THE GRAND CAMP

Meets in Annual Session at Pulaski at Noon Wednesday.

Popular Norfolk Ladies Selected as Sponsor and Hosts of Honor for Second Congressional District—An Interesting Gathering Anticipated

The Grand Camp, Confederate Veterans, Department of Virginia, will meet in Pulaski Wednesday next at noon, and the session will extend through three days.

The attendance will be large and the occasion promises to be a most interesting and delightful one. The veterans of Pulaski, the Daughters of the Confederacy and the Sons of Veterans of that city are making extensive preparations for the entertaining of their distinguished guests. On the evening of the 11th Dr. Hunter McGuire will deliver his splendid oration on Stonewall Jackson. Dr. McGuire is the chairman of the History Committee and much interest is felt in his report, which will be read at this meeting.

NORFOLK'S REPRESENTATIVES.
Miss Letta Serpell has been selected as sponsor of the Second district, and her sister, Miss Alice Serpell, as maid of honor. These young ladies are daughters of Col. George M. Serpell, the well-known general manager of the Norfolk and Carolina railroad, and one of the most public-spirited and popular citizens of Norfolk. His daughters are deservedly great favorites in our best social circles, and will reflect honor upon Norfolk and the Second Congressional district. Grand Commander Williams has made a happy choice, and is to be congratulated.

General E. M. Henry, every inch a Confederate veteran and very popular with his comrades, will attend the Grand Camp.

The delegates from Pickett-Buchanan Camp are Messrs. R. C. White, John H. Day, O. H. Perry, George Chamberlaine and R. S. Broughton.

GRAND COMMANDER ILL.
(Special to Virginian-Pilot.)

Richmond, Va., Oct. 9.—Col. John J. Williams, Commander of the Grand Camp, Confederate Veterans, is very ill at his home at Winchester. He will be taken on a special car to Johns Hopkins Hospital to-morrow for an operation for stomach trouble. He will be unable to preside over the Grand Camp meeting at Pulaski Wednesday. General Stith Bolling, of Petersburg, will, it is thought, preside.

Rally Day Exercises.
Sunday was the annual "Rally Day" of the Cumberland Street M. E. Sunday school, and it was in the form of a "Harvest Home" celebration. The decorations consisted of a magnificent display of country produce, fruits and flowers, reflecting the highest credit upon those who arranged it.

The exercises were presided over by the superintendent, Mr. E. J. Whitehurst, and the admirably arranged program, as published in the Virginian-Pilot Saturday, was carried out to the gratification of the large audience.

THE NORFOLK COURTS.

WILLS PROBATED—COKE CASE CONTINUED—NATURALIZED.

The last will and testament of Mrs. Cornelia Wickham Taylor was admitted to probate in the Corporation Court yesterday. The estate left by Mrs. Taylor is valued at $35,000 and Colonel Walter H. Taylor and Mr. Richard C. Taylor, named in the document as executors, qualified under a bond of $40,000, with no surety, as directed in the will. The executors are sons of the deceased.

To her daughter, Mary Louise, is bequeathed all the furniture, crockery, etc., belonging to the testatrix, and the house No. 249 Freemason street and the sum of $10,000. The silverware is to be divided equally between the three daughters of the testatrix, Mary Louise, Nina and Maggie. To L. Page Taylor, a son, is willed the sum of $5,000, and to Sallie S. Tomkins, a dear friend, is given $100. The will directs that $100, bequeathed in a former will to Annie Elizabeth Cowdery, a sister, now deceased, be appropriated in erecting a tombstone over the grave of the testatrix's deceased son, Wickham Taylor. The remainder of the estate, the will directs, shall be divided equally between the children of the deceased, excepting Mary Louise and L. Page Taylor, previously provided for. An inventory of the estate is waived.

WILL OF A. A. COWDERY.

The will of the late A. A. Cowdery was admitted to probate in the Corporation Court yesterday. The paper was dated January 2d, 1899. To Annie Elizabeth Cowdery, the sister of the testator, is bequeathed all the real and personal property of the deceased, and in the event of her death this property shall go to Walter Herron Taylor, the second son of the testator's sister, Cornelia Wickham Taylor. The first named beneficiary having died, the property reverts to Colonel Taylor.

WILL OF ANNIE E. COWDERY.

The will of Annie Elizabeth Cowdery was also admitted to probate. She bequeathed her entire property, real and personal, to her brother, A. A. Cowdery, and in the event of his death to her nephew, Walter Herron Taylor. There were no executors named in either of the two wills last mentioned.

