Get the Kaiser
 Get the Kaiser and his brood.
 Get the Junkers, get them good.
 For every baby mutilated.
 For every maiden violated.
 For every homestead desolated.
 Get a Prussian.

Never let the world again
 Know such deeds are done by men.

Fight or serve or give or feed
 Do your bit for those who bleed.
 Every soul can do some deed

To get the Kaiser.

We Really Expect You

To be present at our Birthday Party Friday afternoon between the hours of 2 to 6. It's going to be a real "Cake Eating Bee." We want every school child, every man and young man, woman and miss to come and get a generous slice of the greatest cake ever baked in West Virginia. Not a selling scheme, but a sociable get together meeting when friend meets friend and all "eat, drink and be merry." We want you to come even though you live 20 miles away and have to borrow your neighbors horse and buggy or ride on the running board of a crowded Ford.

foils, screened and then taken to the "glaze." Here the final touches are put on it. The grain powder is put in large revolving barrels, like the mix barrel, along with graphite powder and revolved until dry and glazed, each separate grain, with a coat of graphite. Dry hot air is forced into the barrels to dry it. It is now run through a revolving screen and separated into the various sizes designated as F, FF & FFF. Now it is finally put into kegs and stored in the magazine till ready for shipment. The various buildings such as "The Mix," "The Press," Corning Mill, Glaze and Magazine are separated 500 feet each, in a curve, like a crescent, and connected by a tram-road. Trees are allowed to grow between them in profusion as further protection at present only blasting powders such as used in mines are made but later they contemplate making many various explosives.

HOME CIRCLE PLANS HALLOWE'EN PARTY

Fairmont Circle, No. 616, Protected Home Circle, is making arrangements to initiate a class of fifteen candidates at next Monday night's meeting. Visitors are expected from the circle at Mannington. Refreshments will be served. A masquerade ball will be held at the Armory on Tuesday evening, October 30, and arrangements have been completed for the event. Skinner's orchestra will furnish the music. Five hundred invitations have been issued for the event. The committee of arrangements is composed of Mrs. George Green, chairman, Mrs. Harry Barthlow, Mrs. John Heyman, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Miller, Lawrence Lewis, Dorsey Ford, Harvey Gantz, Frank Sullivan and Clarence Rowland. It is expected that members of the circles at Mannington and Parkersburg will attend the ball. There will be suitable decorations for the occasion. Harvey Gantz will be the floor manager. Four prizes will be awarded, two for the two best costumed gentlemen and two for the two best costumed ladies. The judges will be selected at a later date. The ball will be held between 8:30 and 12 o'clock the dancers unmasking at 11 o'clock. Among the visitors who attended last night's meeting were J. C. W. Bush, of Parkersburg, State Deputy, who delivered an address on the "War Fund." Recently the Protected Home Circle laid an assessment of fifty cents on each member to create a fund to pay for the members killed in the European war. B. M. Varner, of Mannington, district deputy for this district, was also in attendance.

Miss Sue K. Watson Has Sailed for France

Miss Sue Kearsley Watson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Watson of this city, sailed for an Atlantic port on Sunday for "Somewhere in France" where she will work with the French civilian relief committee. Miss Watson has been working with the committee in this county almost since the outbreak of the war and recently was commissioned to continue the work abroad. She was accompanied by a friend, Miss Marger Moore, and the two young women, realizing the need of transportation facilities in their work took with them a motor truck.

