A BRILLIANT GERMAN. FIRST AFTER-EASTER GERMAN BY "SENIORS." The first of the after-Easter Germans was given by the "Seniors" at Montefiore Hall last night, and was a largely attended and brilliant affair. There were sixty couples dancing, lead by Mr. W. H. Taylor. The visiting young ladies were Miss Taylor, Roanoke; Miss Creston, New York; Miss Bascoe, New York; Miss Silenigleff, Baltimore; Miss Bonsal, Baltimore; Miss Craighill, Lynchburg; Miss Johnston, Roanoke. The choruses were Mrs. Caldwell Hardy, Mrs. R. B. Cooke, Mrs. Hugh Nelson Page. An elegant supper was served at midnight, consisting of the delicacies of the season. The music was by the Naval Post Band. The commander of the Yosemite was present, and greatly enjoyed the program, which will be the last he will have the pleasure of attending before his ship sails for Guam.

IN SUPPORT OF TRUSTS. MERCHANT THURBER SAYS THEY BENEFIT THE MASSES. (By Telegraph to Virginian-Pilot) Washington, D. C., April 7.—Mr. F. B. Thurber, president of the United States Export Association, in testifying as to trusts before the Industrial Commission to-day, took positive grounds in support of trusts, saying that he had at first been prejudiced against them, believing that they would oppress the public with high prices. "I had," he said, "no conception that they were a natural economic development consequent on the development of the great forces which now control the world—steam, electricity and machinery—or that there was any rational basis for their existence. But a careful study of their effect, ranging over a period of years, has materially modified my opinion."

Taking up the history of trusts, he said they began with the consolidation of the railroads into trunk lines. He said the fear had been that the combinations would result in exorbitant rates for transportation, but this had not proved to be the case. He quoted figures to show that, on the contrary, there had been a reduction. The entire transportation performed by the railroads of the United States during the twelve years ending June 30, 1894, was equivalent to moving 126,799,677,822 passengers and 807,935,382,888 tons of freight one mile. Had rates averaged as high as those of 1882 been collected on this traffic, the railroads would have earned $2,629,021,459 more than they actually received. Under the consolidated effected by the Standard Oil Company oil had depreciated in price from 25.7 cents per gallon, in 1871, to 5.7 cents, in 1888, and a similar condition was shown as the result of the formation of the raw material at a cheaper rate than individual refiners could get it. Mr. Thurber suggested that these are but types of many in the evolution of industries. "That there have been instances of hardship and injustice attending this revolution cannot be doubted," he admitted, "but it is equally certain that the total results have been beneficial to the public at large and to the interests of the laboring classes especially, who constitute the majority."

In other words, the profit of capital have been steadily decreasing, while those of labor, especially organized labor, have steadily increased. The Utah Sugar Company, of Lehi, Utah, has decided to increase its beet-sugar factory to utilize 450 tons of beets daily. Contracts have been let. A new knitting company formed at Detroit, Mich., is the Novelty Knitting Company, capitalized at $15,000. J. W. Owen is one of the directors.

TWELVE PEOPLE BURNED TO DEATH

(Continued from First Page.) time to save themselves were fruitless, and aside from Mrs. St. John, the only other person who got out of the house alive were the two servants, Jenny Burns and Alice White, who appeared at upper windows. LEAP TO DEATH. Before the firemen could raise ladders to reach them, the women climbed out upon the sills. With all their strength the firemen cried to the women not to jump, but the women were past heading warning. Jenny Burns leaped out. She turned over and over and fell almost directly upon her head. Her skull was fractured in several places. The other woman, when she saw the fate of her friend, hesitated for a moment, then, as the smoke thickened, she, too, jumped, she fell upon a rear extension of the building and was picked up unconscious and severely injured.

THE ADAMS HOME. While the fire in the Andrews house was raging, great clouds of sparks were carried by the wind and a brand flew into an open upper window of the house of Albert J. Adams. It caught in a curtain and instantly the room was ablaze. A servant at the window is thought to have been Mary Laughlin, for her dead body was found later at the foot of the stairs leading from the fourth floor to the roof, tightly clasped in her arms was the family pet dog. When the Adams' house caught fire a number of the policemen, firemen, and the large number of the people who were at the other fire rushed around a Sixty-ninth street. The policemen knocked on the doors and finally gained an entrance into the Adams house and got the family out without serious injury. The servants were frantic in their efforts to escape, and Mary Malloy and Minnie Bogie jumped from the rear of the fourth floor to the extension, from which they were taken down. Nellie Quinn was cut off on the fourth floor and appeared at a front window about to jump. The crowd yelled to her to wait, but there was no time, as the flames were licking her clothes. The desperate woman put her hand over her eyes and jumped, as she thought, to the ground, but instead landed on the roof of the bay window, one story below and lay there stunned.