COKE CASE CONTINUED.

The case of W. A. Coke, charged with feloniously shooting James A. Ridgewell several months ago, was again continued in the Corporation Court yesterday. Absence of witnesses for both sides was the ground of continuance. A large crowd of spectators were present to hear the case, which promises to be interesting. It was set for trial on the 24th instant.

Attorneys R. T. Thorp, Joseph Stebbins, Jr., and E. R. F. Wells qualified to practice in the Corporation Court.

NATURALIZED.

Full naturalization papers were granted to Peter Woleken, a native of Holland, who two years ago announced his intention by papers filed in the Corporation Court of this city of becoming a citizen of the United States.

IN THE CLERK'S OFFICE.

A marriage license was granted by Clerk Royster yesterday to Luther H. Matthews, of Henrico county, and Miss Isabel Chitt Christian, of Norfolk.

A deed was recorded transferring from Edward J. Myers to George Staynor, an improved lot at the corner of Ward and Moran avenues, Atlantic City Ward, $4,900.

Mr. S. Daniels has entered suit in the Court of Law and Chancery against the Farmers' Manufacturing Company for $2,296.60; assumption.

POLICE COURT RACKET.

The usual large Monday morning docket greeted his Honor yesterday. He disposed of them in the following manner:

Willie Williams, colored, fined $3 for engaging in a pugilistic encounter.

Estelle Johnson, colored, was disorderly and paid $6. Estelle also committed contempt of court, and an additional $10 was necessary to secure her release.

George Briggs, colored, who carved Frank Winslow, also colored, was fined $5.50. Winslow was assaulted by William Briggs, who was tried separately, and fined $3.

Rebecca Johnson, colored, thought to be insane, was held for a commission in lunacy to look into her case.

Richard Ruddick, colored, held for the county authorities on the charge of stealing.

Ed. Smith, colored, charged with cutting William Green, will have a hearing this morning.

William Baker, colored, delivered to county authorities on the charge of grand larceny.

S. Schneider, charged with doing business on Sunday, was dismissed for lack of proof.

Maria Myers, colored, cut Jim Snead in a drunken rage and was fined $3.50.

Jail Commission Answers Queries.

The Jail Commission held a meeting last night to prepare answers to further inquiries received from several architects who intend submitting plans for the new jail. Nothing further was done. Mr. D. J. Callahan's resignation as Councilman does not affect his position as chairman of this commission, since the Councils, anticipating his resignation, passed a resolution several weeks ago providing that the body should be a permanent one, and that its members should be such as individuals and not as Councilmen.

MUSICAL NOTES

Grand Benefit Concert for Benefit of St. Vincent's Hospital.

Under Auspices of Norfolk Council No. 367, Knights of Columbus—Virginia and North Carolina Talent on the Program.

The generous hearted and music loving people of Norfolk will soon have an opportunity of hearing one of the finest concerts ever given in this city, and at the same time aid in a most worthy cause, namely, the rebuilding of St. Vincent's Hospital, lately destroyed by fire.

On Thursday, October 19th, there will be given at the Academy of Music a grand concert for the benefit of the rebuilding fund of the above institution, which will be under the auspices of Norfolk Council No. 367, Knights of Columbus. The concert will of the very finest order, as only a selection of the very best talent in the city will take part, among whom are Miss Mary McGee, Miss Alice Oliver, vocal teacher, Norfolk College; Miss Gertrude Augusta Gehre, pianist of Leachewood School, late of Baltimore; Mrs. J. P. Kevill, Mrs. Chas. A. Smith, of Columbus, C.; Miss Alice James, of Raleigh, N. C.; Prof. Wm. H. Jones, Mr. Jas. E. Duncan, Mr. Wm. Crivell, Mr. Terry B. Gordon, Mr. Wm. Richards, vocal director Leachewood school; Prof. A. F. Koerner, Chas. Borjes, Albert Howard Garrett, of the Norfolk Conservatory of Music, and a few others who will be mentioned later.

A full orchestra, under the direction of Prof. M. P. Kruger, will be on hand to furnish music for the occasion.

The management of the theatre has kindly tendered the use of the Academy free of charge for the evening.

Prof. Kruger's Monticello orchestra is again delighting the patrons of the house after an intermission of several weeks. It now numbers ten members, and the up-to-date music is rendered in a manner that delights all who hear it.

