SCHOOL FOR YOUNG LADIES, Portsmouth, Va.—Mrs. COMEGYS, intends to open a School for Boarding and Day Pupils in the town of Portsmouth, commencing MONDAY, the 6th of October a School for Boarding and Day Pupils in the town of Portsmouth, commencing MONDAY, the 6th of October next, and closing the last of July. She will endeavor, by the most earnest exertions, to make its character as high as that of any other Female School in the country. The extent of the course of study, the thoroughness of the instruction will, she hopes, render it unnecessary for any of her Scholars to seek, elsewhere, the completion of their education; and every facility will be effered them in adding the accomplishments of society to the sounder knowledge of books and things. Especial care will be taken to cultivate a refined taste and such delicacy of feeling as may impress itsel upon the actions and manners.

It will also be the constant aim of the Principal, to make the discipline, the studies, and all the internal arrangements of the School conform to Christian principles, and serve to implant in the hearts of her pupils a deep love for sacred things, and a heavy devotion to God the Saviour.

Those in particular who become members of her family will excite the same solicitude, and receive the same zealous care in this respect as her own children; and they will thus be expected to govern their least actions by the rules of Christian duty—There will not, however, be in this system of education any attempt to inculcate partial and sectarian opinions.

Gentle influences, candid and truthful teaching

Gentle influences, candid and truthful teaching

Gentle influences, candid and truthful teaching will be the only means employed; and to these it is hoped, no one will object.

Mrs. Comegys will be assisted by teachers of ability and energy, thoroughly acquainted with the branches entrusted to them; and others will be added to their number, whenever the size of the School shall require it. Their exertions, her own constant supervision—the many natural advantages and beauties of the place—the healthiness of the sea-air, and bathing will, she trusts, induce the citizens of Portsmouth and of Virginia to confide their daughters to her care.

PROSPECTUS OF THE CONGRESSIONAL UNION AND AP.

PROSPECTUS

OF THE CONGRESSIONAL UNION AND APPENDIX, &c. The undersigned respectfully inform the public, that, with the approaching session of Congress, they will begin the publication of the "Congressional Union" and "Appendix."—The first will contain a full and accurate history of the daily proceedings of both branches of the national legislature. It will be compiled with such care, that every citizen who is interested in the public affairs will find it a complete symposis of their proceedings, and a reasy book of reference upon all questions which come before them.

The second, (the "Appendix,") will contain every speech which is delivered in the House of Representatives and Senate during the session, reported at length by a full and able corps of congressional reporters, and revised before publication by the authors, whenever it is requested. These two works will be strictly impartial, and are intended to be as interesting and useful to the man of business, and to the politician of the one party, as of the other.

The Daily, Semi-weekly, and Weekly Union, will, as usual, embrace an interesting variety of matter on political, scientific, and literary subjects, along with current news of the day. The editor will continue to devote all his energies to the improvement of "The Union." He finds many accomplished men in this city. The administration has brought with it a considerable accession of talents. Several tried and distinguished members of the democratic party have accepted office under it. Some of them have liberally contributed their literary labors to our benefit; and we hope to enlist others in our service. Besides, the time is not far distant when the editor intends to call other talents to his assistance. His ambition is, to make his paper worthy of the metropolis of the Union.

We feel a deep sense of gratificales to

We feel a deep sense of gratitude for the prompt manner in which our political friends in every section of the country have already come forward to usuain the "Union?"

May we not hope that our friends throughout the United States will continue to assist our labors, and prevail upon their friends to take some one edition of the "Union."
