MONONGAH

Small Five on Water Street.
Crossed wires are supposed to have caused the fire which started in the garage in Water Street owned by the Consolidation Coal company and rented to Albert Robey. The garage was completely destroyed, along with two large automobiles. One car belonged to Duft Morris, and the other to Donley Smith. Mr. Morris' machine was covered by insurance, but no insurance was carried by Mr. Smith.

Fishing Shanty Burns.
A fishing shanty near Booth's creek, which was built last summer by some of the local boys, caught on fire last night and was destroyed before the flames could be subdued. Some time during the afternoon the boys decided to make a fire and warm up the shanty, intending to hold a social meeting. They neglected to put out the fire which was made of coal, and in less than an hour their real estate was destroyed. Vern Levi was one of the principal stockholders.

Talks on Prohibition.
Rev. Radabaugh, of Bellington, who spoke at the M. P. church here Sunday morning on the subject of prohibition, said that a greater effort should be made by the non-drinking public to crush the sale and manufacture of intoxicating drinks.

Given Surprise.
Mrs. Rasanna Fletcher was given a surprise birthday party at her home in West Monongah Friday evening by a number of her friends. Mrs. Fletcher is nearing her eighty-fourth birthday, but she has very good health, does her own shopping and takes care of her home. For the past three years her friends have given her a surprise party on each birthday, and Mrs. Fletcher enjoys them very much.

Revival Services.
Revival services will be held this evening at the M. P. church by Rev. Ralph McCoy. Services will begin at 7:30.

Uster Still Objects.
LONDON, Jan. 8.—Uster's determination not to enter the Irish Free State has been strengthened since the Belfast correspondent of the Daily Mail. Uster fears considerable damage to the business of the Free State from tariffs to be established by the new government and foresees great hindrance to trade from the location of customs houses on her borders. These evils, however, would be small in comparison with the wholesale disaster which it is believed in Uster would follow her incorporation into a state dominated by the Danes and faced at the outset with the possibility of having to quell a republican rising.

Uster is resolved to oppose to the utmost in the British parliament the threatened revision of her boundaries under the treaty just ratified. The Sinn Fein represented in Uster is not concealing its intention to get control of the greater part of the counties Fermanagh and Tyrone as well as the city of Londonderry and part of Downshire. It is contended that, if this came about, the remainder of Uster would be too small to bear the expense of a separate government.

Government Transfer.
LONDON, Jan. 9.—Transfer of the administrative powers to the new southern Ireland government, created under the treaty ratified Saturday by the Dail Eireann in Dublin, is to be arranged immediately. It is understood that the British commissioners appointed under the chairmanship of Secretary for Colonies Churchill, will resume its work which was suspended in consequence of the prolonging of the debate in the Dail. Much preparatory work already has been accomplished, allowing the ministers to proceed immediately with arrangements for execution of British troops, declaration of a general amnesty and handing over the administrative departments in Dublin to the new government.

The date of the transfer of powers depends upon events of the next few days.

MAKE NOMINATION.
DUBLIN, Jan. 9.—Arthur Griffith was placed in nomination this afternoon in the Dail Eireann for the office of chief executive, to form a provisional government for Ireland. Michael Collins placed Griffith in nomination and the motion was seconded by John McKewen.

SEN. NEWBERRY

litical office, and that I could not take any personal active interest in a campaign while I continued to be an officer on duty in the United States navy.

While I was considering whether or not it was my duty to become a candidate for the United States senate at the November election of 1918, I said to Mr. Allen Templeton, a citizen of Detroit, who was actively engaged in a large industry in which I was a stockholder, and was also president of the Detroit board of commerce that if I should decide to become a candidate I hoped I would meet with the approval of my Detroit business friends and that I trusted the campaign might be looked after by business men of that description. This is as far as I had any direct connection with the selection of the committee of business men, whose management of the campaign in my behalf I shall remember with gratitude, as long as I live.

Mr. Newberry said that Paul H. King was induced to take the active management of the campaign without the senator having any part in the selection, and Mr. King went to Brooklyn to see him. He did not discuss details of the campaign, he said, other than to mention the probable cost, when King told him it would "cost my friends approximately $50,000. This is the only amount of money which I ever heard of, directly or indirectly, mentioned until after the primary election and the report of the committee was filed."

