NEW FISHING LAW FOR STATE

LAW PASSED BY LAST LEGISLATURE MAKES CHANGES IN THE CLOSED SEASON.

The Daily World of yesterday had a little story on the new fishing laws passed by the last legislature. The statute was changed materially in the matter of the open and closed seasons, but as the new law does not go into effect until June 11, the day following the opening of the fishing season under the old law, the change will not be noticed this spring. But there can be no deep water fishing in the winter hereafter, for the season will be closed from November 1 of each year until May 1 of the following year.

The full text of the law as passed by the legislature and approved by the governor, is as follows:

Chapter 149—(S. B. 295).

Section 1. It shall be unlawful for any person in the state of Washington in any of the counties lying east of the western boundary of the counties of Okanogan, Chelan, Kootenai, Yakima and Klickitat, to take, capture, catch or kill in any of the lakes or streams therein, or have in their possession after the same has been so unlawfully taken, any trout, bass, perch, pickerel or pike, between the first day of November and the first day of May of the following year.

Sec. 2. It shall be unlawful for any person to sell or offer for sale or for any person to purchase any trout, bass, or any other game fish at any season of the year: Provided, That this section shall not apply to fish taken from private hatcheries.

Sec. 3. It shall be unlawful for any person at any time to take, capture, catch or kill any trout except native mountain brook trout or bass in the waters hereinabove described which shall be less than six inches in length, and any such fish caught shall be immediately returned to the water.

Sec. 4. It shall be unlawful for any person to take, capture, catch or kill, more than 20 pounds of trout, bass or perch in any one day and no person shall have in his or her possession at any one time more than 30 pounds of such trout, bass or perch, which may have been caught in the waters above described.

Sec. 5. Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined not less than $10 nor more than $200, together with the costs of prosecution of such action, and in default of the payment of any fine imposed under this act, shall be imprisoned in the county jail one day for every $2 of such fine.

Sec. 6. All laws or parts of laws in conflict with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

Sec. 7. Provided, That this act shall not apply in Garfield and Columbia counties.

Passed by the senate March 9, 1909.

Passed by the house March 11, 1909.

Approved March 17, 1909.

SPRAY FOR CODLING MOTH

For the benefit of those who are newcomers and for those who are inexperienced in combatting the codling moth, it would seem to be the duty of the inspection service to make at least a few brief suggestions. The time to apply the first spray is just at the time that the petals are falling and before the calyx cup closes. In most of the orchards observed here this stage will be reached about the latter part of this week.

The only object in spraying at this time is to get the poison in the calyx cup before the calyx closes. The worms will not be out for nearly a month yet. It takes a high pressure to force the liquid into the cup (150 to 200 pounds or more).

The first spraying is by far the most important one of the season, but it is a good idea to follow it up about the latter part of this month, just before the first brood hatches, in order to be sure to entirely exterminate the first brood if possible.

In case there should be any left to make a second brood (there usually is), another spraying in August is necessary.

P. S. DARLINGTON, Inspector.

C. J. Casad, who has been in charge of a lucrative position in Wenatchee during the past few months, returned home the latter part of last week. James will now be present on his homestead for the next few months, where he is having a domicile erected a couple miles up the Twisp.—Methow Valley News.
