar and your dealer will refund your money immediately. Your word and your word alone will decide. There will be no argument. Vegex comes packed in jars in the 30c, 55c and $1.00 sizes. Ask your dealer for Vegex today.

NO WAGE AGREEMENT WITH ANY STRIKERS

Senators Say No Legislation Can Be Enacted Compelling Strikers to Return to Work—Court Decides for Labor
Board in Pennsylvania Case.

By DAVID LAWRENCE.
(Special Despatch to The Reformer.)
Copyright 1922.

WASHINGTON, July 25.—Government measures to relieve the emergency in the rail and coal strike amount at the moment simply to regulation. There is to be no control of the railroads in the sense in which such powers were exercised during the war. There is to be no seizure of coal properties by the federal government. But the federal government will lend its help in the allocation of such coal as is mined and in the movement of such trains as have the men and equipment to keep them moving.

The impression that the government will take over railroads and mines and make wage agreements with employees is erroneous. The steps taken by the federal government are merely to make best use of such coal production as is available. Nothing has been done yet by the government toward increasing the output of coal or toward compelling men to return to work on the railroads. Senators seem agreed that no legislation can be passed which can compel strikers to return to work. The issues remain virtually the same—the decision rests entirely with the railroad executives and coal operators on the one hand and the labor unions on the other.

Important Decision. Meanwhile a decision of far-reaching importance has been handed down by the United States circuit court of appeals which practically settles a collateral issue which has been a sore spot in the relations between railroads and the employees for the time being.

The Pennsylvania road has insisted that any agreements reached by it with duly elected representatives of workmen are valid and binding on all the rest. The question of "duly elected" means has forced the question into the courts. The Pennsylvania held an election and distributed its own ballots and the American federation of labor through its representatives issued a ballot and held an election. Neither ballot was considered proper by the United States labor board and a new election was ordered by the board to determine the legitimate representatives of the workmen. The Pennsylvania railroad insisted that the labor board had no right to interfere and obtained an injunction in a federal court to restrain the labor board from proceeding with the fact that the Pennsylvania had violated a decision of the labor board.

Court of Appeals Reverses. Now comes the circuit court of appeals and by reversing the lower court, sustains the power of the labor board to prescribe the rules and regulations for the conduct of elections whereby spokesmen are appointed to represent workmen. The decision of the court makes it clear that the Pennsylvania railroad can refuse to recognize any representative of the workmen for any reason whatsoever, irrespective of whether they are employees of the road or duly elected but if that's the case, then, under the transportation act, the railroad labor board can take cognizance of the dispute and issue a decision. The Pennsylvania claimed that the labor board had power only when there was a joint submission of the controversy whereas the court pointed out that it would be easy for either side to deadlock the matter and prevent the labor board from taking a hand, a situation in which the law itself did not intend should follow.

No now workmen choose an organization to elect them if they wish and the Pennsylvania railroad cannot set up its own group of representatives through an election of its own making. The issue has agreed with its men and there is no controversy simply because alleged spokesmen of the employees have signed a wage agreement or any other document governing working conditions.

Gives Prestige to Labor Board. The United States labor board's prestige has been enhanced by the decision and the question now turns upon whether the Pennsylvania railroad will obey the labor board or continue its fight to a higher court.

Samuel Gompers has said if the railroads were to obey decisions of the labor board it would be a factor which would contribute greatly to the confidence of workmen in the board and in the government's sense of even-handed justice. The decision of the circuit court is, therefore, a step which may help in restoring the confidence of those who thought the railroads could, through the medium of the courts, interfere with the workings of the United States labor board.

AMERICAN RELIEF HELPS ODESSA

Children Free From Hunger and People
Wear Smile After Unspeakable Distress.

ODESSA, July 24.—American relief has done much for the people of Odessa. Four months ago their condition was heart rending. In March and April the city streets were hushed; starvation killed faster than the authorities could remove the bodies of its victims; the hospitals were in unspeakable distress and from them and the children's homes the death carts made constant trips day and night to the city cemeteries.

Workers of the American Relief administration see today wonderful improvement. The people who walked dejectedly through the streets three months ago now smile, and the children have begun again to laugh and sing and enjoy themselves. They are nothing like the emaciated and hunger-withered youngsters who slunk or crawled about in the spring.

Hospitals now conduct visitors through their wards with pride for they have clean linen and ample medicine to care for their patients.

Storekeepers who in the trying days feared to resume activity, thinking that desperate people would loot their places, have reopened their doors and Odessa's

FORD WOULD MAKE MEXICO PROSPER

Wants To Keep Common People So Busy Making Automobiles They Will Not Have Time to Fight.

DETROIT, July 25 (Associated Press).—Development of Mexico industrially and agriculturally to a point where it will take its place as one of the leading powers of the world is the plan of Henry Ford.

This has been learned by the Associated Press from sources close to the manufacturer. Mr. Ford, it was learned, proposes to end forever the internal strife in the southern republic by "putting the people to work," as he expresses it, by making it possible for the people to obtain education, and by various ways elevating the masses in the country to the highest possible standard. The motor manufacturer wants to keep the hands and minds of the Mexican common people occupied so "they will have no time for fighting." This, it became known, is the substance of Mr. Ford's theory, one that he hopes to carry out in the near future by the creation of a number of factories throughout the more important states. In short, it was said, he hopes to reveal to the people of Mexico how they can help themselves. The first step in this program may be taken soon with establishment of a Ford motor assembling plant in the state of Coahuila, probably in Saltillo. Business interests of that city and the governor of the state are known here to be eager to bring about the industrial developments. Mr. Ford, it is known, would enter upon his development program immediately upon erection of the necessary factory buildings. Similar enterprises would be established by Mr. Ford in other parts of the country if the plan is carried out, it was intimated.

Mr. Ford is said to believe that if the Mexicans once are taught the value of industry, better methods of agriculture and their possibilities individually and as a nation, the advance of the country will prove to be one of the most notable in history.

As the initial step toward carrying out his plan Mr. Ford for the last few years has been training Mexicans in his automobile factories here. Several hundred representative workmen from the southern republic have become skilled workmen in the local plants. Now they are ready to return to their own country and become native foremen when the wheels in the Mexican Ford shops begin to turn.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 25.—Inclined to be indifferent to relief from non-Christian hands, the Moslem inhabitants of the Crimea, still in want, are appealing for succor to the people of Anatolia, fellow Moslems. ## HOME BREW UNDER PIG PEN.

Robert Fallows of Attleboro Conceals
Liquor in Novel Place.

ATTLEBORO, Mass., July 25.—Chief of Police Gingras and a squad of officers yesterday visited the home of Robert Fallows on Newport avenue near the Interstate Driving park and returned to the center with Fallows and about eight cases of home-brew which they found hidden in the pig pen, under raspberry bushes and in a grain bin. Fallows's home was raided in April and he was convicted. He also has been before the federal court.

The ribbon manufacturers of the United States are organizing a "Make It of Ribbon" campaign in order to further the interests of the industry, which represents an investment of $20,000,000 and an annual business of $60,000,000.
