THE GEORGIA RACE TROUBLE (Continued from first page.) day in large numbers, but as every available white man in McIntosh county was deputized by Sheriff Blount, but still he could not muster a very large posse. The negroes number five to each white man and outside assistance was considered necessary. Business is suspended in Darien for time being, and it is reported that farms in the country have been temporarily abandoned. AS VIEWED IN ATLANTA. Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 26.—One of the first messages received by Governor Candler to-day regarding the uprising of negroes in McIntosh county was from Captain J. H. Devoe, of Savannah, commanding the colored militia, who offered his company to the Governor to assist in quelling the rioting at Darien. The Governor had previously placed the command of all the military forces under Colonel Lawton and referred the matter to him. The first regiment had, however, been called out and the negro company was not needed. Governor Candler was in his office several hours before he began to receive any information from the seat of the trouble. Colonel Lawton reported by wire to the Governor that it would be impossible to restore peace and order unless the Delagals were arrested. The Governor answered that Colonel Lawton was in command and should do as wisdom and discretion suggested.

ALARMING REPORTS. Messages from Darien, Brunswick, Savannah and many other places came rapidly into the executive office and some of them brought alarming reports. "The situation in McIntosh county is extremely critical and grave," said the Governor. "The entire First Regiment, composed of seven companies, is on the scene, and I have ordered Companies 1 and F of the Fourth Regiment, to report to their armories and hold themselves in readiness for a call from Colonel Lawton." "The law does not provide that militia can make arrests," continued the Governor, "but the troops will back up the Sheriff, who is surrounded by a large posse, and will see that he has all the assistance needed."

SHIPMENT OF TENTS. The Governor received a message from Colonel Lawton asking that tents be shipped the soldiers, who are now in the western part of McIntosh county. "It is expensive to make the shipment by express," said the Governor, "but the occasion demands all possible haste, and we are doing everything in our power to get the arms, ammunition and tents and equipments on the scene as speedily as possible. From Savannah the tents will be sent and the soldiers made as comfortable as possible. This is the first time that it has been necessary for the soldiers to go into the country to quell rioting, as the crimes which they have been asked to prevent in the past have been in towns where there were ample accommodations. One report was received during the day, that not less than one thousand negroes were under arms in the swamps, and that they were in a position to sustain themselves for some time. WHERE THE OUTBREAK OCCURRED. Another message said that several hundred citizens, acting upon their own responsibility, left Brunswick this morning and were en route to the scene of crime. That section of Georgia comprising McIntosh and Liberty counties, where the outbreak has occurred, is the "black belt" of the State. The negroes there number five to one for every white inhabitant. It is recognized as the most thickly

THE SITUATION IN GERMANY Emperor William's Personal Defeat in the Diet. CONSERVATIVES DID IT Political Chaos Follows the Rejection of the Canal Bill—The Emperor Concludes Not to Dissolve the Diet or Accept the Resignation of the Cabinet—The Attitude of the Conservatives.

(Copyright, 1899, by Associated Press.) Berlin, Aug. 26.—The political situation this week has been highly interesting. The defeat of the Government in the Diet, which, after his emphatic utterance at Dortmund was a personal defeat for Emperor William, has engrossed attention to the exclusion of almost everything else. The fact that the blow was dealt by the Conservatives a party which has been favored and nursed for generations at the expense of every other party, made the event all the more serious. The absence of His Majesty complicated the situation for the Cabinet and the Emperor not having expected the rejection of the canal bill, no provision was made as to what steps the Government would take in such an event. After the final vote both Prince Hohenzollern, the Imperial Chancellor, and Dr. Von Miquel, Vice-President of the Council of Ministers and Prussian Minister of Finance, not having any instructions, neither the Cabinet nor the government press knew what to say or do. For several days political chaos reigned, even the opposition press being at a loss.

A SENSE OF OUTRAGE. Detailed reports have been wired to the Emperor not having expected the Cabinet participating in the debates, and his majesty wrote and wired brief replies, in which it was apparent he felt a keen personal sense of outrage and meant to deal punishment to the worst blunders and offenders, that, however, was insufficient to let the Cabinet see their way clear or how to shape their action. Wednesday's and Thursday's crown councils, however, furnished light.

THE DIET AND THE CABINET. It appeared that Emperor William, after mature reflection, had concluded not to dissolve the diet and not to accept the resignation of the cabinet. It was represented to His Majesty that the elections might not result in a majority for the canal project, while the dismissal of the cabinet and the formation of a new one would present at his juncture a new and almost insurmountable difficulty. Another weighty reason why His Majesty in the consideration, skillfully dwelt on by the conservative press that the Emperor absolutely needs a party to restrain and fight the revolutionary elements, notably the Socialists.

REORGANIZATION POSTPONED. The proposed partial re-organization of the cabinet, relieving it of some of its efficient members, like Von Der Recke, Von Der Horst, the Minister of the Interior, has been postponed to quieter times. His Majesty meanwhile disciplining some of the most refractory officials who, as delegates voted and agitated against the Canal bill. Being resolved on this the present outcome of the crisis amounts to next to nothing. The Emperor and the Cabinet will continue to govern with the same party which brought in the crisis. The crisis is so serious, however, that every member of the Cabinet has been recalled at Berlin. Prince Hohenzollern even abandoned his usual summer trip to Aussee, Austria, and will remain in this city for some time.

HOHENLOHE TIRED. The correspondent here of the Associated Press hears from a reliable source that Prince Hohenzollern insisted on a dissolution of the diet and the resigning of the Cabinet, while Dr. von Miquel viewed the situation in the light finally adopted by the Emperor. Prince Hohenzollern, although he yielded all, is heartily tired of office and cannot well bear the burdens much longer.

SPAIN'S AFRICAN COLONIES. The correspondent here for the Associated Press learns on good authority that Germany and France have been for some time negotiation for the sale of Spain's remaining colonies in Africa, particularly the Island of Fernando Po. The Dreyfus case held Germany's attention to some extent. The anarchist revolt and the murder of French officers in Africa are pointed to as proofs of the increasing national disintegration of France.

ATTITUDE OF CONSERVATIVES. A most interesting feature of the situation was the attitude of Conservatives. Out of revenge Barons Von Der Recke, Von Der Horst, the Conservative Minister of the Interior, drafted bills of which he was the author or advocate. This is a regular boycott and has thus far been carried out. The present session of the Diet will soon close, probably by the end of next week, after most pressing business has been disposed of. The canal bill will probably be again introduced at the next session of the Diet. The influential Conservatives, Schlessische Setzung, strongly advocates retaliatory measures against the United States for its "system of injuring German trade." The Tageblatt expresses doubt as to whether the Paris Exposition of 1900 will really be held. It claims that a majority of Germans who had intended going will now stay at home, as they are not certain that life and property will be safe in France. The Rhenish Asiatian papers are printing a lot of details in regard to the discovery of an anarchist plot against the Emperor, originating in Paris. All suspicious strangers were arrested and held until Emperor William had left. The same reports come from Metz and other places, where the Italian workmen were either driven away or closely watched.

It is thought it will not be necessary to amputate the injured limb. The tug boat Sallie, owned by Capt. A. N. Marshall, of Berkley, and managed by Capt. R. E.