Stomach Trouble Cured By DRECO

No person who has a deranged stomach can enjoy or expect anything but suffering and misery that will eventually lead to more serious disease or even death. The disorders of this vital organ are many and varied, but all lead to the weakening of the general health through its failure to perform the all-important function of nourishing the body. Starvation is the result; the entire system is weakened and the victim becomes an easy prey to disease in many forms. Stomach trouble manifests itself by unmistakable symptoms that should be immediately heeded. Its presence is indicated by lassitude, uncomfortable sensations in the region of the stomach, an eructation of gas, lack of appetite, bad taste and foul breath. Sleeplessness and nervousness generally accompany stomach trouble. The organ which nature intended should furnish self-sustaining nourishment for the body becomes a generator of poisons, which are taken up by the blood, resulting in disagreeable blotches, pimples, boils and more serious diseases of the blood and skin. Nature has provided her own remedies for the correction of disorders of the stomach, and they are combined in a most efficient form by Dreco. When taken according to directions, and aided by careful attention to habits and diet, all indications of a disordered stomach will speedily disappear, the stomach is aided in its work of digesting food, the body is properly nourished. Dreco has demonstrated its worth in thousands of cases of stomach trouble, the proof of its efficiency is shown by the thousands of grateful men and women who have been relieved and restored to sound health through this powerful remedy.

THE HONEST FACT.

When I'm all through with vacation
 And back to the grind of a job,
 I take up my life's occupation
 But somehow my heart doesn't throbb
 With joy to be earnestly toiling
 And done with the trial and bluff,
 To tell you the truth, I am spoiling
 For more of vacation-time stuff.
 I'm fond, in a way, of my labor,
 I'm really a hard-working oaf,
 But, just to be frank with you, neighbor,
 It's lots more delightful to loaf;
 I'd rather hunt mallards than orders,
 Though profits, I know, must be made;
 I'd much rather widen the borders
 Of fun and amusement than trade.
 I never was guilty of shirking,
 I know it's my task to produce;
 But while I'm quite willingly working
 I'd greatly prefer to be loose;
 For two weeks of blithe recreation
 So fill me with vigor and cheer,
 That I could go on with vacation
 For all of the rest of the year!

There are many people living in Fairmont who have little knowledge of some of the industries going on around them. Many people to whom I have talked have been surprised to learn that there was a powder mill built or building near Fairmont, and especially that there was a large plant building for the purpose of making powder, nitro-glycerine, dynamite and other explosives. A few years back some enterprising individuals bought the Merredith Prickett farm near Houit and opposite South Rivesville and started a boom along the contemplated line of the Wabash railroad. They cleared up a large fine park in the woods, called it East Fairmont Park, built a dancing pavilion laid off town lots, printed plenty of advertising and held a lot sale. But the Wabash stopped building and the newly slacked river did not turn out to be much of a factor in transportation and the boom died and the farm of about 150 acres fell into the hands of Father Boutlou. Last winter it was bought by the promoters of the Monongahela Powder Company and work began in March. While this plant is not large in comparison with many large plants yet the buildings are scattered all over the 150 acres and those built or building number nearly forty.

Not many can be seen from the railroad but the main building and warehouse is over 300 feet long, sandwiched between a sidetrack and a wagon roadway. In this building is not only stored the materials for the making of the powder but they are also ground and finely pulverized preparatory to mixing.

Not many persons will ever inspect the buildings in which blasting powder is now being made as no one but employees actual needed there are allowed about the buildings and they must have no matches about and wear rubber solid shoes without any tacks or metal about them. In the construction of buildings all nails were well and deeply set and bolts and bolt heads covered with wood. Much machinery is of brass and wood, and iron is not allowed to come in contact with iron. Thousands of brass screws were used in fastening together bins, hoppers, elevators and other things. This will show what precautions are taken to prevent the fatal spark.

Electricity taken from the lines of the M. V. T. Co. is the power used but each building requiring power has a separate power or motor house and the power is transmitted through several belts and wood pulleys, not only to reduce speed of machinery but prevent a possible spark from the motor.

The making of power is very simple. Three ingredients enter into it, rhazuoal, sulphur and nitrate of soda, just the common nitrate of soda you buy as a fertilizer and put on your garden crops. These after being very finely pulverized at the main warehouse as before stated are hauled up the hill to the mix house where they are dumped in a large revolving wood drum or "barrel" about 12 feet long and thoroughly mixed. This damp mixture is then taken to the Press house and under hydraulic pressure of about six thousand pounds to the square inch it comes forth as square cakes about a half inch thick and two feet square. It is now taken to the "corning" mill where these hard sheets are ground through bronze
