MR. ELLSWORTH KNOTT APPOINTED.

The position of second clerk in the office of Commodore Farquhar has been vacant since Mr. Archie Robertson resigned to accept the chief clerkship in the commandant's office of one of the new naval stations in Cuba.

Since that time a number of applications have been made for the position, which is under civil service, and the winner, as a matter of course, was compelled to stand examination in competition with others who were just as anxious as he to receive the appointment. According to information received in this office, Mr. Ellsworth Knott, of Toledo, Ohio, received the appointment to the vacancy.

The gentleman has not reported as yet, and will not for several days to come, as the weather is not very favorable just now for those in a hurry to reach us.

THE WIDOWS AND ORPHANS.

Col. K. R. Griffin, chairman Relief Committee Stonehill Camp, C. V., begs to acknowledge the receipt of and to express his thanks to Messrs. T. H. Hundley and H. W. Hodges for their timely donations of $5 for the relief of the widows and orphans of said camp. The donations come in such good time that he cannot help but express himself as above, with the assurance that it will be applied at once as the donors wish.

HIS SKULL WAS FRACTURED.

Last night about 8:15 o'clock a very serious accident happened on Crawford street, near High. Our well-known townsman, Mr. James F. O'Connor, having the misfortune to fall to the sidewalk, striking on the back of his head and sustaining a fracture of the skull. Dr. A. A. Ellis was summoned and that gentleman found Mr. O'Connor as stated and at once ordered that he be sent home, which was done, a carriage being procured and the injured gentleman driven to his residence, 207 Second street.

WHAT CURIOSITY DID.

On Monday the snow plow, which was built at the Seaboard Air Line shops, started up the road to clear the track. When it reached Branchville the agent and all of his family, including the baby, turned out to see it work. When the train passed they were all completely covered up in snow and it was several minutes before the baby was found. It was uninjured and lying as comfortably as a bug on a rug. This is what curiosity did for them.

A QUIET MARRIAGE.

A quiet marriage was celebrated last night at the residence of Mr. Walter Clark, on Effingham street, near Queen. The contracting parties were Mr. Lloyd M. Paxon and Miss Lizzie Shane. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Beadles in the presence of the immediate family and a few relatives, after which the bridal couple went to the home of the groom, at 703 South street, where they will reside.

TWO YEARS IN THE PENITENTIARY.

SMALLEST REPUBLIC IN EUROPE

There is only one republic in the world that has endured for sixteen centuries and its name is San Marino. It lies out of the track of tourists and has neither picture galleries nor palaces and differs from the other republics principally in that it is the only one in Europe in that it is the only one in the world that has ever known.

The army consists of nine companies of infantry and numbers less than 1,000. As the entire population is only 8,000, this is a high percentage. Every able-bodied man between 15 and 55 is a soldier. The bulk of the income of the republic comes from the lands and herds which it has purchased or inherited from landowners.

Absolute political and personal freedom have ever been the aspirations of the citizens of this model republic. To such an extent have the first principles of freedom been carried upon Mount della Giustizia that direct taxation is and has been always virtually unknown. Little more than $1,000 of its annual budget of $4,500 a year is raised by direct taxes. There is always a surplus which averages about $600 annually. The heaviest item of expenditure is education, which costs about $4,500 a year. The disbursements of the war office are less than $175 per annum, notwithstanding that every male citizen, with a few exceptions, has to pass through the ranks.

The system of government in San Marino has varied but slightly in detail and not at all in principle during the last 1,600 years, although the republic was not proclaimed until the end of the fifteenth century. There has always been a kind of parliament, called the arringo, in which the affairs of the State have been discussed. Originally the arringo was a general assembly of the male heads of the households, but when an augmented population rendered this method of legislation clumsy, power was delegated to a selected sovereign council of sixty members—forty town and twenty country members—which succeeded to the designation of arringo. The executive power is and for centuries has been, exercised by two "captains-regent," each of whom is elected for six months only, the dates of election being April and October.

King Humbert, of Italy, takes great delight in amateur cooking, in which he shows no mean skill.

The ex-Empress Eugenie has some Hibernian blood in her veins, being the descendant of an Irish soldier of fortune, who made a name for himself in Spain.

Quite a number of United States Senators will soon leave for Europe. Senator Aldrich goes in a few days. Senator Lodge has engaged passage for March 22, and Senator Hale gets out but a little later.

EXPANSION.

Warnings From Cleveland, Bryan and Carnegie.

[From the Atlanta Journal.]

In response to requests from the editor of the Journal for expressions of their views on the Philippine question, the following replies were received from ex-President Cleveland, Hon. W. J. Bryan and Mr. Andrew Carnegie.

The letters of Mr. Cleveland and Mr. Carnegie were written before the ratification of the treaty by the Senate. The telegram from Mr. Bryan was written, as it shows, in the light of these events:

FROM MR. CLEVELAND.
 To the Editor of the Journal:

Dear Sir: My opinions on the subject of expansion have been very plainly expressed and through agencies that ought to secure their wide dissemination. I do not assume that they are of any value or influence; if they are my fellow-citizens already have, or ought to have, the wisdom of them; if they are neither valuable or influential why should I reiterate them?

If there is anything that can arrest the attention or challenge the thought of our people in their mad rush toward yawning disaster, it is more likely to be the earnest, well informed and patriotic warnings of the decent press than anything else.

Yours truly,
 GROVER CLEVELAND.

FROM MR. BRYAN.
 Lincoln, Neb., Feb. 8, 1899.

To the Editor of the Journal:

The battle of Manila does not affect settlement of the Philippine question. Whether this nation will adopt a colonial policy does not depend upon anything the Filipinos have done or can do, but upon the wisdom of our own people. I have confidence that the American people, when they have a chance to speak, will reject imperialism and militarism and remain true to the doctrine of self government.

W. J. BRYAN.

FROM MR. CARNEGIE.
 To the Editor of the Journal:

You ask me to say something upon the expansion question.

I am delighted to see that the South takes ground upon this question much more truly American than the North, and especially than the West, probably because it has had a little experience of the race problem.

If the public men of the United States could obtain an insight into the workings of the dependencies, (not the colonies) the dependencies of Great Britain, the case against expansion would be closed.

The influence of a superior race upon an inferior race in the tropics is injurious, demoralizing, and never elevating. There is no basis for the claim that American troops in the Philippines can be of service as missionaries; on the contrary troops as a rule require missionaries themselves more than the Filipinos.

There is no basis for the claim that the United States will increase its commerce by the possession of these unhealthy climes. The President has given the trade away to the nations nearer to it than we. The "open door" to the foreigner means the "closed door" to the American.

There is no basis for the claim that distant possessions will add to the power of our country. On the contrary they will render it less prosperous in peace and more vulnerable in war.

There is no basis for the claim that we are an imperial world power or can become such, until we change our habits. The republic is an industrial hive, without the army and the navy in comparison with the armies and navies of imperial powers. When the lion desired to imitate the shark even the monkeys on the trees laughed in derision. The republic is the lion and before it can play the imperial shark it needs imperial armies and imperial navies like the other imperial sharks. We are only making ourselves ridiculous with our war lord at our head, and only three battleships and 50,000 troops at his back.

Aspirations for independence once raised in a people cannot be suppressed. There is no substitute for nationality. We cannot conquer the Filipinos, and if we did, they would be a thorn in our flesh. Imperialism is the craze of the hour. True Americanism, such as the South now stands for, is for all time. I congratulate the South upon its adherence to the principles of Washington and Jefferson, which are bound to prevail.

ANDREW CARNEGIE.
