BURLINGTON STATION HEARING. May 28, at the city court room, Burlington, 9:00 a. m., adjourned hearings in pany and Central Vermont Railroad company. These hearings are with reference to the new union station and proposed separation of grades, on which many hearings have previously been held. At the same time and place, hearing on petition of Bristol Railroad company praying to be exempted from abolishing any grade crossings during the year 1912 The Maine Central Railroad company has filed an itemized statement of expenses incurred in eliminating two grade crossings in the town of Guildhall, under the order of the commission issued April 9, 1910, and the statement has been approved. The entire cost of the elimination is $12,858.10, of which sum the State of Vermont pays 25 per cent., $8,214.63; the town of Guildhall, $800; and the Maine Central Railroad company bears the remainder of the expense, $8,843.57.

In the case of W. O. Williams and other residents of West Pawlet vs. the Granville Telephone company, a hearing was held at West Pawlet on April The petitioners complained as to certain toll rates charged by the telephone company. At the hearing, however, it appeared that the rates complained of are a part of the Granville Telephone company's interstate traffie, its principal exchange being located in Granville, N. Y. For this reason, the commission dismissed the complaint on the ground that it had no jurisdiction, it being an interstate matter.

DECISION AGAINST RAILROADS. In the case of John G. Sargent, attorney-general, vs. Central Vermont Railway company and Rutland Railroad company, the commission has issued its formal order, in which it holds that section 4589, public statutes, and No. 147, acts of 1910, with reference to ness with Bright's disease.
