CLOSING GAMES FOR THIS SEASON

Georgetown to Play Washington and Holy Cross Will Tackle Its Old Rival, Boston College.

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—Football in the east will come to a formal close today with two important games on the calendar—Georgetown playing Lafayette at Washington while Holy Cross tackles its old rival, Boston college, at Boston. With these and one or two post-season affairs as exceptions, all of the leading eleven have hung up their moccasins for the year.

Lafayette's veteran team, beaten but once this season, is favored to defeat Georgetown, which lost to the Quantico Marines, Holy Cross and Georgia Tech and was held to a scoreless tie by Boston college a week ago.

Holy Cross and Boston appear closely matched on the basis of their performance so far this season. A year ago Holy Cross won decisively, 41 to 0.

AMERICANS INCREASE LEAD.

Team 3 Trims Nationals Team 6, Adding 34 Pins to Surplus.

The Americans, which yesterday had a lead of one pin in the Odd Fellows' bowling tournament, got out of the woods at least temporarily last night, when the Americans team 3 defeated the Nationals team 6 by a score of 1,169 to 1,135, giving them 34 pins to spare and making their total lead 117 pins.

The first two strings, the Nationals scoring 792 to 788 for the Americans, but in the last string the Nationals slumped and the Americans forged ahead. Akeley of the lowers, with a single of 98 and a total of 276, was the top-notch. The scores:

BIG OFFER FOR JOE BOLEY.

St. Louis Nationals Would Give Five Men and $25,000 for Famous Shortstop.

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 2.—The St. Louis Nationals have offered $25,000 for the players for Joe Boley, shortstop of the Baltimore International league club, but Jack Dunn, manager of the Orioles, has refused to consent to the deal for the present. It was said Dunn does not desire to part with Boley, but that he had not definitely decided upon this course. The players offered in the deal have not been named, but it was declared they were valued at $5,000 each, making a total of $50,000 offered for the shortstop.

The Cardinals are seeking a shortstop to succeed John Lavan, who was incapacitated by illness last season.

BOWLING MATCH SUSPENDED.

Failure of Lights Causes Postponement After Game Starts.

The bowling match scheduled for last night at the Masonic temple between the Antis team 2 and the Pros team 1 was suspended after the game had been about half played, on account of the shutting off of the electric lights. The game between these two teams will be played later in the season. The next game will be played Monday night and will be between Pros team 1 and Antis team 5.

HALT WOODHOUSE SUIT.

had been ready to die if necessary for the honor of the man she loved, whose motives were those of altruism and martyrdom.

And when Attorney Austin had completed his three-hour plea, Attorney Bullard, after some delay, took up the opening argument for the defense.

Not in many years has such a seething attack been launched against a woman in county court as that which was opened up by Mr. Bullard. Declaring that the marriage of Dorrit Stevens and Douglas Woodhouse had not been out just as do nine-tenths of marriages of the same kind, Atty. Bullard said: "They fail, and sometimes I think they ought to fail. It was a union of lust, and that's all there was to it."

While Attorney Bullard was thundering these attacks upon the plaintiff's character, she was not in the courtroom, having been overcome with emotion during the argument of her own attorney earlier in the afternoon.

Lorenzo Woodhouse, millionaire defendant, during his attorney's denunciation of the plaintiff, sat quiet inside the railing, his hand shading his face.

In closing his argument, Attorney Austin called attention to the fact that Dorrit Stevens Woodhouse had not brought suit against her husband's parents until her husband's suit for a divorce had been filed and she had been threatened with being "ploughed into the ground" by the divorce courts of Reno. "Not until then did she begin her fight and go through all of the things that she had to go through here before the public gaze in her own home town," he said.

ROME, Dec. 2 (Associated Press).—A serious Greek counter-revolutionary outbreak has occurred in Patras and Missolonghi, on the Gulf of Patras, in western Greece, and on the Island of Corfu, where the British flag is reported to have been raised, as the result of indignation over the Greek executions, says a message received here from Athens today.

YALE'S TESTS FOR MENTAL ALERTNESS

If You Don't Know Many Queer Things You Are a "ZERO"

IF YOU "GUESS" YOU'RE A "MINUS"

Finding Out What Students Know About Water as Solvent for Nutrition and Value of Pay-as-You-Go Method for Taxpayers.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Dec. 2.—Yale's new tests which are being tried out as complementary to old-time formulas of determining a student's mental alertness, are not on fixed lines, it is understood. Neither are the questions put into writing. Forty questions are asked and the answer "yes" or "no" may be expected within 10 to 15 seconds. An equivalent answer may be required. If the student says "I don't know" to all questions he would rank a "zero" but a "guess" to a question showing no mental effort to answer it would mean a minus mark on that answer.

The list of questions, it is stated by students, are unlike in the several departments. Biological students quote, among others, these questions:

"Is water necessary as a solvent for nutrition?"

"Is it possible to have a balanced aquarium without light?"

In psychology the students were asked, for instance:

"Is psychology the science of prediction and control of behavior?"

"Is a synapse a connection between neurones?"

"The civil engineers were asked to pronounce 'true' or 'false' statements like these:

"People who live along a highway should be taxed for its upkeep."

"The pay-as-you-go method is cheaper for the tax payer in the end than the sinking fund method."

"Brick is the best pavement in the long run."

"The penetration test determines how far asphalt will sink into a stone foundation."

A question in physics was:

"If the distance between the earth and the moon were to be decreased by one-half, would the attraction between the two be one-fourth as great?"

All departments in the university are adhering to the old tests but are trying out the new ones, both as an experiment and as a time saver.

FIND HEADLESS SKELETON IN WOODS

Apparently Victim Had Been Hanged—Notebook May Lead to Identification.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Dec. 2.—The headless skeleton of a man in a kneeling position was found by three hunters in the woods near Riga, 14 miles from this city. The skeleton was found against a tree with a thick rope dangling from one of the tree's branches.

Rotted clothing lay on the ground about the skeleton. The only clue to his identity was a notebook on the ground that bore writing that may be traced out under a magnifying glass. It had been exposed to the weather so long that it could not be read with the naked eye.

The authorities today are proceeding on the theory that the man was taken to the spot by a band of men and hanged.