The beautiful ballad "Always" by the author of "Because," is having a great run, and no doubt will become as popular as its sister song.

Mr. James W. Casey has accepted the position as organist and choir master at the York Street Catholic Church, and entered on his duties Sunday.

The Y. M. C. A. Mandolin and Glee Club met last night for practice at the residence of Prof. W. H. Ward, corner of Rose and Claiborne avenues.

CHANGE OF FAITH.

A YOUNG METHODIST MINISTER UNITES WITH BAPTIST CHURCH.

Rev. Charles I. Stengle, the well-known young Methodist minister, united with Spurgeon Memorial Baptist Church, Brambleton Ward, at the close of the service Sunday morning and at night he was baptized. Mr. Stengle preached at Spurgeon Memorial Sunday morning by invitation, and at the close of the sermon presented himself for membership, with the explanation of his change of views respecting infant and adult baptism, as published in Sunday's issue of this paper, take place Sunday afternoon. The following ministers have been invited to participate in the ceremony, which has been fixed for 4 o'clock in Spurgeon Memorial Church: Rev. J. J. Taylor, D. D., of Freemason Street Baptist Church; Rev. E. B. Hatcher, of the First Baptist Church; Rev. J. J. Hall, D. D., of the Park Avenue Baptist Church; Rev. R. D. Dudley, of the Central Avenue Baptist Church, and Rev. T. C. Skinner, of the Berkeley Avenue Baptist Church, Berkeley.

At the Methodist preachers' weekly meeting yesterday a letter from Mr. Stengle was read, informing the ministers of his action and reason therefor. Mr. Stengle attended the Baptist preachers' meeting yesterday.

The article in Sunday's Virginian-Pilot, foretelling what occurred at Spurgeon Memorial during the day, attracted several hundred people more than could find seats in the building.

Subscriptions to St. Vincent's. The following subscriptions to St. Vincent's Hospital re-building fund were received by Treasurer Beaman yesterday:

McMenamen & Co., crab packers, of Hampton, $200; Miss M. D. Milson, of Norfolk, $5; Elias Ball, of Norfolk, $250.

In the list of subscriptions raised by the Fourth Ward committee it appeared in Sunday's paper that E. J. White contributed $1. Mr. White's subscription was $10. The Fourth Ward committee raised a handsome total, and the members desire to thank Mr. John J. Kelly for his able assistance in canvassing the ward. The committee was composed of Messrs. W. M. Rettew, A. Hofheimer and C. F. Smith.

"American Lady"
Corsets are on the tidal wave of popularity.

Yesterday hundreds of women accepted our invitation to come and see them demonstrated by our expert in our corset department. Many more will come today, and to-morrow, and every other day this week.

The "American Lady" demonstrator tells you more about corsets than you have ever thought possible to know. She does not decry the merits of other makes. Instead, she points out the true worth of the "American Lady" Corsets, and to the most sceptical women she proves, beyond the shadow of a doubt, that no matter what their cost may be, no other corsets possess so many good features as the "American Lady."

When you buy corsets it is to your interest to buy such as have stood the test of wear by women who appreciate the many little points that tend to make or mar the beauties of form.

We give below a description, and list of prices, of the various styles of "American Lady" Corsets.

The demonstrator fits the corsets to your figure free of charge.

STYLE 52—Short and medium waist—A Corset conforming to the figure, following closely the curves of the waist, and allowing the hips to swell out suddenly. It also leaves the bust uncompressed, avoiding the "pushed up" effect so unnatural where a woman possesses a surplus of flesh. White or drab jean, satteen striped, $1. Black satteen, $1.

STYLE 187—Long Waist—made of coutille in white and drab, and English saffron in black. A particularly favorite corset with ladies desiring comfort, beauty of outline and lasting qualities at a moderate price. $1. Style 182—Extra long waist—same in other respects as style 187—$1.

STYLE 108—Short and long waist—the white and drab are made of extra quality jean, and the black of fine English saffron, all with fine satteen bone pockets having two wide bones in each strip; handsomely embroidered. $1.

STYLE 32—Extra short, short and long waist—the original French gored—needs no "breaking in"—supplies the first principle of good dress. Reduces the apparent size of the waist producing an elegant figure without any undue pressure—white and drab—$1.

OTHER STYLES, at $1.25, $1.50, $1.75, $2, $2.50, $3, $3.50 and $4.
