

THE ANCHORIA'S STORY.

1200 MILES AT SEA WITH HER MAIN SHAFT BROKEN.

Drifts at the Mercy of the Waves for Fourteen Days With a Broken Rudder. Two Parties Set out for Assistance—Rescued From St. John's.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., Oct. 11.—The following report represents the prominent incidents of the Anchoria disaster: Captain Small left Glasgow Sept. 18 for New York, with 200 passengers and crew. September 23, a strong gale sprung up and the ship broke her propeller shaft, when about 1200 miles west of Ireland. A panic was avoided only by the officers assuring the passengers that there was no danger of sinking. Her sails were hoisted, but the rudder gear having given out, she drifted helplessly for two weeks. Many attempts at repairs to the shaft were made, but all in vain. On October 8 the engines were again started, but after 15 revolutions the shaft broke again, this time beyond repairing. A consultation was now held, and the exact position of the ship was found to be 80 miles from Newfoundland. As provisions were running short, for some days all having been bent down to two meals a day, first officer McFarlane and six others, Mr. Hay, Mr. Tuttle, Dr. Luck, Farrington, Mr. Greene and two others volunteered to launch a boat to try to reach shore. They bravely took their places, carrying a quantity of biscuit in this, and two casks of water. As the brave fellows put from the ship's side, many were affected by tears, and amidst the silent prayers, they pulled away with no land in sight, and with no probability of reaching it. No word was spoken but the pent up feelings of the 200 on board found expression in loud long cheers. Heartfelt cries of "God speed ye safe" were heard as the boat disappeared from view. The first officer was instructed by the captain to secure the boat, and to reach St. John's. Friday the ship made but little headway, and the expected steamer did not come. Saturday at noon the glad cry of "land" ran through the ship, and a volunteer crew soon pulled toward shore.

It subsequently transpired that the first boat landed at St. John's at 2 p. m. yesterday, the second reached Pouch Cove, 20 miles north, at 4 p. m. A few hours later the steamer tug Favorite was sent to the Anchoria and towed her here. There were two boats and two others at sea. The passengers who were landed at Pouch Cove were heartily welcomed. At one time provisions got very low, the passengers being cut down to two meals a day.

THE CHICAGO TROUBLE.

Pinkerton's Force Increased to 100 Men. Each Heavily Armed.

CHICAGO, Oct. 10.—There was no disturbance at the stock yards to-day, but the entire vicinity of the great packing houses was crowded with significant preparations. Pinkerton's force at the yards has been increased to 100 men, and each one of them is armed with a revolver and rifle. The day for free packing establishment of Washington, D.C., and the sale of converted into trucks, and will be headquarters of the force until the trouble has blown over.

TRAGEDY BEHIND THE CURTAIN.

A Man Murders His Mistress and Himself in a Theatre Dressing Room.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 10.—Shortly before the performance was to begin this evening at the Alhambra theatre, a tragedy was enacted behind the scenes. Jesse Martello, a rather pretty, slender woman, was stabbed and instantly killed by Frank Handmeyer, who immediately ended his own existence. The victims are said to have been husband and wife, and at least to have occupied that relation. The cause of the tragedy is supposed to have been jealousy. During the afternoon Handmeyer, a worthless fellow, quarrelled with his woman. This evening he called her from her private dressing room, where she was preparing for the night's performance, into the general dressing room, and was heard to say "are you going to do that," to which she replied very decidedly "no." Instantly Handmeyer struck her with a knife, the blade penetrating into her neck, and she fell to the floor dead, without a cry. Then without moving from his tracks the murderer plunged the weapon into his own heart, and fell dead beside his victim. The woman was about thirty years old.

AN ANARCHIST PLOT.

Discovery of a Diabolical Plan to Destroy the City of Vienna.

VIENNA, Oct. 11.—The police have furnished the press with an account of the recently discovered anarchist plot to burn Vienna. Although many details are suppressed, the plot is shown to have surpassed in extent and diabolical ingenuity any dynamic plot hitherto concocted, and 17 conspirators have been arrested. The examination of the prisoners shows that the plot was hatched in and directed from America and London, and was to have been carried out by Viennese anarchists who recently returned from America. The plot was cleverly organized. The conspirators were divided into groups, one of which was detailed to set fire to the town, another to take charge of the dynamite operations and another to force the necessary official documents and to coin money for expenses.

THE ANARCHISTS TO HANG.

Judge Gary Fixed Upon December 3 Next, as the Fatal Day.

CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—Anarchist Parsons spoke continuously in his own defense for five hours and 40 minutes on Saturday, and sank into his seat completely exhausted. Judge Gary was about to pronounce sentence, when Capt. Black desired that a motion in arrest of judgment be entered. Mr. Grinnell having assured him that no merely technical matters should interfere with the defendants' rights, the court proceeded to execute the solemn duty devolving upon him. In brief but impressive words and in tones which at any time would have commanded respect and attention, the judge gave fitting expression to the judgment of the court. His face worked convulsively when he began, and when he reached the word "hanged" he faltered, and could with difficulty utter "fill you are dead." The last words were scarcely audible. The date fixed was the 3d of December. Thousands of copies of the speeches of the doomed men will be printed and sold, to raise funds to carry the cases to the Supreme Court.