"I did not solicit or expend, directly or indirectly, a single dollar in the campaign for senator in Michigan in 1918, nor did I know of the contributions made until afterward. The two statements which I made under oath to the senate are wholly true."

Mr. Newberry then quoted the first.

"The campaign for my nomination for United States senator has been voluntarily conducted by my friends in Michigan. I have taken no part in it whatever and no contributions or expenditures have been made with my knowledge or consent."

The second, he said, "dated August 23, 1918, with the same omissions, and in addition to the printed form to which I sincerely subscribed, I wrote with my own hand, as follows:

"None of the head of 'contributions'—none of the head of 'Disbursements'—none with my knowledge and consent." I have read a general statement of Paul H. King concerning the expenditures made by a voluntary committee of my friends, but these were made without my knowledge or consent."

"As every senator knows, this form refers only to campaign contributions, disbursements and promises, and to nothing else. I had not the slightest intention of misleading anyone in making this statement nor do I believe any fair minded man was in the least deceived thereby."

"The form of report furnished by the senate under the act of congress then supposed to be in force (but which has since been declared to be void) called for a full, correct and itemized statement, out of all of campaign contributions, names of contributors, of all expenditures and the purposes for which the expenditures were made."

"I had not the knowledge required to make such a verified report. Had my affidavit so stated this fact, all criticism would have been avoided. I made the statement in the form it was made in, without consulting with anyone and it was literally true. I had taken no active part in the campaign. I had not even in Michigan. I have neither received nor expended any funds, and had no personal knowledge to enable me to make the report called for."

"In my statement filed with the secretary of the senate, I did all

YOKOHAMA, Japan.
Nov. 28, 1921.

Dr. Mr. and Mrs. Steeple.
Sister and I are still in the land of "cherry blossoms." Only now we are almost freezing in our house of paper and light wood, and no heat, scarce! Japan is not a tropical or a semi-tropical country, we have discovered.

We are very busy teaching as usual. Often I think of my friends at Fairmont and wish that I could see you all.

Thank you for sending me the church calendar. I was so glad to hear that so many members had joined our church. You know must find great pleasure in contemplating the results of your earnest labors during your busy years at Fairmont.

Our pastor, Dr. Manchester, seems to be very well liked indeed. He is a native of Boston and had spent several years in South America before coming here.

This fall sister and I were entertained at a garden party given by the Emperor and Empress at the Imperial palace, in Tokyo. As the Emperor is insane he was not present, but the Empress and Crown Prince were present. Only persons who can claim an audience with their king can be invited. All Americans can be presented to our president, so any American can be invited. It was quite interesting.

Our ambassador entertained in honor of General Wood when here, then again on Thanksgiving day. Then last Wednesday evening the Americans in Yokohama gave a dinner at the Grand hotel in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Warren. I enjoy these functions so much for I do get lonely to see a real assembly of real true blue Americans.

Best wishes to you and Mrs. Steeple.

Sincerely,
VIOLETA A. WOLFE.

the trying period of last year demonstrated a most impressive stability, strength and soundness of management.

National banks chartered during the year totaled 169, the report showed, with aggregate capitalization of $20,005,000. In the same period 24 banks were reported to have failed and 93 to have gone into voluntary liquidation.

STOCKS SHOW SOME STRENGTH

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Stocks were disposed to strengthen at the opening of today's session, a sentimental factor probably being the further pronounced recovery of British and other allied foreign exchanges. Coppers, sugars and tobaccos gained 1 to 2 points. Within the first half hour, however, selling of oils and rails was actively resumed. Chicago and Northwestern, one of last week's heaviest features, declined 1 3/8 points to a new low record for the current movement and Delaware and Hudson and Mexican and Pan-American petroleum became reactionary. Union Pacific, American Can and East Iron pipe preferred also were under pressure.

Ignoring the 4 per cent. opening rate for call money, stocks developed a heavier tone in the first half of the session. Another cut in Pennsylvania prices provoked further liquidation throughout that group. Associated oil, California Petroleum, Standard Oil of New Jersey and Houston, Middle States and General Asphalt common and preferred lost 1 to 2 1/2 points. Representative rails also were lower. Crucible, Harvester, American and Baldwin Locomotives and Railway Steel Spring falling 1 to 1 1/2. Chicago and Northwestern continued to weaken and Erie common and first preferred were heavily sold. Mercantile marine preferred was the one strong feature rising 1 5/8.

