LOCAL AND PERSONAL

An unusually large number of traveling salesmen and other transients have enlivened the city this week.

Mrs. J. B. Moore and son of Seattle have been in Wenatchee for some days, and Mrs. Moor has decided to make some investments in local property.

The weather is getting warmer and winter underwear is being sidetracked.

Work on the new Wenatchee bridge is progressing fast, and every day brings a noticeable change in the appearance of the structure. The work of laying the immense pipe from the high line ditch is going on steadily, and by autumn it is thought the bridge will be finished, and the forking pipe carried across, one section on either side of the bridge.

The mayoralty contest in Spokane has aroused considerable interest in Wenatchee, and the news of the election of Herbert C. Moore was received with much gratification on the streets.

The famous Palm Ice Cream at the Wenatchee Drug Company.

C. F. Clingenpeel, formerly a resident of Cashmere, where he was engaged in the jewelry business, is in Wenatchee this week looking over the business field. If he is successful in securing a satisfactory location, Mr. Clingenpeel will open a jewelry store in this city.

Sheriff Webb Returns.

Sheriff Webb returned last night from Walla Walla, where he went a few days ago in charge of the three men sent to the penitentiary at the last term of the Superior court for this county.

Mr. Webb returned via Seattle, and says the west slope country is suffering badly for lack of rain. Forest fires are raging in many localities, and unless rain comes soon untold damage will ensue. Residents of Wenatchee have observed the smoky aspect of the sky here during the past week, indicating fires on the other side of the mountains.

More Money for the Band.

The fund which the Daily World is raising to defray the expense of a series of Open Air concerts by the Wenatchee Military Band is growing every day. The people want the music, and the band wants only money enough to pay actual expenses. A few cents from each citizen is all that is required to raise the necessary funds. The first concert is being arranged for, and will be given within a week or so in the city park.

Go in and leave your subscription with the secretary of the Commercial club, or fill out the blank in another column of this paper, and mail it to the Daily World.

Southside Items.

A meeting of the Southside Farmers' club was held at the Beaver Creek school house Monday evening. The main topic of discussion was good roads, which was handled in an able manner by the various speakers. It was generally conceded that in times past this section has been sadly neglected but the people are determined to have better treatment in the future. Resolutions addressed to the county commissioners were passed requesting that the Wenatchee grade be brought up to a better condition. The next meeting will be on the first Monday in June at the Dry Flat school house at 7 p. m.

Deputy School Superintendent Smith visited the local schools last week.

Frank Krause has returned from Seattle.

The Dry Flat school, the strongest on the mountain, has an enrollment of twenty-seven scholars. It will close a nine months' term next month, having a total of four thousand days attendance to its credit. John Carlock is teacher.

Mrs. Lutge, a resident of Milwaukee, is visiting her brother, Frank Krause, whom she had not seen for fourteen years.

The hearing in regard to the formation of the new school district announced to be held at the county superintendent's office on May 4th, was postponed and will be held at the Dry Flat school house before Sunday.

perintendent Elliott May 31, at 2 p. m.

Seeding is nearly completed, the abundance of moisture and warm days have brought quick germination of the seed and the early sown is up and presents an even stand on the lands above the rim rock.

Malaga News.

Henry Nelson sold his ranch on Stemilt hill Monday to J. H. Richardson for a consideration of $5000.

Sand Chisholm caught a fish in Mud lake. He thought it was a whale but it was only a salmon trout two feet long and weighed eight pounds. Ask Sandy to tell you the story of how he caught it.

Mrs. Moore and son of Seattle were here visiting with their daughter and sister, Mrs. J. H. Richardson. Mr. Moore is well pleased with the valley and may decide to locate here.

While cleaning ditch and removing bridge plank, A. L. Pratten got a sliver in his thumb and is was so badly swollen and gave him so much pain that he was obliged to leave for Wenatchee Tuesday morning to get medical aid.

Rev. J. A. Graves of Wenatchee delivered a sermon at the Malaga school house Sunday morning.

A. R. Smith and family of Wenatchee were Malaga visitors Sunday.

Newt. Hanton is slightly under the weather.

J. R. Albin left for Spokane Monday morning to serve as jurymen in the United States court.

Miss Anna Miller, who has been ill the past few months, is some better.

E. M. Gillette came in from Spokane Saturday morning to spend Sunday on the ranch.

Roy Rothgeb is now a thorough-fledged fireman on one of Jim Hill's locomotives. Roy has a run from Wilson Creek to Leavenworth. He is now spending a few days with his brother Will at the Prowell ranch.

Mrs. S. R. Hannan, who has been confined to her home by sickness the past few weeks, is some better.

Sammie Hanan and family are now domiciled in their new house near Malaga.

J. H. Richardson has changed the appearance of his lately purchased ranch so that the former owner would scarcely recognize it. It was formerly owned by M. A. Jorner, who took it as a homestead.

Case Against Hedrick Dismissed.

The case of the city against Hedrick, charged with fighting in the streets, came up for trial yesterday in Justice Palmer's court. Hedrick will be remembered as having figured prominently in the historic encounter on Chelan avenue one evening last week, when E. L. Porter attacked him.

The evidence against Hedrick was not considered sufficient and the case against him was dismissed.

The whereabouts of Porter, his assailant, are still unknown, though he is expected of being in hiding in Spokane.

Myriads of Trees Planted in State.

OLYMPIA, May 7.—There are in the state of Washington 86,607 acres of land devoted to commercial orchards. Of this 15,888 acres have been added since the spring of 1906. The horticultural industry is increasing at a tremendous rate and soon will be among the very large ones of the state of Washington. All this is shown by the report of F. A. Huntley, state horticultural commissioner, for the year ending March 31, 1907, which report has just been filed with the governor.

For the first time in the history of the state a serious effort has been made to collect accurate statistics regarding the horticultural industry. At the beginning of the year 1906 the orchards of the state contained 3,772, 105 apple trees, 949,299 plum and prune trees, 746,956 peach trees, 500,663 pear trees, 243,459 cherry trees, 30,689 apricot trees, 23,862 English walnut trees, 15,185 almond trees and 6,988 quince trees.