Horsford's Acid Phosphate.

A Good Tonic.

DR. R. WILLIAM, of New York, says: "It is a good general tonic and very of trial." Vegetables are so many cases of anemia and blood humors that its value is unquestioned.

IT IS PLEURO-PNEUMONIA.

So Pronounced by Leading Veterinarians—The Restrictive Law Inefficient.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—The commissioner of agriculture has written to A. W. Cheever of Boston, as follows: In reply to the question as to whether there can be any doubt as to the existence of contagious pleuro-pneumonia among the cattle of certain distillery stables in Chicago, I would state that Dr. Salmon, chief of the bureau of animal industry, and Drs. Murray and Rose, veterinarians of long service, and of much experience in diagnosing and detecting this disease, unhesitatingly pronounce it pleuro-pneumonia.

The department is doing all possible under the law to prevent its spreading, but this law is very defective. Effective measures of extirpation can not be taken, unless all cattle owners join in asking Congress this winter to pass a law that will give this department authority to slaughter diseased animals and a fund sufficient to at least partly indemnify the owners. The disease still prevails in and around New York, in New Jersey, somewhat in Pennsylvania and Delaware, quite extensively in Baltimore, and in a few Virginia counties, and quite extensively in some of the distillery and other stables in Chicago.

A GREAT STRIKE.

20,000 Chicago Pork-packers Involved in a Strike—Trouble Anticipated.

CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—Over 20,000 operators are involved in a strike of pork packers in Chicago. Two thousand left this morning and others will soon follow. The men are marching the street and much excitement prevails. The cause is that the 10-hour system is to be resumed next Monday. All of Armour & Co.'s men and those of five other big pork packing firms are in the trouble. Some of Morrill & Co.'s men wanted to return to work, when the strikers at once invaded their place to stop their work, and a serious riot was imminent. Pinkerton's detectives were summoned, and at 6 p. m. 150 of them sat down to supper with Winchester rifles between their knees. By tomorrow 300 will be in and about the yards, for an emergency. The Pinkerton's arrived at 4 o'clock and were greeted by derisive yells from a crowd of 2000, which filled the street. The crowd inside it so impudently that the command was given to fire, and the company and needed for the trouble. Armour is left with 1000 men in his yard to feed. His employees came out for 20 cents advance. The men all quit with their knives and other sharp edged tools in their possession. Much trouble is feared.

THE THEOLOGICAL CONTROVERSY.

Five Andover Professors Summoned Before the Board of Visitors Oct. 25.

CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—Several Massachusetts men, prominent in the Congregational church, deny that five professors of Andover Theological seminary are charged with heresy. The real situation is this: The board of visitors to the seminary drew up a very strict creed to which every professor must pledge himself or himself. The five professors, Smith, Tucker, Harris, Himes and Galloway, editors of the Andover Review, are charged with denying their names and this pledge, while their doctrines do not conform to it, and have been summoned to answer Oct. 25, by the board of visitors, whose power to hear the complaint, however, the accused men deny.

GEN. MILES'S REPORT.

The Conditions of the Surrender of Gerontino and His Renegade Band.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—Gen. Miles's annual report received at the war department is a voluminous document containing a full history of his operations against Gerontino and his band, with a statement of his position in regard to the terms of the surrender. Some days prior to the surrender a deserter came into Gen. Miles's camp with the information that Gerontino and his band were nearly exhausted and could not hold out much longer. A parley was held and finally Gerontino and Natchez surrendered as prisoners of war, subject to the commands of the president. Gerontino justifies his leaving the reservation by claiming that there existed a conspiracy against his life.

A Yellowish Coat.

Upon the tongue, particularly near its base, is of itself sufficient to denote idleness, and to the development of which the weather—It may be remarked in passing—is extremely favorable, and which autumn often brings in its train as a lingering legacy. If not removed, which it possibly may be, with Rosette's stomach bitters, then follow aggravated disorders of the stomach and bowels, and pains beneath the lower right rib—indigestion and headache. A proper use of his invigorating specific is always desirable, no matter what the reason. Upon the liver it acts as an influence directly beneficial. For bile, the secretion of the liver is regulated by the relaxation of the bile ducts, and the portion of it which has passed its way out, and contaminated the blood is expelled. The secretion also returns to its digestive function. Intemperance, fever and ague and kidney troubles also succumb to the bitters.

They Will Surely Find You.

They are looking for you everywhere. Breath of air in unexpected places, coming from hot rooms to cool ones, carrying with it changing clothing. In short, anything which ends in a "commotion" in the head. Unless arrested this kind of cold becomes seated in the mucous membrane of the head. Then it is a danger. In any and all its stages this disease always yields to Ely's Cream Balm. Applied to the nostrils with the finger, safe, sure, and sure to cure. For every cold.