A THRILLING RESCUE. Policemen Louis C. Wagner, McInery and Hillman saw the woman's peril, and running into the house at No. 5, went to the fourth floor. Wagner was held by the heels and he made a thrilling rescue of the frantic woman. The firemen managed to confine the fire in this house to the third and fourth floors. The body of Mary Laughlin was found at the foot of the stairs leading to the roof. About 6 o'clock the firemen had sufficient mastery over the fire to permit a search of the Andrews house. They found a body of large stature, but badly St. John children and the bodies of what are thought to be the two servants, Marie Roth and Kate Downing. SEARCH FOR VICTIMS. At 11:15 o'clock the firemen found Mr. Andrews' body. It was badly burned and parts of the legs were missing. It was not recognizable, but was identified later in the day by the filling of the teeth. At 3 o'clock the workers in the debris found a body of large stature, but badly burned. It was identified later by a dentist as that of Mrs. Andrews. At various other times before 5 o'clock the workers found the charred remains of four more persons, probably the servants. The fire was in the wealthiest part of the city. Tumors that the fire was of incendiary origin were investigated during the day and found to have their basis in the fact that there was a quarrel among the servants in Mr. Andrews' country home last summer, resulting in the discharge of one of the servants. One of the domestics received an anonymous letter last week, which she showed to the police, but it contained no threats and was dismissed as being a trivial matter. The amount of damage to property is estimated at about $200,000, pretty well covered by insurance.

SAD HOME COMING. Mr. St. John arrived in New York at 3 o'clock this afternoon over the Pennsylvania railroad. He went at once to his home, perfectly ignorant of the reason which caused the sudden summons for him to New York, and when he saw the ruins of his home, and was told of the horrible fate of his wife and three children, he bore up manfully, though it was apparent that he had to summon all his strength of will to do it. It is expected that Mr. St. John will take the bodies of his wife and children and those of Mr. and Mrs. Andrews to Willoughby, O., to-morrow for interment.

RIOUS SOLDIERS. THEY TERRORIZE COMMUNITIES AND COMMIT THEFTS. (By Telegraph to Virginian-Pilot) Atlanta, Ga., April 7.—A special to the Journal from Greenville, S. C., says: The Fourth New Jersey, which was mustered out here yesterday and left during the afternoon for home, terrorized the communities through which they passed, firing volleys from the cars with their revolvers and made a bad name for themselves at various points by stealing all they could lay their hands to. A vendor of army badges and camp souvenirs had ten watches and sixty badges stolen. At Chester the Jersey soldiers stood off the crowd of spectators with a volley of revolver shots and then raided the waiting and lunch rooms, carrying off all they could find. They are reported to have also stolen a bicycle at Chester. Many of the men were drunk when they left here, and the reports indicate that they became more intoxicated as they proceeded. The officers of the regiment were with the men.

"This high character of the G. O. Taylor Whiskey has been maintained for nearly a quarter of a century. In future there will be no departure from the plan to supply the public through licensed dealers everywhere, bottled in sealed bottles, under the brand G. O. Taylor, that will pass the inspection of the chemist and meet the requirements of the physician of the invalid. Refuse substitutes for 'G. O. T.' If your druggist or grocer cannot supply, or wants to substitute something else, it is not to buy, write the proprietors, G. O. Taylor Whiskies, Chester H. Graves & Sons, Boston, and they will see that you are supplied."

BEST FOR THE SICK.

Nurses and Doctors are Now Prescribing Paine's Celery Compound.

Every woman is said to make a good nurse. The opportunity to try is certainly forced on every woman at some time in her life, and when the time comes and sickness enters her home, she should know exactly what to do. She can follow no better advice than the expert counsel of physicians and trained nurses who every day see before their eyes the wonderful results of Paine's celery compound among their sick, debilitated, and nervously exhausted patients. Paine's celery compound is the only spring medicine that has the confidence of all, and is used and prescribed by nurses and physicians. For years they have seen patients under their care rapidly recover health and vigor from the use of this wonderful restorative. Miss Cora Smith, whose portrait is given here, tells of her experience with this great spring remedy. Miss Smith is a graduate of the Northwestern Hospital School for Nurses at Minneapolis. She writes: "During the past five years I have found that where the system was run down, nothing was so good as Paine's celery compound. The doctors have prescribed it to patients under my charge, and I have noted the very satisfactory results. I am glad to recommend it to my friends." Miss Georgiana Dean, who is a graduate nurse from the Francis Willard National Temperance Hospital of Chicago, says: "In my experience as a trained nurse, I have often observed that where a patient has been very weak, Paine's celery compound has quickly returned him to his wonted vigor, whenever the physician has prescribed it." Paine's celery compound is now the only spring remedy demanded by thoughtful men and women. It has pushed aside the countless unscientific, catch-penny preparations that have no standing among the reputable physicians and nurses. No other remedy has so wonderful a record for effectively and lastingly curing those diseases that result from deranged nerves and impure blood. It has displaced all other spring remedies, in the opinions of the best class of druggists and physicians and the great mass of intelligent people who judge of a remedy by its results more than by what it claims for itself. Thousands of letters have been received by the proprietors of Paine's celery compound and by newspapers and medical journals from men and women in every walk of life, all telling one experience—the immediate relief and perfect cure effected by Paine's celery compound. The best physicians openly endorse it, use it, recommend it and authorize the public use of their statements that Paine's celery compound in case after case, cures rheumatism and kidney diseases, purifies the blood, regulates the stomach, liver, bowels and kidneys, and rejuvenates the fagged-out or diseased nervous system.