Shipings and inactive specialties added to their gains at mid day, as did also several of the junior rails. Such as St. Louis and Erie, Frisco, Toledo, St. Louis and Western preferred, and Lake Erie and Western preferred. Weakness was shown by Virginia Iron Coal and Coke, Montana Power and the cheaper oils.

Erie share weakness had a nervous effect on the market, shipings and equipments however were strong. The closing was regular, bonds firm. A 3 per cent. call money rate and a sharp rally in foreign exchange were disregarded in today's stock market. Many issues were reactionary on heavy selling of rails and oils, sales approximated 550,000 shares.

Senator Newberry said that he had always been his understanding that in Michigan primaries of the cost was not borne by the candidate, the committee might spend what amount it pleased for the eleven objects enumerated in the Michigan law.

"I therefore assumed from the start," he added, "and I still believe, that the law was carefully obeyed."

"So far as I am personally concerned, I did NOT spend in the primary campaign in Michigan, a single dollar, directly or indirectly, and with the exception of a personal contribution of $1,500 to the Republican state central committee this is equally true of the general election. In spite of the fact that the people of my state were bombarded from every side by every means of publicity, I appeal, with every detail of every charge made against me in connection with the primary, I was elected fairly and honorably a senator from the state of Michigan."

Senator Newberry concluded his statement at two o'clock. There was just one handclap, as I know, Walsh, Democrat, Montana, then began questioning the senator.

Senator Newberry, standing and leaning on his desk, looked across the chamber as Senator Walsh asked if it were true that he did not go on the stand in his trial at Grand Rapids.

"Yes," Senator Newberry replied.

TO ATTEND CONFERENCE

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Jan. 9.—The Russian Soviet government has accepted the invitation of the powers to attend the conference on European economy, says an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Cannes this afternoon.

"I had not the knowledge required to make such a verified report. Had my affidavit so stated this fact, all criticism would have been avoided. I made the statement in the form it was made in, without consulting with anyone and it was literally true. I had taken no active part in the campaign. I had not even in Michigan. As Soon This Morning Betty Connors as Hobbs Little Minnie, announced that she was a very creditable work. The story is known to the screen version of it, not disappal for it is a very strong and beautiful picture.

The scene are laid in the high Scottish village of Thurns and its settings with the story and its times. There are many dramatic situations well enacted by a splendid cast.

It is a picture that both old and young should see and Fairmont is very fortunate in having the opportunity to see portrayed this classic. A Mack Sennet comedy of the usual type completed the program.

The Dixie.

As Seen This Morning "Wedding Bells," in which Constance Talmage is seen in the lead role, is a picture merely for entertainment, in which there are many complications, and a number of amusing situations.

A little poodle dog is the medium through which our heroine and her future husband are brought together in a most unusual way, and they are later separated because she has her hair bobbed. After many months they meet again just as the husband is about to be married, but something happens just in the nick of time to prevent the marriage and there is a reconciliation between himself and first love.

As a part of the entertainment, a Hippodrome.

An entire change of program will be presented today which will be of a varied nature.

The Princess.

As Seen This Morning "The Age of Heaia" is a melodrama, and the story concerns an organization known as "The Mystic Council," composed of several men and one woman, who are striving to reform the world by violent means. They single out their victims and then, bound their feet, stop and finally meet out the punishment they think they deserve.

But at last love comes into the hearts of the woman and one of the men and they marry, and then they realize that construction, not a destruction, is what the world needs, and that love gives one courage, but only to do good deeds.

A comedy in which a trained dog does some very clever things is the added feature.

A Mack Sennet comedy of the usual type completes the program.

Robbers Attack Rural Carrier

WELLSBURG, Va., Jan. 9.—Herman Williams, a rural mail carrier out of here, was attacked by a highwayman shortly after noon. He was knocked down with a club, and as he fell reached to his pocket as though to pull a pistol. The highwayman, fearing Williams drew to the house of a nearby farmer where he collapsed. He was brought to his home here. His skull was fractured and he is believed to have been fatally injured. Approximately 2,000 in cash was said to have been in the mail Williams carried.
